1 HOME FORECLOSURE PROCEDURES ACT

2 [ARTICLE] 1

3 GENERAL PROVISIONS

4 SECTION 101. SHORT TITLE. This [act] may be cited as the 5 [Uniform][Model] Home Foreclosure Procedures Act.

6 SECTION 102. DEFINITIONS. In this [act]:

7 (1) “Abandoned property” means mortgaged property with respect to which the 8 homeowner and all persons claiming through the homeowner, including tenants, have 9 relinquished possession. The term does not include unoccupied mortgaged property that 10 is:

11 (A) undergoing construction, renovation, or rehabilitation that is 12 proceeding with reasonable diligence to completion;

13 (B) physically secured and used or held for use by the homeowner as a 14 vacation or seasonal home; or

15 (C) physically secured and the subject of a probate action, action to quiet 16 title, or other litigation in which ownership is contested.

17 (2) “Common-interest community” means real property with respect to which a 18 person, by virtue of ownership of a unit, is obligated to pay real-property taxes or insurance 19 premiums or for maintenance, improvement of other real property, or services described in 20 a declaration or other governing document, however denominated. The term includes 21 properties held by a cooperative-housing corporation. In this paragraph, “ownership”
22 includes a leasehold interest if the period of the lease is at least [20] years, including 23 renewal options.

1 (3) “Creditor” means a person that has the right to foreclose a mortgage under 2 Section 401(b).

3 (4) “Pre-foreclosure resolution” means a process in which a third-party neutral
4 person assists the parties at an in-person meeting or other communication in which a 5 creditor, obligor, and third-party-neutral simultaneously can communicate with one
6 another with the objective of reaching an agreement between the parties for a commercially
7 reasonable alternative to foreclosure.

8 (5) “Pre-foreclosure resolution agency” means [the administrative or judicial 9 agency designated by the state to supervise pre-foreclosure resolution].

10 (6) “Expenses of foreclosure” means the lesser of:

11 (A) the reasonable expenses incurred by a foreclosing creditor to the 12 extent provided in the mortgage; or

13 (B) the maximum amount permitted by law of this state other than this 14 [act] as expenses in connection with a foreclosure.

15 (7) “Foreclosure” means a process, proceeding, or action to enforce an obligation 16 by terminating a homeowner’s interest in mortgaged property or obtaining possession of 17 mortgaged property. The term does not include a voluntary transfer by a homeowner or 18 an action to recover possession of property after a completed foreclosure sale.

19 “Foreclose” has a corresponding meaning.

20 (8) “Holder” means a person in possession of a negotiable instrument that is 21 payable either to bearer or to an identified person in possession of the negotiable 22 instrument.

23 (9) “Homeowner” means a person that owns an interest in mortgaged property,

1 other than a mortgage, lien, easement, servitude, or leasehold with an initial term of less
2 than [20] years, including renewal options.

3 (10) “Knowledge” means actual knowledge. “Knows” has a corresponding 4 meaning.

5 (11) “Loss mitigation” means an alternative to foreclosure offered by a creditor to 6 a homeowner in default or facing imminent default.

7 (12) “Mortgage” means a consensual interest in real property which secures an 8 obligation. The term does not include a lien that secures an obligation owed to a 9 homeowners’ association in a common-interest community.

10 (13) “Mortgage agreement” means a record that creates a mortgage.

11 (14) “Mortgage registry” means an electronic registry of owners, mortgagees and 12 holders of obligations, which is created under federal or state law and maintains the 13 records of those mortgages and obligations under standards designed to ensure that each 14 record is unique, identifiable, and unalterable.

15 (15) “Mortgaged property” means real property improved with not more than four 16 dwelling units which is subject to a mortgage. The term includes an attached single-17 family unit, a single-family manufactured-housing unit treated as real property under law 18 of this state other than this [act], a time share in a dwelling unit if that time share is 19 treated as real property under law of this state other than this [act], real property on which 20 construction of not more than four dwelling units has commenced, and a single-family 21 unit in a common-interest community. The term does not include real property that,
22 when the mortgage being foreclosed was created, was used or intended to be used 23 primarily for nonresidential purposes such as farming, commercial, or industrial use.

1 (16) “Negotiable instrument” means a negotiable instrument as defined in [UCC
2 Section 3-104].

3 (17) “Nonjudicial foreclosure” means a foreclosure that proceeds without judicial 4 process under [insert statutory reference].

5 (18) “Obligation” means a debt or other duty or liability of an obligor secured by 6 a mortgage.

7 (19) “Obligor” means a person that:

8 (A) owes payment or performance of an obligation;

9 (B) has signed a mortgage agreement with respect to the mortgaged 10 property; or

11 (C) is otherwise accountable in whole or in part for payment of the 12 obligation.

13 (20) “Person” means an individual, estate, business or nonprofit entity, public 14 corporation, government or governmental subdivision, agency, instrumentality, or other 15 legal entity.

16 (21) “Public sale” means a sale by auction authorized by law of this state other 17 than this [act].

18 (22) “Record”, used as a noun, means information that is inscribed on a tangible 19 medium or is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.

20 (23) “Servicer” means a person responsible for servicing an obligation, including a 21 person that holds or owns an obligation or originates a mortgage loan if the person also 22 services the obligation.

23 (24) “Servicing” means:

1 (A) receiving a scheduled periodic payment from an obligor under the terms
2 of an obligation, including an amount received for an escrow account;

3 (B) making or advancing a payment to the owner of an obligation on 4 account of an amount due from the obligor under a mortgage-servicing loan document or 5 a servicing contract;

6 (C) making a payment to the obligor under a home-equity-conversion
7 mortgage or reverse mortgage; or

8 (D) evaluating the obligor for loss mitigation or communicating with the 9 obligor with respect to loss mitigation.

10 (25) “State” means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto 11 Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, or any territory or insular possession subject to the 12 jurisdiction of the United States.

13 Legislative Note: In states that allow one or more types of nonjudicial foreclosure of 14 residential mortgages, a reference to the relevant statute should be added to the definition
15 of “nonjudicial foreclosure.” In states that do not allow nonjudicial foreclosure, this 16 definition should be deleted, along with references to “nonjudicial foreclosure” elsewhere 17 in this [act].

18 Comment

21 1. The definition of “abandoned property” works in tandem with the factors listed in 22 Section 601(a). Whether mortgaged property is “abandoned property” is determined by 23 the facts of each case. The Section 601(a) factors are not exclusive; they serve an 24 evidentiary purpose. The core question is whether the homeowner is presently in 25 possession of the property. The question must be answered by evaluating the facts related 26 to the homeowner’s use of the property.

28 2. The definition of “pre-foreclosure resolution” requires at least one “in-person” meeting
29 or other communication between the parties and a third-party neutral. The alternative 30 requirements of either an “in-person” meeting or other form of electronic communication 31 contemplates the continuation of the practice in many jurisdictions that, as an alternative 32 to a “face-to-face” meeting, the parties may meet by telephone, video conference or other 33 electronic means so long as all the parties and the neutral are able to simultaneously hear 34 or communicate with one another.

1 3. The definition of “expenses of foreclosure” limits the expenses that a foreclosing party
2 may impose on a borrower in connection with the foreclosure process to ‘reasonable’
3 expenses, even if other law of the state would allow expenses which would otherwise not 4 satisfy that standard. The definition contemplates that these allowable expenses would 5 include the reasonable costs of all typical foreclosure expenses, including such costs as 6 sending notices, advertising, title searches, inspections and examinations of the 7 mortgaged property, management and securing of the mortgaged property, insurance,
8 filing and recording fees, attorney’s fees and litigation expenses incurred to the extent
9 provided in the mortgage or authorized by other law, appraisal fees, the fee of the person
10 conducting the sale in the case of a foreclosure by auction, the fee of a court-appointed 11 receiver, and other expenses reasonably necessary to the foreclosure.

13 4. The definition of “holder” is taken from revised Article 1: UCC § 1-201(b)(21)(A) and 14 the terms “bearer” and “identified person” have the same meanings in this act as in the 15 UCC. The definition of “holder” in unrevised Article 1 has slightly different language, 16 but is the same in substance.

18 5. The terms "homeowner" and "obligor" are separately defined because some provisions
19 of this [act] apply to one rather than to both individuals. For most home mortgage 20 transactions, the same individual (or individuals) will be both a homeowner and an 21 obligor. However, occasionally, an individual will be a homeowner but not an obligor; 22 examples might include a spouse or heir who acquires an ownership interest, but has not 23 assumed the mortgage obligation. Similarly, from time to time an individual will be an 24 obligor but not a homeowner; examples might include a guarantor or a person who 25 conveys an ownership interest to another person after signing a mortgage agreement.
26

27 6. “loss mitigation” includes such actions as a repayment plan, forbearance agreement, 28 loan modification, short sale, partial mortgage insurance claim, negotiated transfer and 29 deed in lieu of foreclosure.
30

31 7. The term “mortgage” refers to the lien held by the creditor, which secures payment of 32 the obligation, whereas the term “mortgage agreement” refers to the writing or other 33 record that memorializes the parties’ agreement and creates the mortgage. Depending 34 upon local usage and custom, the mortgage agreement may be denominated as a 35 mortgage, deed of trust, trustee deed, security deed, deed to secure debt, or the like.

37 In some states, a land sale installment contract does not constitute a ‘mortgage’, 38 with all the attendant consequences for homeowners and creditors, until a specified 39 percentage of the original principal amount has been paid to the creditor. In Illinois, for 40 example, that percentage is 50% of the original principal amount. In those States where 41 the issue arises, statutory drafters should make appropriate amendments to this act to 42 track existing practice in that state.

44 8. The definition of ‘Obligor’ includes, among other standards, a statement that the 45 person has ‘signed’ a mortgage agreement. The term ‘sign’ in this sense has the same 46 meaning as the same term has in UCC Section 1-201(b)(37).

1 9. The definition of an obligation includes a non-recourse debt, whether the debt is non-2 recourse due to the application of anti-deficiency judgment legislation, agreement of the 3 parties or for other reasons.

5 10. Real property is “mortgaged property” if its primary use is residential. It includes but 6 is not limited to owner-occupied principal residences and second or vacation homes. The 7 definition excludes parcels of real property that are used primarily for non-residential 8 business purposes but which also contain one-to-four dwelling units, such as a farm with 9 a farmhouse or a manufacturing facility that includes a residence for the company’s chief
10 executive officer. Likewise, the term “ mortgage” does not include a blanket mortgage 11 that covers multiple parcels containing more than four dwelling units in the aggregate.

