

STATEMENT ON UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE
ARTICLE 2B - LICENSES

NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF COMMISSIONERS ON UNIFORM STATE LAWS
JUNE 16, 1998

On May 6, 1998, the President of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws (NCCUSL), Gene N. Lebrun, announced that Uniform Commercial Code Article 2B - Licenses, would not be sent to a final vote by the NCCUSL at its 1998 Annual Meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, and that a final uniform act would be promulgated no earlier than the NCCUSL Annual Meeting in July, 1999. In addition, he announced that meetings of the Drafting Committee are already projected for November, 1998, and asked interested parties to submit proposed amendments to the NCCUSL national office in Chicago by October 10, 1998, so that they can be considered at the November meeting. The text of President Lebrun's letter may be found at <http://www.law.upenn.edu/library/ulc/ulc.htm>, or may be obtained from the NCCUSL national office in Chicago. When the exact time and place for the November meeting is established, it will be posted at <http://www.nccusl.org>.

The Uniform Commercial Code is a joint project of the NCCUSL and the American Law Institute. The American Law Institute (ALI) will consider the draft of Article 2B in its proceedings in 1998 and 1999. Final approval by the ALI can occur no earlier than its May, 1999 Annual Meeting. Any addition to or revision of the Uniform Commercial Code requires the approval of both the NCCUSL and the ALI.

There is much speculation on the Internet and within the press and media about the impact of this process. The NCCUSL emphasizes that its drafting committees operate as open public forums that solicit and encourage input from any and all sources. That is the tradition and fundamental policy of the NCCUSL as a state governmental association. The Drafting Committee on Uniform Commercial Code, Article 2B continues in that tradition. Every interested party continues to have the opportunity to participate in the continuing effort to draft this important piece of legislation.

Further, the NCCUSL does not propose unfinished uniform acts to the state legislatures for adoption, and will actively discourage anybody else from proposing any uncompleted uniform act for introduction in any state legislature. This is also consistent with the practices and tradition of the NCCUSL.

For information on Uniform Commercial Code, Article 2B or on the NCCUSL, please contact John McCabe, Legal Counsel/Legislative Director, or Kate Robinson, Public Information Officer, at the NCCUSL national office. The relevant numbers are 312 915 0195, FAX 312 915 0187, e-mail jmmccabe@nccusl.org or krobinson@nccusl.org. Address: 211 E. Ontario, #1300, Chicago, IL 60611.