13 11. The definitions of ‘servicer’ and ‘servicing’ are based in part on the Real Estate
14 Settlement Procedures Act of 1974, 12 U.S.C. 2601 et seq (“RESPA”), 24 C.F.R. § 15 3500.2 (b).
16

17 SECTION 103. SCOPE. This [act] applies to foreclosure of mortgaged 18 property in this state.

19 SECTION 104. DUTY OF GOOD FAITH; COMMERCIAL
20 REASONABLENESS.

21 (a) A person whose conduct is governed by this Act shall comply in good faith
22 with the requirements of this [act] and shall act in good faith throughout the foreclosure
23 process. “Good faith” means honesty in fact and the observance of reasonable
24 commercial standards of fair dealing. This subsection does not create an independent 25 cause of action for the failure of a person to act in good faith.

26 (b) A creditor shall proceed in a commercially reasonable manner in complying 27 with this [act].

28 Comment
29

30 1. For statutory duties that include explicit and precise rules for their performance, such 31 as the time period for sending notices under §§201 and 402, a creditor’s failure to 32 implement a different rule cannot violate the “commercially reasonable” standard when 33 the precise rule has been followed. On the other hand, the good faith standard would bar
34 dishonest conduct that is literally in compliance, for example, seeking an abandoned 35 property determination under §602 for a home the creditor knows is not abandoned,

1 although it may meet the statutory criteria that give rise to a presumption of 2 abandonment.

4 2. The obligation to act in good faith set forth in subsection (a) relates to the performance
5 of specific duties and obligations imposed on persons by this act and by their agreement.
6 It is not the source of independent obligations to take or refrain from taking certain 7 actions.

9 3. The term “creditor” in subsection (b) and elsewhere in the Act includes servicers who 10 have the right to foreclose the mortgage under Section 401.

12 SECTION 105. PROHIBITED ACTS. A creditor may not:

13 (1) make a misleading statement orally or in writing to a homeowner or obligor 14 which would discourage a reasonable person from participating in loss mitigation or pre-15 foreclosure resolution; or

16 (2) misrepresent any aspect of a foreclosure, including informing the homeowner 17 or obligor that:

18 (A) a sale date is set when the procedure for setting a sale date has not 19 been completed;

20 (B) the foreclosure sale has been postponed, canceled, or stayed due to 21 loss mitigation or pre-foreclosure resolution when the sale has not been postponed, 22 canceled or stayed; or

23 (C) the obligor is not eligible for a loss-mitigation option when the option 24 is available and the creditor has not evaluated the option.

25 SECTION 106. APPLICATION OF LOCAL REGULATIONS.

26 (a) [Notwithstanding [insert reference to any applicable “home rule” provision 27 under the law of this state]], a municipality, [county], or other political subdivision in this 28 state may not impose a regulation, restriction, or limitation on foreclosure or add to or 29 vary the rights and obligations of a creditor, servicer, homeowner, or obligor under this

1 [act].

2 (b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (a), this [act] does not invalidate or 3 modify a zoning, subdivision, building, or safety code or other ordinance or regulation 4 generally applicable to the use of real property.

7 1. This section addresses local laws that regulate residential properties that are in 8 foreclosure or have been sold at foreclosure. During recent years, local governments in a 9 number of states have enacted ordinances that establish mediation or “dispute resolution”
10 programs or that regulate abandoned properties. Lenders have expressed concern that 11 such local programs are often burdensome, especially due to their limited geographical 12 scope. A number of state legislatures have passed statutes to preempt various types of 13 local legislation that affect mortgage lending and the enforcement of mortgages. This 14 section seeks to address the issue. The drafting committee discussed prior versions of this 15 section at its January 2014 and May 2014 meetings. One major decision is whether field
16 preemption or conflict preemption is more appropriate. Although the current language 17 reflects the former model, the committee has not yet made a decision. It will consider the 18 matter at its fall 2014 meeting.

20 2. Subsection (b) makes it clear that municipal ordinances generally applicable to real 21 property in a municipality would not be affected by this act, regardless of who owns the 22 property, and therefore will apply with equal force to property owned by homeowners or 23 lenders. Accordingly, for example, a local ordinance mandating the maintenance of yards 24 and blighted property would apply with equal force to a blighted property whether or not 25 owned by a homeowner or creditor, and an ordinance enabling a municipality to repair
26 blighted property and lien the property for the costs of the work, if it were otherwise 27 lawful under applicable state law, would not be barred by this section.

29 SECTION 107. SERVICERS.

30 (a) A creditor may delegate a duty under this [act] to a servicer.

31 (b) A servicer to whom a creditor delegates a duty:

32 (1) has all the rights conferred on creditors by this [act] with respect to the 33 authorized action, unless limited by contract; and 34 (2) is subject to the duties imposed by this [act] on the creditor.

35 (c) A creditor’s liability for a servicer’s noncompliance with this [act] is 1 determined by law of this state other than this [act].

2 Comment

3 This section does not prevent a creditor from delegating duties to persons 4 other than servicers.

6 SECTION 108. NO WAIVER. Except as otherwise provided in Section 501,
7 the rights of an obligor or homeowner and duties of a creditor under this [act] may not be 8 waived or varied by agreement.

10 NOTICES; RIGHT TO CURE

11 SECTION 201. NOTICE OF DEFAULT; RIGHT TO CURE.

12 (a) A creditor may not initiate foreclosure under [insert reference to state 13 foreclosure law other than this [act]] until 30 days after the creditor sends separately to 14 each obligor a written notice of default and right to cure.

15 (b) The notice under subsection (a) must state:

16 (1) the nature of the default, including a statement, as of the date of the 17 notice, of all past-due payments, fees, and other charges owed to the creditor;

18 (2) the specific action the obligor must take to cure any curable default, 19 including the exact amount that must be paid;

20 (3) the date by which the default must be cured, which may not be fewer 21 than 30 days after the date the notice is sent;

22 (4) that if the obligor does not cure, the creditor may accelerate the 23 obligation and demand payment of the full amount of the obligation, not just past-due 24 payments, and may foreclose the mortgaged property;

25 (5) the effect of curing the default, including the right to have the

1 obligation and mortgage remain in effect;

2 (6) that the obligor may dispute the default and raise any other defense to 3 foreclosure or payment of the obligation and the manner of exercising those rights;

4 (7) the name of

5 (A) the creditor and the particular facts that establish the creditor's 6 right to foreclose;

7 (B) the servicer, if different from the creditor; and

8 (C) the legal owner of the obligation, if the creditor is not the legal 9 owner;

10 (8) that the obligor may request a copy of the negotiable instrument or 11 other evidence of the obligation and a copy of any record that demonstrates the right to 12 foreclose; and

13 (9) if the creditor is relying on a lost, destroyed, or stolen negotiable
14 instrument, the information required by Section 403(b).

15 (c) The notice under subsection (a) may state that additional amounts may come 16 due after the date of the notice.

17 (d) The notice under subsection (a) may be combined with other notices required
18 by the mortgage agreement or by other law, but may not be combined with the notice
19 required by Section 302.

20 Comment

21
22 1. The itemization of the amount due as of the notice date is a critical piece of 23 information for the homeowner or obligor and should be stated as exactly as possible.
24 The amount included for attorneys' fees should be limited to those accrued prior to the 25 date of the notice, and thus should not include retainers or advances to attorneys that 26 would be refunded in the event of a prompt cure.

1 2. The mortgage obligation may be accelerated by filing a complaint, scheduling a sale,
2 or by separate notice of acceleration – the notice of default and right to cure does not by 3 itself accelerate the debt. The notice need not refer to acceleration if the creditor does not 4 intend to accelerate the obligation, for example if it is fully matured. The definition of 5 “foreclosure” in section 102 includes other legal methods that may be used to terminate
6 the homeowner’s interest in the mortgaged property, such as a quiet title or ejectment 7 action in the case of an installment land sale contract.

9 3. This Act refers in several sections to the ‘foreclosure process’; see, for example,
10 Sections 102(7), 104(a), 106 and this section 201. The notice of default under this Section 11 is the beginning of the foreclosure process prescribed by this Act. However, the “first 12 notice or filing” under federal regulations mandating a 120-day waiting period, 24 C.F.R.
13 § 1024.41(f)(1), is the [Complaint or other first court filing in judicial state][Notice of 14 Sale in non-judicial state]. Therefore the notice of default may be sent during the 120-day 15 waiting period under the federal rule.

16 4. Items (1) through (6) are adapted from the elements of notice in the standard
17 Fannie/Freddie mortgage negotiable instrument. Item (3) adds a specific deadline to cure 18 the default. Items (7) and (8) are the ownership statement required by the national 19 servicing settlement, and call for the servicer to identify its basis for standing at the outset
20 of foreclosure proceedings, so that any disputes can be resolved promptly. This notice 21 does not displace all state-specific aid programs and counseling notices which necessarily 22 will depend on state funding – for example, Pennsylvania requires a separate 30-day
23 notice of how to apply for its Homeowner’s Emergency Mortgage Assistance Program.

25 5. In subsection (b)(2), the actions the homeowner needs to take in order to cure the 26 default are governed by § 203. If the default by its nature cannot be cured, for example if 27 the property has been forfeited or foreclosed by a senior lienholder, the notice may 28 simply state that the default may not be cured.
29

30 6. If a homeowner or obligor has cured a default, any subsequent foreclosure based on a
31 later default must be preceded by a new notice, subject to the limitations on repeated 32 defaults contained in Section 203. This is because a cure restores the homeowner to the 33 same legal position as if no default had occurred, §203(c). If, on the other hand, as a 34 result of pre-foreclosure resolution or otherwise, the homeowner has tendered payments 35 under a forbearance plan or other workout but has not fully cured the default that was the 36 subject of the notice, no new notice is required in the event the workout fails and the 37 creditor chooses to proceed with foreclosure.

39 7. The servicer’s duty to respond to an obligor’s request under subsection (b)(8) is 40 defined by other federal and state law governing information requests to servicers.

42 SECTION 202. MANNER OF NOTICE DELIVERY. A notice required by

43 Section 201 or 302 must be sent by first-class mail addressed to each obligor at each

44 obligor’s last known address. [At least one mailed notice must also be addressed to

1 “occupant” at the address of the mortgaged property.] If the obligor or the obligor’s 2 representative has requested notice by electronic mail and has provided the creditor an 3 electronic-mail address, the notice also must be sent to the electronic-mail address.

6 1. The complaint in a judicial foreclosure state, or notice of sale in a nonjudicial
7 foreclosure state, must be delivered according to existing law, usually by personal
8 service. The requirement for additional electronic mail notice does not displace the paper 9 notices required by this act or other law.

11 2. Notice must be sent by ordinary first class mail. First class mail has the characteristic 12 that it will be delivered to the last known address whether or not the recipient accepts 13 delivery in person. The creditor may supplement first class mail with certified mail or 14 overnight delivery but may not rely solely on methods that require the recipient to accept 15 delivery in person.

17 3. At the Chicago meeting, the Committee voted 5-5 on a motion to delete the bracketed 18 second sentence of Section 202. The Committee should make a final decision regarding 19 whether a Section 202 notice should be sent to “occupants”.

21 SECTION 203. RIGHT TO CURE DEFAULT.

22 (a) A person may cure a monetary default on an obligation by tendering in cash or 23 electronic funds transfer, cashier’s check, certified check, teller’s check, money order, or 24 equivalent obligation of a bank, the amount specified in subsection (c) at any time after a
25 notice under Section 201 and not later than two days before a scheduled or postponed
26 foreclosure sale.

27 (b) A person may cure a default other than a monetary default at any time not later 28 than two days before a scheduled or postponed foreclosure sale.

29 (c) To cure a default under this section, a person shall:

30 (1) tender all amounts that would have been due at the time of tender in 31 the absence of acceleration;

32 (2) perform any other duty under the obligation or mortgage agreement

1 that would have been due in the absence of default or acceleration;

2 (3) tender all expenses of foreclosure specified in a record provided by the 3 creditor that accrued before the time of tender; and

4 (4) tender any late fees, if provided for in the mortgage agreement or 5 obligation and permitted by law other than this [act].

6 (d) Cure of a default under subsection (c) restores the obligor to the same position
7 under the mortgage and the obligation it secures as if the default had not occurred.

8 (e) This section does not impair a greater right to cure a default that the obligor 9 has under the mortgage agreement or the obligation.

10 (f) This section does not limit a right of an obligor to redeem the mortgaged 11 property by paying the full amount of the accelerated obligation at any time before the 12 foreclosure sale is completed.

13 Comment

- 14
- 15 1. The cure of a default on an obligation secured by a mortgage has the effect of de-16 accelerating the payments due after acceleration, but before a completed foreclosure sale.
17 The homeowner and obligor receive notice detailing the amounts needed to cure the 18 default pursuant to Section 202, and identifying any nonpayment defaults, such as failure 19 to maintain insurance.
20
 - 21 2. The right to cure as used in this Act includes the right to reinstate the mortgage after 22 acceleration. “Cure” is used in a broad sense here, similar to the use of the term in the 23 Bankruptcy Code, §1322(b)(5).
24
 - 25 3. The statutory right to cure provided by this section may not be waived by contract. In 26 the event of a dispute between the creditor and a homeowner or obligor concerning the 27 amounts needed to cure, or any nonmonetary performance that may be claimed as due, 28 either party may seek declaratory relief from an appropriate court, and if appropriate, a 29 temporary stay of any foreclosure sale to resolve the cure dispute.
30
 - 31 4. If a default is cured, restoring the homeowner and obligor to the same position as if no 32 default occurred means that if there is a later default, new notices must be sent prior to 33 foreclosure. Conversely, if as a result of pre-foreclosure resolution under Article 3 or 34 otherwise, a settlement is reached but the homeowner or obligor does not fully cure the

1 default, new notices are not required. However, nothing in this [act] requires a lender 2 who properly assessed late fees or default interest following a default to disgorge those 3 fees if the default is subsequently cured.

5 SECTION 204. UNKNOWN HOMEOWNER OR OBLIGOR.

6 (a) A creditor does not have a duty under Section 201, 302, 404(e) or 405 to 7 notify a homeowner or obligor unless the creditor knows:

8 (1) that the person is a homeowner or obligor; and 9 (2) the identity of the person.

10 (b) If the creditor knows the identity of a homeowner or obligor but does not 11 know the homeowner's or obligor's mailing address, notice to the homeowner or obligor
12 under Section 201, 302, 404(e) and 405 must be sent to the address of the mortgaged
13 property.

14 Comment

15 Section 204 is based on UCC § 9-605. Its purpose is to relieve the creditor from duties 16 owed to a homeowner or obligor if the creditor or servicer does not know about that 17 person. This may be the case, for example, when an original homeowner has sold the 18 property to a purchaser, or when the original homeowner has died and his or her interest 19 has passed to an heir or devisee.

21 [ARTICLE] 3

22 PRE-FORECLOSURE RESOLUTION

23 SECTION 301. PRE-FORECLOSURE RESOLUTION PROGRAM. [The 24 court or agency serving as the pre-foreclosure resolution agency] is the pre-foreclosure
25 resolution agency. The agency shall adopt rules under [insert reference to state 26 administrative procedures act or, if the agency is the judicial system, to the rules of court]
27 establishing procedures and standards for pre-foreclosure resolution. The agency will 28 appoint a neutral person to assist parties making a request under Section 303 to achieve

1 alternatives to foreclosure.

2 Comment

3 1. Pre-foreclosure resolution is defined in Section 102 as a process in which a third-party 4 neutral assists the parties at an in-person meeting between them with the objective of 5 achieving a commercially reasonable alternative to foreclosure, hopefully resulting in an 6 agreement between the creditor and homeowner.

8 Between 2007 and 2012 eighteen states adopted statewide foreclosure diversion 9 or mediation programs, and local jurisdictions in at least eight additional states have 10 established similar programs. The programs vary greatly in their timing and design, and 11 exist in both judicial and nonjudicial foreclosure states. Most programs in judicial 12 foreclosure states call for intervention after a foreclosure complaint is filed. While most 13 stakeholders recognize that starting mediation or pre-foreclosure resolution earlier in the 14 process would increase the chances of success and reduce costs, most existing state laws
15 do not provide a means to initiate pre-foreclosure resolution before the judicial process 16 begins. Pre-foreclosure resolution permits early sorting of foreclosure cases, into those 17 where the homeowner wants to find a solution other than foreclosure, and those cases that 18 are uncontested or where there is no realistic alternative to foreclosure.

20 2. The Act does not prescribe standards or procedures for a state’s pre-foreclosure
21 resolution program. However, the Appendix to the [act] sets forth model rules and best 22 practices that state agencies may adopt.

24 3. Pre-foreclosure resolution is not mediation as defined in the Uniform Mediation Act.
25 The agency or court determination under §304 whether to permit foreclosure to proceed 26 requires reporting of information concerning the pre-foreclosure resolution process. The 27 Uniform Mediation Act generally bars mediators from making reports. Article 3 and the 28 model rules in the Appendix to Article 3 do, however, include some key principles from 29 the Uniform Mediation Act, including the protection of confidential information 30 exchanged in pre-foreclosure resolution and the avoidance of conflicts of interest on the 31 part of the neutral.

33 SECTION 302. NOTICE OF PRE-FORECLOSURE RESOLUTION.

34 (a) In a judicial foreclosure, the creditor shall send to the homeowner and obligor 35 a notice under subsection (c) of the right to participate in pre-foreclosure resolution, or 36 shall request that the pre-foreclosure resolution agency send the notice under subsection
37 (b), not later than service of a foreclosure [complaint] on the homeowner. In a nonjudicial 38 foreclosure, the creditor shall send to the homeowner and obligor a notice under

1 subsection (c) of the right to participate in pre-foreclosure resolution, or shall request that 2 the pre-foreclosure resolution agency send the notice under subsection (b), nor later than 3 30 days after sending a notice of default and right cure required by Section 201.

4 (b) A creditor is not required to send or request a notice if a court or governmental 5 agency has determined under Section 602 that the property is abandoned. If a court or 6 governmental agency later determines that the property is not abandoned and a 7 foreclosure sale has not been completed, the creditor shall request the notice under 8 subsection (b) or send the notice under subsection (c).

9 (c) If the pre-foreclosure resolution agency establishes a procedure for the agency 10 to send the notice required by subsection (a), a creditor shall request the agency to send 11 the notice to the creditor and to each homeowner and obligor. The notice may be sent 12 [before or after commencement of a foreclosure action] (for discussion), as provided by 13 the pre-foreclosure resolution agency's rules, but must be sent before a creditor may 14 request entry of a default or foreclosure judgment or give a notice of a judicial or 15 nonjudicial-foreclosure sale.

16 (d) If the pre-foreclosure resolution agency does not establish a procedure for the 17 agency to send notice required by subsection (a), the creditor shall send notice to each 18 homeowner and obligor, in the same manner as required for the notice under Section 201.

19 (e) A notice of the right to participate in pre-foreclosure resolution must include 20 the following:

21 (1) the name, address, and telephone number of each housing counseling 22 agency, lawyer-referral service, and legal-aid agency serving the geographic area of the 23 mortgaged property designated by the pre-foreclosure resolution agency;

1 (2) the name, address, telephone number, and electronic-mail address of 2 the appropriate contact person or group assigned by the creditor or servicer to the 3 homeowner or obligor under rules of the federal Consumer Financial Protection Bureau;

4 (3) that the homeowner or obligor may request a pre-foreclosure
5 resolution meeting, that the request must be made not later than 30 days after notice is 6 sent, the instructions for requesting pre-foreclosure resolution, and all eligibility 7 requirements under the agency's rules;

8 (4) a description of all documents the homeowner or obligor must bring to 9 the pre-foreclosure resolution meeting under the agency's rules; and

10 (5) a form prescribed by the agency for the homeowner or obligor to 11 request pre-foreclosure resolution and to affirm that the homeowner or obligor meets the 12 eligibility requirements of Section 303.

13 Comment

14 1. The timing of the notice of pre-foreclosure resolution will depend on whether the pre-
15 foreclosure resolution agency is a court or other agency. Pre-foreclosure resolution 16 should begin at the earliest possible time after a notice of default. However, in states 17 whose pre-foreclosure resolution programs are operated by the courts, it may not be 18 possible to begin pre-foreclosure resolution until a foreclosure lawsuit has begun, in 19 which case the second bracketed alternative language in subsection (a) should be used.

21 2. If the property is not abandoned, but the agency or court determines that the 22 homeowner has rented the dwelling unit to someone other than another homeowner or an 23 obligor, the obligor and homeowner are not eligible for pre-foreclosure resolution, under 24 §303. However, the creditor or agency must still send the notice of pre-foreclosure
25 resolution. If the agency determines, based on the obligor's request for pre-foreclosure
26 resolution or other information, that the property is rental property, it must then permit
27 foreclosure to proceed, under Section 304.

28 29 SECTION 303. ELIGIBILITY FOR PARTICIPATION IN PRE- 30 FORECLOSURE RESOLUTION.

31 (a) If a homeowner or obligor makes a request for pre-foreclosure resolution not

1 later than 30 days after the sending of a notice under Section 302(b) or (c), the agency
2 shall schedule a meeting in accordance with its rules and appoint a neutral person to 3 conduct the meeting.

4 (b) If the pre-foreclosure resolution agency schedules a meeting under subsection 5 (a), the creditor and homeowner or obligor shall attend and participate in compliance with 6 agency rules and any scheduling or other order rendered by the neutral person or the 7 agency. Failure to comply with this subsection includes failure:

8 (1) without good cause to timely attend a meeting;

9 (2) without good cause to provide, before a scheduled meeting, documents
10 and information required by pre-foreclosure resolution agency rules or reasonably 11 requested by the neutral person;

12 (3) to designate a person with authority to reach a settlement agreement, if 13 the authority exists;

14 (4) without good cause to pay any required pre-foreclosure resolution fee; 15 and

16 (5) to advise the homeowner, obligor, and the neutral person of any loss-17 mitigation option that is available to the homeowner or obligor or to consider the 18 homeowner or obligor for the loss-mitigation option before or during pre-foreclosure
19 resolution.

20 (c) A homeowner or obligor is eligible for pre-foreclosure resolution only if the 21 mortgaged property is not abandoned property or rented to a person other than the 22 homeowner or obligor. If the mortgaged property contains more than one dwelling unit, 23 pre-foreclosure resolution is available only if at least one dwelling unit is occupied by the

1 homeowner or obligor. With a request for pre-foreclosure resolution, the homeowner or 2 obligor shall submit to the early-resolution agency an affirmation that the mortgaged
3 property is not abandoned and that it is occupied either by an obligor or homeowner. If 4 the agency determines that the property is abandoned or is not occupied by a homeowner 5 or obligor, the agency may not schedule a meeting under subsection (a), but instead shall 6 permit the creditor to proceed with foreclosure under Section 305.

7 SECTION 304. PARTICIPATION IN PRE-FORECLOSURE
8 RESOLUTION.

9 (a) The creditor shall inform the homeowner, obligor, and the pre-foreclosure
10 resolution agency of the loss-mitigation options available to the homeowner and obligor.
11 The creditor shall notify the homeowner, obligor, and the neutral person or agency of its 12 willingness or refusal to offer a loss-mitigation option requested by the homeowner or 13 obligor, the reasons for any refusal, and the information on which any refusal is based.

14 (b) A creditor may not charge a homeowner or obligor a fee for pre-foreclosure
15 resolution. The early-resolution agency may charge a fee or costs for the pre-foreclosure 16 resolution process to either or both parties.

17 (c) A homeowner or obligor that participates in pre-foreclosure resolution shall 18 provide reasonably available financial and other information to enable the creditor to 19 evaluate any loss-mitigation options.

20 (d) This [act] does not impose a duty on a creditor to provide any specific loss 21 mitigation option. The pre-foreclosure resolution agency rules may not impose a duty on 22 a creditor to provide any specific loss-mitigation option.

23 (e) A homeowner or obligor may be accompanied at a pre-foreclosure resolution

1 meeting by an attorney, housing counselor, or other individual.

2 (f) Personal financial information exchanged during pre-foreclosure resolution is 3 confidential and not subject to disclosure under [state FOIA or sunshine laws]. Neither 4 the pre-foreclosure resolution agency nor the neutral person is required to respond to a 5 discovery request in a court proceeding, if the discovery seeks personal financial 6 information of a homeowner or obligor exchanged during pre-foreclosure resolution.

7 (g) The neutral person shall disclose potential conflicts of interest in the time and 8 manner provided by the agency rules.

11 1. Abandoned properties are not eligible for pre-foreclosure resolution and no notice of 12 pre-foreclosure resolution to an abandoned property is required. Investors who are 13 renting a property otherwise covered by this Act are also ineligible for pre-foreclosure
14 resolution, but notice must be sent to the property prior to foreclosure. A homeowner 15 must certify under §303(c) that the property is not a rental property (or, if it is, that the 16 homeowner or obligor occupies at least one unit) in order to be eligible for pre-
17 foreclosure resolution. If the homeowner does not make the certification, foreclosure may 18 proceed 30 days after the notice, under §305(a)(1). Existing foreclosure mediation
19 programs generally limit eligibility to owner-occupants. E.g. N.Y. C.P.L.R. §3408
20 (“foreclosure . . . in which the defendant is a resident of the property”); Conn. Public Act
21 No. 11-201 (applies to residential real property defined as “a one-to-four family dwelling
22 occupied as a residence by a mortgagor”); see also 12 C.F.R. §1024.30(c)(2) (loss
23 mitigation notice and appeal rules only apply to a mortgage loan that is secured by a 24 property that is a borrower’s principal residence).

26 2. As provided in Section 301, the pre-foreclosure agency rules and orders may impose 27 additional requirements on the parties, for example requiring the creditor, servicer or its 28 agent to appear in person or to have a person with authority to approve loss mitigation 29 alternatives available by telephone at the time of the pre-foreclosure resolution session, 30 to perform a net present value analysis, to disclose the assumptions on which the analysis
31 is based, or requiring homeowners to meet with a housing counselor to qualify for pre-
32 foreclosure resolution. The agency will also regulate procedural matters, such as time 33 limits for exchanging documents, scheduling and concluding pre-foreclosure resolution 34 meetings, reports by neutrals, and the like. States should continue to have flexibility in 35 the design and implementation of pre-foreclosure resolution programs, but should 36 establish and publish the standards as required by section 301. The model rules and best 37 practices principles of pre-foreclosure resolution set forth following Section 304 were 38 developed by the Uniform Laws Commission after extensive collaboration with a number

1 of state agency heads and outside consultants, and should aid state new pre-foreclosure
2 resolution agencies in designing their programs.

3 3. In existing state foreclosure mediation programs, a creditor will commonly delegate to 4 its servicer whatever duties the statute imposes on the creditor, and this [act]
5 contemplates that procedure will continue to prevail under the procedures set forth in this 6 Article 3. Section 107 provides ample authority for that delegation and articulates both 7 the rights and responsibilities of the servicer in the mediation process. For that reason, in 8 this Article and throughout the [act], the only reference is to the ‘creditor’, rather than to 9 the ‘creditor and servicer’.

11 SECTION 305. FORECLOSURE ACTION DURING PRE-
12 FORECLOSURE RESOLUTION.

13 (a) After a pre-foreclosure resolution agency or a creditor has sent notice required
14 by Section 302 to a homeowner or obligor, the creditor, subject to law of this state other 15 than this [act], may commence a foreclosure. Subject to subsection (c), the creditor may 16 not file a default or dispositive motion in a foreclosure action, or schedule or cause to be 17 scheduled a foreclosure sale, unless:

18 (1) neither the homeowner nor obligor responds to the pre-foreclosure 19 resolution notice by making a request for pre-foreclosure resolution to the agency not 20 later than 30 days after the notice is sent;

21 (2) the agency notifies the creditor that

22 (A) the parties have participated in the meeting required by Section 23 303(a) and reached an impasse, or

24 (B) the homeowner or obligor has failed to participate in pre-
25 foreclosure resolution, provide required information after a reasonable opportunity to do 26 so, or materially comply with agency rules; or

27 (3) the court or agency renders an order permitting the creditor to proceed 28 with foreclosure.

1 (b) If the court or agency determines that the mortgaged property is abandoned or 2 used as rental property, the court or agency shall render an order permitting the creditor
3 to proceed with foreclosure.

4 (c) A creditor may proceed to file a default or dispositive motion in a foreclosure 5 action, or schedule or cause to be scheduled a foreclosure sale, [90] days after sending the 6 notice required by Section 302, unless the parties agree in a record to continue pre-7 foreclosure resolution or the court or early-resolution agency directs the parties to 8 continue pre-foreclosure resolution.

9 (d) The court or early-resolution agency may render an order imposing 10 appropriate conditions on the parties to pre-foreclosure resolution, including the payment
11 of fees and costs of pre-foreclosure resolution to the agency authorized by Section 304(b) 12 or the tender of periodic payments by the homeowner or obligor to the creditor.

15 1. Numerous states have enacted mandatory pre-foreclosure resolution or loss mitigation 16 laws. Under various names and structures, the consistent object of these programs is to 17 delay or prevent foreclosure until the homeowner has had the opportunity to request some 18 form of loss mitigation: See, e.g., Arkansas Act 885 (2011) Sec 3, Ark Code 18-50-104 19 (beneficiary must certify to selling attorney or trustee that it has notified homeowner of 20 ineligibility for loss mitigation options before nonjudicial sale); California Assembly Bill 21 278 (enacted July 11, 2012, prohibits foreclosure when loan modification request is 22 pending); Idaho Code 45-1506, HB 331 Idaho now requires notice of right to apply for 23 loan modification and bars nonjudicial sale until creditor responds to homeowner's 24 request); Indiana Act 170 of 2011 (same; also prohibits servicer or attorney fees for 25 mediation or loss mitigation); Massachusetts Chapter 194 of Acts of 2012 (creditor must 26 offer mortgage modification prior to foreclosing, if modification would maximize value
27 for mortgagee); Michigan Compiled Laws §3205a (amended Act 302 of 2011); Nevada
28 Rev. Stat. §107.086; Washington Chapter 58 Laws of 2011, amending RCW 61.24
29 (delays foreclosure 90 days if homeowner requests meeting with creditor to request loss 30 mitigation, and for cases referred by housing counselor to pre-foreclosure resolution, 31 until the parties comply with duty to mediate in good faith). Requiring a process that 32 includes an exchange of information between borrower and creditor, an explanation of 33 various loss mitigation options and some form of meeting with a third party neutral 34 before a foreclosure is begun allows necessary foreclosures to go forward promptly and 1 efficiently after cases suitable for other resolutions are identified and resolved.

3 2. Subsection (a)(3) contemplates a variety of situations where, notwithstanding the 90-4 day waiting period before foreclosure may be commenced under subsection (b), either the 5 court or pre-foreclosure resolution agency may enter an order permitting foreclosure to 6 proceed in less than 90 days. Situations that might warrant such an order include cases 7 where the homeowner has already agreed to vacate the property, or has failed to 8 participate in pre-foreclosure resolution, or where emergency conditions short of 9 abandonment would justify an accelerated foreclosure.

11 3. Subsection (c) contemplates a variety of situations where the 90 day pre-foreclosure
12 resolution period should be extended. Situations that might warrant such an order include 13 cases where the servicer has failed to evaluate a homeowner's completed request for loss 14 mitigation in a timely manner, has failed to comply with material aspects of federal 15 servicing regulations, see 12 C.F.R. §1024.41, or has requested additional documents 16 from the homeowner late in the pre-foreclosure resolution process. In furtherance of the 17 efficiency goals of the Act, extensions should not be routinely granted due to agency or 18 court delays or backlogs.

20 4. Subsection (d) authorizes the agency to charge the parties fees sufficient to fund the 21 costs of the pre-foreclosure resolution program, a funding mechanism used in several 22 states. States may wish to include more specific provisions about the fees the agency
23 may impose. Subsection (d) also authorizes the agency to direct the homeowner to tender
24 periodic payments during the pre-foreclosure resolution process. A payment tender 25 requirement may filter out borrowers who simply want to buy time, with no realistic 26 expectation of retaining the property or achieving another alternative to foreclosure.

28 SECTION 306: EXEMPTION FOR SMALL CREDITORS. The provisions

29 of this Article do not apply to a foreclosure by a person that is the owner, holder, or 30 servicer of five or fewer mortgages at the time the notice required by Section 201 is sent.

31 An exempt small creditor may elect voluntarily to send the notice under §303 and 32 participate in pre-foreclosure resolution under this Article.

34 RIGHT TO FORECLOSE; PUBLIC SALE PROCEDURE

35 SECTION 401 [A]. RIGHT TO FORECLOSE - JUDICIAL 36 FORECLOSURE.

37 (a) A person described in subsection (b) may commence judicial foreclosure only

1 after default in the obligation and satisfaction of all conditions required by the mortgage
2 agreement and by law.

3 (b)

4 (1) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2), the only person who 5 may commence a foreclosure is a person entitled to enforce the obligation secured by the 6 mortgage, as determined by law other than this [act], or a person described in subsection
7 (d).

8 (2) If the obligation is registered in a mortgage registry, only the person
9 designated as the owner or holder of the obligation by the registry may commence a
10 foreclosure.

11 (c) In a judicial-foreclosure, the following rules apply:

12 (1) The creditor must plead that it has the right under subsection (b) to 13 foreclose; and

14 (2) If the obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument, the 15 [complaint] must include:

16 (A) a copy of the instrument in its present condition, including any 17 indorsement or allonge and a statement identifying the person in possession of the 18 instrument; or

19 (B) a statement that the instrument has been lost, destroyed, or 20 stolen and a copy of the instrument in its last-known condition, in which case the 21 [complaint] must include an affidavit that complies with Section 402.

22 (3) If the obligation is not evidenced by a negotiable instrument, the 23 [complaint] must include a copy of the record evidencing the obligation and the creditor's

1 right to enforce the obligation.

2 (d) The creditor, in a record, may authorize another person to foreclose. The 3 [complaint] described in subsection (c) must disclose the name of the creditor and the 4 person authorized by the creditor to foreclose.

5 (e) If an obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument and the creditor
6 knows that it does not own the obligation, the [complaint] described in subsection (c)
7 must disclose the name of the legal owner of the obligation.

8 SECTION 401 [B]. RIGHT TO FORECLOSE- NONJUDICIAL
9 FORECLOSURE.

10 (a) A person described in subsection (b) may commence nonjudicial foreclosure 11 only after default in the obligation and satisfaction of all conditions required by the 12 mortgage agreement and by law.

13 (b)

14 (1) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2), the only person who 15 may commence a foreclosure is a person entitled to enforce the obligation secured by the
17 (d).

18 (2) If the obligation is registered in a mortgage registry, only the person
19 designated as the owner or holder of the obligation by the registry may commence a 20 foreclosure.

21 (c) The creditor, in a record, may authorize another person to foreclose.

22 Comment

23 1. This act does not define events of default. Instead, like UCC Article 9, this act leaves
24 the definition of default to contract law. The obligation may be stated in a promissory

1 note (i.e., an obligation to make monthly installment payments) or in another instrument
2 such as the mortgage agreement.

3 2. The conditions referred to in subsection (a) are those indicated in the mortgage 4 agreement or under this act and other law as necessary to accomplish before the 5 commencement of foreclosure.

7 3. Subsection (b)(1) resolves the problem of who has standing to foreclose by designating 8 the person who is entitled to enforce the obligation, to be determined under other law of 9 this state. When the obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument, Article 3 of the 10 Uniform Commercial Code provides the governing rules. When the obligation is not 11 evidenced by a negotiable instrument, law other than UCC Article 3 will determine who 12 is entitled to enforce the obligation. One example of other law is the Uniform Electronic 13 Transactions Act (UETA), which grants to a person having control of a “transferable 14 record” the rights to enforce a promissory note evidenced by an “electronic record,” as 15 those terms are defined in that act.

17 4. Subsection (b)(2) authorizes foreclosure by a person identified as the owner or holder
18 of the obligation in a mortgage registry, a term defined in Article 1. A mortgage registry
19 does not presently exist, but there is substantial interest in its creation. Thus, the Act 20 contemplates the possibility of an electronic recording system where all notes are 21 electronically generated and where, as a consequence, there is no paper note which might 22 be “possessed” in order to satisfy the holder in due course requirements of UCC Article 23 3.

25 Under this section, a certificate or record issued by the sponsoring organization is 26 conclusive evidence that the person named in the certificate as owning the obligation, 27 holding the negotiable instrument (if the obligation is evidenced by an negotiable 28 instrument), or acting on behalf of the owner or holder, has the right to foreclose under 29 Section 401.

31 5. When the obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument, subsection (c) requires 32 that the complaint identify the possessor of the instrument. The creditor may possess the 33 instrument through an agent. If the agent is not an employee of the creditor and has a 34 place of business in a location other than an office of the creditor, the complaint should 35 identify the agent as the possessor.

37 6. This section does not state a separate rule for determining when a creditor who holds a 38 security interest in a note to secure an obligation owed to the creditor has the right to 39 foreclose. UCC Article 9 covers both sales of instruments and assignments of 40 instruments that secure an obligation of the assignor. A creditor who takes possession of 41 a negotiable instrument will acquire the right to foreclose. Other law determines when a 42 creditor who takes possession of an instrument that is not negotiable to secure an 43 obligation owed to the creditor acquires the right to foreclose. For example, UCC § 9-44 607(a) and (b) provide rules indicating when a secured party has the right to collect on 45 collateral and to enforce the debtor’s rights with respect to property that secures 46 obligation owed to the debtor (i.e., the obligation to pay the mortgage loan to the debtor).

1 7. Multiple persons may hold the right to foreclose a mortgage. Other law, including 2 UCC Article 3 and the law of agency, determines whether the right to foreclose may be 3 exercised by fewer than all such persons.

5 8. When the obligation is owned by a trust, the owner of the obligation for purposes of 6 this Section is the trustee, not the beneficial owner or owners of the trust property.

8 9. Under subsection (c) the creditor's production of the original negotiable instrument is 9 not necessary at the time of the filing of a complaint in a judicial foreclosure. Production 10 of the original would later become appropriate if, during the course of the proceedings, 11 the homeowner or obligor seeks further demonstration of the copy's authenticity or the 12 whereabouts of the original. Similarly, in a nonjudicial foreclosure, if there are 13 subsequent judicial proceedings, a court may decide to order production of the original 14 instrument if necessary to resolve a particular issue.

16 10. Subsection (d) authorizes the person who has the right to foreclose to exercise that 17 right through an agent. By requiring a description of the agency it does not permit the 18 principal to remain undisclosed. An agent authorized to foreclose may be a loan servicer
19 who has a pre-existing contractual relationship with the creditor, or any other person
20 appointed at any time. If the secured obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument, 21 the agent or the principal (the person entitled to enforce the note) may hold and retain 22 possession of the note. Subsection (d) is not intended to change existing laws that 23 authorize a third person, such as a trustee under a deed of trust, to foreclose in nonjudicial 24 proceedings. In such circumstances, subsection (d) allows the beneficiary to appoint an 25 agent, but does not speak to the procedure for appointing a substitute trustee.
26

27 In allowing an agent or representative to foreclose, this section is consistent with 28 the standing decision in Sprint Communications Co. v. APCC Services, Inc., 554 U.S. 269
29 (2008). There, payphone operators had assigned claims for compensation from long-30 distance carriers to collection firms. In Sprint the Court permitted an assignee of a legal 31 claim for money to pursue that claim in federal court, even when the assignee had 32 promised to remit the proceeds of the litigation to the assignor.
33

34 11. If the obligation is registered in a mortgage registry under subsection (b)(2), the 35 person designated in the registry as owner or holder of the obligation may authorize an 36 agent to foreclose under subsection (d) without filing an amendment with the mortgage 37 registry to identify the agent.

39 12. The alternative drafts for judicial and non-judicial foreclosure highlight the 40 differences between the [act's] current requirements regarding the information provided 41 to the borrower in the two forms of foreclosure.
42

43 Specifically, in subsection (c), (d) and (e) of the judicial foreclosure version, the 44 creditor is required to include the following information in the complaint - and thereby 45 advise the borrower of those facts:

46 First, under (c), if the note is a negotiable instrument, either (i) a copy of the instrument

1 and a statement identifying the person in possession of the note; or (ii) if the note has 2 been lost, destroyed, or stolen, a copy of the note and a 402 affidavit.

4 Second, if the note is not negotiable, a copy of the record evidencing the 5 obligation and the creditor's right to enforce it.

7 Third, under (d), if the creditor has authorized another person to foreclose, the 8 complaint must disclose the name of the creditor and the person authorized by the 9 creditor to foreclose.

11 Fourth and finally, under (e), if the note is negotiable and a creditor does not own 12 it, the complaint must disclose the name of the legal owner.

14 All of this information must be included in the Section 201 notice provided to all 15 borrowers following default, However, Section 401 [B], in the case of non-judicial 16 foreclosure, does not require any of the above information to be provided to the borrower 17 as part of the non-judicial foreclosure process, except for telling the borrower that the 18 creditor has authorized another person to foreclose.

20 The policy issue is whether the borrower should have that information to give to 21 her lawyer, if she is going to contest the foreclosure, and whether it would impose on the 22 creditor an obligation to inform the borrower of those same facts.

24 13. Existing state law conflicts as to (1) whether the foreclosing party must have an 25 express assignment of the mortgage, or a chain of assignments running back to the 26 original mortgagee, and (2) whether that assignment or the chain of assignments must be 27 recorded in the county land records. This section resolves the conflict by following the 28 principle that a transfer of an interest in an obligation secured by a mortgage also 29 operates to transfer a corresponding interest in the mortgage. UCC § 9-203(g). The 30 requirements of section 401 are all that is needed to establish standing to foreclose.

31
32 Chair's Note

33
34 Several members of the Drafting Committee, as well as observers and the ABA Advisor, 35 ask that the Drafting Committee reconsider the deletion of Section 402

37 SECTION 402. LOST, DESTROYED, OR STOLEN NEGOTIABLE

38 INSTRUMENT; AFFIDAVIT.

39 (a) If a negotiable instrument secured by a mortgage is lost, destroyed, or stolen, 40 the creditor may foreclose the mortgage only if:

41 (1) the creditor was entitled to enforce the instrument when loss of

1 possession occurred; or

2 (2) the creditor has directly or indirectly acquired ownership of the 3 instrument from a person that was entitled to enforce the instrument when loss of 4 possession occurred;

5 (3) the loss of possession was not the result of a transfer by the creditor or 6 a lawful seizure; and

7 (4) the creditor cannot reasonably obtain possession of the instrument 8 because the instrument was destroyed, its whereabouts cannot be determined, or it is in 9 the wrongful possession of an unknown person or a person that cannot be found or is not 10 amenable to service of process.

11 (b) If a creditor seeks to foreclose under subsection (a), the notice of default and 12 right to cure sent under Section 201 must state that the instrument is unavailable and 13 provide information establishing that the creditor may foreclose under subsection (a). In 14 a nonjudicial foreclosure, the notice also must:

15 (1) state that there may be a risk that a person other than the creditor will 16 seek to enforce the instrument, that the homeowner or obligor has the right to adequate 17 protection against a claim by another person, and that the homeowner or obligor has the 18 right to petition the [name of appropriate court] where the mortgaged property is located 19 for an order requiring the creditor to provide adequate protection; and 20 (2) include the indemnity required by subsection (c).

21 (c) If a creditor seeks to foreclose subsection (a) the homeowner or obligor is 22 entitled to adequate protection against loss that might occur by reason of a claim by another 23 person to enforce the negotiable instrument. The creditor must provide in a record an

1 indemnity against loss by the homeowner or obligor. In a judicial-foreclosure, the court
2 may require additional protection against a claim by another person. In a nonjudicial-3 foreclosure, the homeowner or obligor may petition the [name of appropriate court] where 4 the mortgaged property is located for an order requiring the creditor to provide additional 5 protection against a claim by another person.

6 (d) In a judicial-foreclosure, a creditor shall file a [verified complaint] [complaint
7 with affidavit] attesting to facts under subsection (a). The creditor shall provide the 8 indemnity required by subsection (c) not later than the public sale. (e) The destruction of 9 a negotiable instrument in connection with its registration in a mortgage registry is not 10 destruction of the instrument for purposes of this section.

11 Legislative Note: Subsection (a) incorporates the language of Section 3-309 of Revised
12 UCC Article 3 (2002). This language is recommended for States that have adopted Revised 13 Article 3. For States that have adopted a prior version of UCC Article 3, there is a split of 14 authority as to whether an assignee of a lost, destroyed, or stolen negotiable instrument
15 may enforce the instrument when the assignee never obtained possession of the instrument.
16 States with a prior version of Article 3 should consider whether subsection (a) will change

19 20

Comment

21 1. This section requires a lost-note affidavit in a judicial foreclosure, thus following the 22 procedure adopted by most states in their judicial foreclosure laws. The substance of this 23 requirement follows the 2002 amendments to Article 3. In specifying when a creditor is 24 entitled to enforce a negotiable instrument secured by a mortgage notwithstanding its 25 inability to confirm possession of the instrument, subsection (a) tracks the requirements
26 of UCC § 3-309 (2002). In states that have adopted the 2002 amendments to Article 3, 27 Section 3-309 makes it clear that the person who lost possession may be a predecessor of 28 the creditor who seeks to enforce the instrument. UCC § 9-109, Comment 5 provides a 29 result similar to the 2002 Article 3 amendment (“Also, the right under Section 3-309 to 30 enforce a lost, destroyed, or stolen negotiable promissory note may be sold to a purchaser 31 who could enforce that right by causing the seller to provide the proof required under that 32 section.”).

35
36

2. In some states, the circumstances in which a creditor is allowed to enforce an unavailable negotiable instrument are broader than under either the 2002 version or the earlier version of UCC § 3-309. E.g, Va. Code § 55-59.1(B) (“[i]f a note or other

1 evidence of indebtedness secured by a deed of trust is lost or for any reason cannot be
2 produced”). In some states, the circumstances are more restricted because the creditor’s
3 affidavit must attest to additional facts. E.g., Md. Code, Real Prop. § 7-105.1(f) (affidavit
4 not sufficient unless it “(1) Identifies the owner of the debt instrument and states from 5 whom and the date on which the owner acquired ownership; (2) States why a copy of the 6 debt instrument cannot be produced; and (3) Describes the good faith efforts made to 7 produce a copy of the debt instrument.”).

9 3. When the loan documents executed by the parties did not include a negotiable
10 instrument, the creditor seeking to foreclose may or may not possess an original writing
11 or record (including a counterpart) that evidences the obligation. This section does not 12 require an affidavit for a creditor who lacks possession of such an original record. Some 13 states require “lost note affidavits” under these circumstances. E.g., Va. Code § 8.01-32 14 (“any past-due lost bond, note, contract, open account agreement, or other written 15 evidence of debt”); Va. Code § 55-59.1(B) (“note or other evidence of indebtedness”).

17 4. This section does not discuss the evidentiary effect of the affidavit in judicial 18 proceedings. Some states have statutory law on point. For example, an Alabama statute 19 provides that a lost note affidavit “must be received as presumptive evidence both of the 20 contents and loss or destruction of such negotiable instrument, unless the defendant by 21 answer, verified by affidavit, denies the execution of such bond, note or bill or the 22 endorsement, acceptance, or the contents thereof, in which case proof of such execution, 23 endorsement, acceptance, or contents must be made by the plaintiff.” Ala. Code § 6-5-24 284.

26 5. This section does not require the preparation of a lost-note affidavit in a non-judicial 27 foreclosure. If an action is filed to contest or to confirm a non-judicial foreclosure, the 28 court should have the discretion to decide what proof of a lost, destroyed, or stolen 29 negotiable instrument is sufficient.
30

31 6. Subsection (b) requires the creditor to disclose that the negotiable instrument is lost, 32 destroyed, or stolen when it sends notice of default and right to cure under Section 201.
33 In a non-judicial foreclosure, the additional content for the notice is required because the 34 homeowner or obligor is unlikely to appreciate the risk associated with lost instruments, 35 and it is unlikely that a court will consider the issue unless the homeowner or obligor 36 initiates consideration.
37

38 7. Subsection (c) follows UCC § 3-309(b), which requires adequate protection for the 39 obligor from the risk that at some point in the future the instrument will surface and its 40 possessor will assert the right to be paid. (UCC § 3-309(b) was not affected by the 2002 41 amendments to Article 3.) Subsection (b) requires that the affidavit include a written 42 indemnity, binding the creditor, to protect all obligors against the risk that a person other 43 than the creditor will seek to enforce the instrument. This indemnity serves to reinforce 44 the rights that the obligor already has under principles of restitution and unjust
45 enrichment. See, e.g., Restatement (Third) of Restitution and Unjust Enrichment § 6 46 (2011): “Payment of Money Not Due. Payment by mistake gives the payor a claim in

1 restitution against the recipient to the extent payment was not due.” In appropriate cases, 2 a court may require a bond in addition to a written indemnity.

3 8. Subsection (d) requires a verified complaint or a complaint with affidavit in a judicial-
4 foreclosure when the negotiable instrument is lost, destroyed, or stolen. The affidavit
5 must be based upon the affiant’s personal knowledge and must describe the efforts made
6 to locate the negotiable instrument. A bare assertion that the instrument is lost or cannot 7 be found is not sufficient. The court should apply its normal standards for determining 8 the sufficiency of the affidavit. At trial the normal rules of evidence govern use of the 9 affidavit. Below is a form for an affidavit that ordinarily would provide sufficient 10 information:

10 SECTION 403. ADVERTISEMENT OF PUBLIC SALE.

11 (a) Mortgaged property may be sold at a public sale only after the creditor has 12 published an advertisement of the sale that satisfies this section. An advertisement 13 satisfies this section if:

14 (1) published in a newspaper having general circulation in the [county]
15 where the mortgaged property is located once per week for three consecutive weeks 16 before the sale, with the first publication not more than 30 days before the sale; or

17 (2) posted on an Internet website that is reasonably expected to be viewed 18 by persons having an interest in purchasing the mortgaged property at least 30 days 19 before the sale and the Internet posting remains regularly available between the time of 20 posting and the time of sale.

21 (b) An advertisement under subsection (a) must indicate:

22 (1) the name of the homeowner and, if not the same, the name of the 23 person that signed the mortgage agreement;

24 (2) the name of the person that will conduct the sale;

25 (3) the date, time, and place of the sale;

26 (4) the street address or, if there is no street address, other information 27 identifying the location of the mortgaged property;

28 (5) any improvements and personal property included in the sale, if that

1 information is readily available to the creditor;

2 (6) whether the mortgaged property is to be sold subject to senior 3 indebtedness;

4 (7) the material terms of the sale, including payment terms required of the 5 successful bidder at the completion of the auction;

6 (8) whether access to the mortgaged property for the purpose of inspection 7 is available to prospective bidders before the sale; and

8 (9) a telephone number and electronic-mail address from which a person 9 may obtain additional information concerning the mortgaged property and the sale.

10 (c) An advertisement under subsection (a) need not contain a legal description of 11 the mortgaged property or recording information for the mortgage or other instrument of 12 record.

13 (d) The creditor may post an advertisement under subsection (a) or other 14 information pertaining to the sale at the location of the mortgaged property.

15 (e) A creditor shall send a copy of the advertisement under subsection (a) to the 16 homeowner and to each obligor no later than the date of newspaper publication or 17 Internet posting. The creditor may send the copy with the notice of public sale required
18 by Section 404 or send it separately.

19 Comment

20 1. This section allows a public sale of the mortgaged property only if the creditor first 21 publishes an advertisement that satisfies the requirements of this section. The purpose is 22 to ensure that the public has a meaningful opportunity to learn of the proposed sale in 23 order to appear and engage in competitive bidding. This section supersedes existing state 24 laws covering advertisements for public sales for all foreclosures that are within the 25 scope of this act.

27 2. In many states, a person other than the creditor, such as a trustee or sheriff, performs

1 some or all of the steps related to advertisement of the public sale. This act does not
2 mandate a change in who is responsible for advertising the sale.

4 3. This act does not require the accomplishment of foreclosure by a public auction sale. If 5 other state law allows alternative methods of foreclosure, such methods remain
6 permissible. For example, Connecticut law allows strict foreclosure without a sale of the 7 property.

9 4. Subsection (b) states minimum requirements for the public advertisement. An 10 advertisement that lacks any of the information set forth in subsection (b) is insufficient 11 as a matter of law. An advertisement may contain additional information about the 12 mortgaged property or the sale.

14 5. Subsection (a) states the basic requirement of an advertisement of a public sale.
15 Traditionally the law required the advertisement of foreclosure sales in local newspapers.
16 Subsection (a) allows the creditor to continue that practice, but no longer specifies
17 newspaper advertisement as required. In many communities, newspaper advertisements
18 are no longer an effective means of informing the public about upcoming foreclosure
19 sales. Under these circumstances, a creditor's decision not to publish in a newspaper 20 benefits both the creditor and the homeowner and any obligors by saving the expense.

21 Subsection (a) also allows the creditor to publish the advertisement either in a local 22 newspaper or on an appropriate Internet website. The Internet site may be one operated 23 by the newspaper or by any other person, whether or not located in the jurisdiction where 24 the mortgaged property is located. The Internet site, however, must be one that has 25 characteristics suggesting that interested members of the public are likely to find and to 26 read the posting.

28 6. Subsection (c) adopts a bright-line rule with respect to legal descriptions of the real 29 property and recording information. The failure to include such information does not 30 make the public advertisement insufficient. This information is seldom of importance to 31 a person who reads a foreclosure advertisement for the purpose of deciding whether the 32 person has potential interest. Anyone who develops a potential interest is highly likely to 33 investigate further before appearing at the sale to bid. That investigation may include 34 title information, which will disclose the legal description and recording references for 35 the mortgage and other recorded instruments in the chain of title, and typically will 36 include other information as well bearing on the property.

38 7. Subsection (d) authorizes the creditor to post the public advertisement or a sign on the 39 mortgaged property, regardless of whether that right is reserved in the mortgage. Posting
40 at the property is not required. This changes the law in some states, in which posting 41 foreclosure sale signs at the property is mandatory.

43 SECTION 404. NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE. A creditor shall send 44 each homeowner and obligor notice of the date, time, and place of a scheduled

1 public sale. The Creditor must send the notice of sale by first-class mail to the 2 last-known address of each homeowner and obligor and send a separate copy by 3 first-class mail, addressed to the occupant at the property address. Notice of sale
4 must be mailed or delivered at least 30 days before the sale date.

5 Comment

6 1. This section requires that the creditor notify the homeowner and any obligors of the 7 date, time, and place of the foreclosure sale. The section requires a 30-day notice of the 8 originally scheduled sale. One notice must be mailed, and a second copy of the notice 9 must be personally delivered to the residence.

11 2. This section does not displace any requirement under other law of this state for sending 12 notices to persons other than homeowners and obligors, such as holders of junior interests 13 in the mortgaged property.

15 SECTION 405. POSTPONEMENT OR CANCELLATION OF 16 PUBLIC SALE.

17 (a) A creditor may postpone or cancel an advertised public sale for any 18 reason. If the sale is postponed, the announcement of postponement must include 19 the date, time, and place of the rescheduled sale. If announcement of the 20 postponement is made at the date, time, and place advertised for the sale, a new 21 public advertisement is not required under Section 403, unless the sale is 22 postponed for longer than [180] days after the date originally advertised. If the 23 announcement is not made at the date, time, and place advertised for the sale, a 24 new public advertisement under Section 403 is required.

25 (b) If a public sale is postponed, the creditor promptly shall give each 26 homeowner and obligor commercially reasonable notice of the postponement. The 27 notice must include the date, time, and place of the rescheduled sale.

28 (c) If a public sale is cancelled, the creditor promptly shall notify each

1 homeowner and obligor in the manner provided in Section 404. The notice must 2 include a telephone number and electronic-mail address from which a person may 3 obtain additional information concerning the creditor’s plan for the mortgaged 4 property, including any new sale date.

5 Comment

6 1. In this section the terms “postponement” and “cancellation” are mutually exclusive. A 7 postponement means a decision not to hold a scheduled public sale coupled with the 8 designation of a specific later date for the sale. A decision not to hold a scheduled sale, 9 with no new date then designated, is a cancellation, even if the creditor intends to go
10 forward with foreclosure and select or obtain a new date.

12 2. Once a public sale is scheduled, the creditor may elect to postpone or cancel the sale
13 for any reason the person considers appropriate. A postponement might also take place 14 for other reasons, such as a judicial order or an automatic stay in bankruptcy.
15 Homeowners and obligors should receive prompt notice of any postponement or 16 cancellation. The rules of Section 404 do not apply to notices of postponement or 17 cancellation. Subsection (b) covers notices of postponement and cancellation, requiring 18 that the notice be commercially reasonable under the facts and circumstances. A 19 postponement may be as short as one day. An oral announcement of the postponement, 20 made at the time and place of the originally scheduled sale, would suffice if the 21 homeowner and any obligor were present, in which event no written or additional notice 22 would be necessary.

24 [SECTION 406. CONFIRMATION OF PUBLIC SALE.]

25 (a) Not later than 30 days after a public sale of mortgaged property pursuant to an 26 order or judgment of a court, the person conducting the sale shall file a report of sale with 27 the court. The report must name the purchaser and describe the property, the amount bid, 28 the amount paid to date, the expenses of the sale, and any other material terms.

29 (b) The creditor may file a motion for confirmation of a public sale not later than 30 one year after the sale of the mortgaged property. The motion must be served on all 31 parties and the person that conducted the sale.

32 (c) The court that holds a hearing on a motion filed under subsection (b) shall

1 confirm the sale unless the court concludes:

2 (1) there was a material procedural irregularity;

3 (2) the terms of sale were unconscionable; or

4 (3) the sale was conducted fraudulently.

5 (d) If the court does not confirm a public sale under subsection (c) and a party
6 makes a motion to set aside the sale, the court may order a resale of the property.

7 (e) For purposes of this subsection, a foreclosing creditor is not a good faith
8 purchaser for value. A final order for which time for appeal has expired, confirming a 9 public sale pursuant to subsection (c) conclusively establishes compliance with this [act]
10 in favor of a purchaser of the mortgaged property in good faith for value

11 (f) Confirmation of a public sale is not required. Unless the creditor files a motion 12 for confirmation of the sale, entry of the judgment of foreclosure concludes the judicial-13 foreclosure, subject to law of this state other than this [act].]

14 Legislative Note: In some states, the law of judicial foreclosure requires that the court
15 confirm the foreclosure sale. Although confirmation is mandatory, in the vast majority of 16 the cases, no objection to confirming the sale is made. This section provides for an 17 optional confirmation procedure, which allows the creditor the choice to seek 18 confirmation or to treat the sale as ending the proceeding, assuming that no other party
19 makes a post-sale challenge to the judgment or the sale. The creditor generally will seek 20 confirmation only if it desires the conclusive effect that a confirmed sale has for title 21 passing to a bona fide purchaser or if it anticipates that another party is likely to 22 challenge the sale based upon alleged defects in post-judgment procedures. This section 23 is recommended only for states that presently require confirmation of foreclosure sale in

26

Comment

27 Subsection (e) provides that confirmation of the sale has conclusive effect on the transfer 28 of title to the mortgaged property to a bona fide purchaser. The foreclosing creditor is not 29 entitled to benefit from the conclusive effect of the sale. If a defect results in avoidance of 30 the sale, the creditor is protected by reinstatement of the obligation and the mortgage. A 31 creditor may not obtain conclusive effect by purchasing the mortgaged property through 32 an agent, nominee, or affiliate, such as a subsidiary corporation.

2 NEGOTIATED TRANSFER

3 SECTION 501. NEGOTIATED TRANSFER OF MORTGAGED
4 PROPERTY IN SATISFACTION OF OBLIGATION.

5 (a) A homeowner and creditor may negotiate a transfer of mortgaged property to 6 the creditor in full satisfaction of the obligation to the creditor secured by the mortgaged 7 property if:

8 (1) all the homeowners and the creditor agree to the transfer in a record
9 after default by the homeowner or obligor;

10 (2) the agreement states it is made pursuant to this section;

12 (3) the creditor sends notice of the proposed negotiated transfer to the 13 persons entitled to notice under Section 502; and

14 (4) the creditor does not receive an objection to the proposed transfer in a 15 record from any person entitled to notice under Section 502 within 20 days after notice 16 was sent to the person.

17 (b) If a homeowner or person claiming under the homeowner is in possession of 18 the mortgaged property, an agreement under subsection (a) must specify the date and 19 time when the homeowner must surrender possession to the creditor. If a person is 20 entitled to notice under Section 502, the homeowner is not obligated to surrender 21 possession before the 20-day period provided in subsection (a)(4) has expired, regardless 22 of the terms of the proposed transfer.

23 (c) This section does not authorize a transfer of mortgaged property to a creditor
24 in partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures.

1 Comment

3 1. This section authorizes a transfer from the homeowner to the creditor in satisfaction of 4 the debt or other obligation. In so doing, it provides a framework for existing workout
5 arrangements such as cash-for-keys agreements and deed-in-lieu of foreclosure
6 transactions. This section and the following two sections provide for a safe harbor by 7 specifying the effect of a transfer that meets the requirements of this section. This section
8 is based in part on UCC § 9-620, which provides for the acceptance of personal property
9 mortgaged property by a secured party in full or partial satisfaction of a secured
10 obligation. The important innovations here are, first, to provide an expedited procedure to 11 discharge junior liens on the property without the need for a foreclosure sale; and second, 12 to resolve a number of collateral issues that flow from the expedited procedure, as 13 detailed in Section 504.

15 2. This section does not specify a minimum consideration to be received by the 16 homeowner in exchange for the homeowner’s agreement to transfer the mortgaged 17 property in satisfaction of the obligation. The sole exception is that if the homeowner is 18 in possession and there are third parties entitled to notification of the proposed transfer, 19 the agreement may not require the homeowner to vacate possession prior to the 20 expiration of the period for notified persons to submit an objection.

22 As a consequence, this section as now drafted confers a substantial benefit on 23 mortgage creditors in the form of a new mechanism for converting every ‘deed in lieu’ 24 transaction into an accelerated means of clearing title of junior encumbrancers without 25 the need for a more traditional judicial foreclosure. In doing so, the section does not 26 require any minimum benefit on homeowners, other than the general statement of effects 27 of such an agreement contained in Section 504 and the rights of possession noted in the 28 preceding paragraph.

30 3. The second sentence of Section 501(b) contemplates a circumstance where, for 31 example, the lender and homeowner had agreed, in a common ‘cash for keys’ agreement, 32 that the homeowner would move within a short period in return for a sum of money. If 33 there are junior lienholders, however, the possibility exists that there may be an objection
34 to the proposed transfer, that the agreement would not be approved, and that the benefits
35 contemplated by a homeowner under Section 504 from an early move-out would not be 36 realized. This sentence makes certain that the homeowner need not be displaced, even 37 voluntarily, until the parties knew whether there would be objection from a junior 38 lienholder.

40 In those cases where there are no junior lienholders or other holders of 41 subordinate interests, it is likely that the parties would often choose to use a traditional 42 deed in lieu of foreclosure to accomplish their agreement, instead of following this 43 statutory negotiated transfer procedure; see section 504(f).

45 4. When there are multiple owners of the mortgaged property, all the owners need to 46 consent to a negotiated transfer. The act does not authorize a forced transfer outside of 1 foreclosure for a non-consenting co-owner.

3 5. Subsection (c) prohibits the creditor from accepting the mortgaged property in partial 4 satisfaction of the obligation it secures in a negotiated transfer under this [act]. Because 5 the effect of a negotiated transfer under section 504(a)(1) is to completely discharge the 6 obligation, this section does not require any consent from an obligor who is not also a 7 homeowner. Whether the parties may enter into another type of agreement for the 8 transfer of the mortgaged property in partial satisfaction of the obligation is determined 9 by other law of this state.

11 SECTION 502. NOTICE OF NEGOTIATED TRANSFER.

12 (a) If a negotiated transfer under Section 501 is proposed when a judicial-13 foreclosure is pending, the homeowner and creditor shall request the court to send notice
14 of the proposed negotiated transfer to all parties to the action other than the homeowner
15 and creditor. The court promptly shall send the notice.

16 (b) If a negotiated transfer under Section 501 is proposed when a judicial-17 foreclosure is not pending, the creditor shall send notice of the proposed transfer to:

18 (1) a person from which the creditor received, before the homeowner and 19 the creditor agreed to the proposed transfer, notice of a claimed interest in the mortgaged 20 property; and

21 (2) a person that, [10] days before the homeowner and creditor agreed to 22 the proposed transfer, held a recorded interest in the property subordinate to the 23 mortgage that is the subject of the proposed transfer.

24 Comment

25
26 1. This section is based in part on UCC § 9-621, which provides for a notification
27 procedure for an acceptance of personal property by a secured party in satisfaction of a 28 secured obligation.

30 2. Subsection (a) provides for the court to notify parties to the foreclosure of an 31 agreement proposed by the homeowner and creditor for a transfer in full satisfaction of 32 the debt or other obligation. If there are no parties to the action, other than the 33 homeowner and the creditor, then there is no one to notify. Holders of subordinate

1 interests in the mortgaged property should have been joined as necessary parties to the 2 foreclosure action.

4 3. Subsection (b) provides for the creditor to notify persons who have subordinate 5 interests in the mortgaged property of an agreement proposed by the homeowner and 6 creditor for a transfer in full satisfaction of the obligation. Such subordinate interest 7 holders may have their rights terminated by the negotiated transfer, and therefore they 8 have the right to request protection pursuant to Section 503.

10 Chair's Note

11
12 The Reporters, Chair and ABA advisor have revised the following Section 503 to address
13 the consequences that may arise if (i) there are multiple objections by junior lien holders, 14 or (ii) there are non-objecting lien holders who are subordinate to the creditor who 15 proposed the negotiated transfer, but senior to the objecting lien holder. The section 16 requires further discussion.

18 SECTION 503. OBJECTIONS TO NEGOTIATED TRANSFER.

19 (a) Except as provided in subsection (b), (c) and (d), if a judicial foreclosure is 20 pending and the court receives an objection from a person holding an interest in the 21 mortgaged property which would be affected by a negotiated transfer under Section 501, 22 the court shall set a date not later than [30] days after the date of the objection by which 23 the person objecting may tender to the creditor that is a party to the proposed negotiated 24 transfer an amount equal to the sum due to the creditor from the homeowner under the 25 negotiated transfer. If the person objecting tenders the amount to the creditor within the 26 time set by the court, the person objecting is entitled to the benefit of the proposed 27 negotiated transfer, and all interests subordinate to the interest of the creditor that is a 28 party to the proposed negotiated transfer are extinguished effective on the date of tender.
29 If the person objecting does not tender the amount to the creditor within the time set by 30 the court, the rights of the person objecting and all other interests subordinate to the 31 interest of the creditor that is a party to the proposed negotiated transfer are extinguished, 32 effective on the date set by the court by which the tender could have been made.

1 (b) If a judicial foreclosure is pending and the court receives objections from 2 more than one person holding an interest in the mortgaged property which would be 3 affected by a negotiated transfer under Section 501, the court shall promptly determine 4 the relative priorities of the interests held by each of the persons who filed objections.
5 The court shall then set consecutive days by which each of the objecting persons holding 6 interests in the mortgaged property may tender (i) the sums described in subsection (a) to 7 the creditor proposing the negotiated transfer; and (ii) all sums due to all other persons 8 holding interests in the mortgaged property which are subordinate to the interest of the 9 creditor proposing the negotiated transfer. The court shall assign those dates to the 10 objecting parties in the reverse order of their priorities, with the most junior objecting 11 party receiving the first tender date.

12 (c) If the objecting person holding the most junior interest in the mortgaged
13 property tenders the amounts described in (b) within the time set by the court, that person 14 is entitled to the benefit of the proposed negotiated transfer, and all interests subordinate
15 to the interest of the creditor that first proposed the negotiated transfer are extinguished 16 effective on the date of tender.

17 (d) If the objecting person holding the most junior interest in the mortgaged 18 property does not tender the amounts described in (b) to the creditors within the time set 19 by the court: (i) the rights of the person who failed to tender are forever extinguished; and 20 (ii) the objecting party with the next tender date shall be entitled to tender to all creditors
21 who are senior to the objecting party in the same manner as described in (b). This process 22 shall continue until each objecting person shall either have been paid in full, or shall have 23 its interest extinguished.

1 SECTION 504. EFFECT OF NEGOTIATED TRANSFER.

2 (a) A homeowner’s transfer of mortgaged property pursuant to Section 501 to a 3 creditor in satisfaction of an obligation to the creditor:

4 (1) discharges the obligation in full;

5 (2) transfers to the creditor all of the homeowner’s rights in the property, 6 except for a right of the homeowner to continue to occupy the property pursuant to an 7 agreement between the homeowner and the creditor which is incorporated into the 8 negotiated-transfer agreement;

9 (3) discharges the mortgage held by the creditor and any mortgage or other 10 lien subordinate to the mortgage held by the creditor; and

11 (4) terminates any other subordinate interest except an interest protected 12 from termination by law other than this [act].

13 (b) A subordinate interest is discharged or terminated under subsection (a) 14 even in the event of noncompliance with this [article]. A creditor that fails to 15 comply with this [article] is liable for damages in the amount of any loss caused by 16 its failure to comply.

17 (c) If a homeowner and creditor agree that the homeowner may continue to 18 occupy the mortgaged property for a fixed time after a transfer, the agreement creates a 19 license unless the parties agree in a record to enter into a landlord-and-tenant relationship.

20 (d) Transfer of mortgaged property under Section 501 terminates all rights of the 21 creditor to obtain a personal judgment for the obligation, including attorney’s fees, costs, 22 and other expenses, against the homeowner and any other person liable for the obligation 23 secured by the property.

1 (e) Transfer of mortgaged property under Section 501 terminates any right of the 2 homeowner and other persons to redeem the property.

3 (f) This [article] does not prevent a homeowner and creditor from entering into an 4 agreement other than a negotiated transfer, but a negotiated transfer described in this 5 section does not apply to an agreement that does not state it is made pursuant to Section 6 501.

7 (g) This [article] does not affect the rights of a person holding an interest in 8 mortgaged property which has priority over the interest of a creditor that takes title to the 9 property under this section.

10 Comment

11
12 1. This section is based in part on UCC § 9-622, which specifies the effect of acceptance
13 of personal property by a secured party in full or partial satisfaction of a secured 14 obligation.

16 Subsection (a) specifies that the effect of a transfer of the mortgaged property is 17 full satisfaction of the secured obligation. The transfer to which it refers is one that results
18 from performance of the agreement made by the homeowner and the creditor. If a timely 19 objection is received by the court or by the creditor from a person entitled to notification, 20 then neither this subsection nor subsection (b) applies. Paragraph (1) expresses the 21 fundamental consequence of accepting the mortgaged property in full satisfaction of the 22 secured obligation—the obligation is discharged.

23
24 2. Paragraphs (2) through (4) of subsection (a) indicate the effects of a transfer on various 25 property rights and interests. Under paragraph (2), the creditor acquires “all of the 26 homeowner’s rights in the mortgaged property.” Under paragraph (3), all junior 27 encumbrances are discharged. Paragraph (4) provides for the termination of other 28 subordinate interests. Under existing law, a deed-in-lieu of foreclosure accepted by a 29 creditor does not terminate subordinate mortgages, subordinate liens, or other subordinate
30 property rights. This Act changes that result by authorizing a transfer in full satisfaction 31 of the obligation, which terminates junior interests.

32
33 3. Subsection (a)(4) terminates subordinate interests, but with a savings clause for a 34 subordinate “protected from termination by other law.” The clearest examples are the 35 common provisions in state statutes providing that various kinds of residential leasehold 36 interests are not automatically terminated by a foreclosure, but may only be terminated by 37 the creditor when they would be terminable under the terms of the lease itself in the

1 absence of foreclosure. This act does not overturn the results under those statutes.
2 4. Subsection (b) affords a remedy to any person aggrieved by a creditor's failure to 3 comply with the requirements of this [article], including the holder of a subordinate 4 interest to whom a notice required by Section 502 was not sent. Damages for 5 noncompliance are those reasonably calculated to put the aggrieved person in the position
6 it would have occupied but for the noncompliance. They include attorneys' fees and 7 costs.

9 5. Subsection (c) specifies that the status of the homeowner who continues to occupy the 10 property after entering into an agreement to transfer the property to the creditor in full 11 satisfaction of the obligation is that of a licensee. The parties' agreement and other state 12 law determine the rights and obligations of the parties as licensor and licensee.

14 6. Subsection (f) authorizes homeowners and creditors to enter into any other type of 15 agreement that they might desire, but no such agreement – presumably including a 16 traditional 'deed in lieu' arrangement – would confer the benefits of Section 504 unless 17 the agreement expressly provided that it was made pursuant to Section 501.

18
19 7. The act does not require notice of the proposed negotiated transfer to a senior creditor
20 because the interest of the senior creditor will not be affected by that transfer. It may 21 well be that a negotiated transfer would result in a violation of a 'due on sale' clause in 22 the senior mortgage, but whether or not such a violation results would not be affected by 23 notice to a senior creditor, and the act should not suggest a contrary result.

25 Moreover, a practical concern for the junior creditor and borrower may be that 26 after receiving notice, the senior creditor may intervene in the hearing and seek to impose 27 a charging order on any consideration offered by the junior creditor in connection with 28 the negotiated transfer, a tactic that might jeopardize the entire transfer. A junior creditor 29 may well be willing to satisfy the senior debt but more eager to quickly clear subordinate 30 liens; no valid purpose would be served by requiring more notice to senior lien holders 31 than would be required in a conventional foreclosure.

34 ABANDONED PROPERTY

35 SECTION 601. PRESUMPTION OF ABANDONMENT.

36 (a) Mortgaged property is presumed to be abandoned property if (1) a 37 governmental agency determines that the property is abandoned; or (2) three or more of 38 the following subparagraphs apply to the property:

39 (A) One or more doors to the property are boarded up, closed off, smashed

1 through, broken off, unhinged, or continuously unlocked; multiple windows are boarded
2 up or closed off; or multiple window panes are broken.

3 (B) Gas, electric, or water service to the property has been terminated or 4 utility consumption is so low that it indicates that the property is not regularly occupied.

5 (C) Rubbish, trash, or debris has accumulated on the property.

6 (D) A governmental agency has determined that the property is unfit for 7 occupancy or constitutes a serious threat to public health or safety.

8 (E) A creditor has changed the locks or otherwise secured the property 9 and, for at least 30 days thereafter, the homeowner has not contacted the creditor to 10 request entrance to the property.

11 (F) One or more written statements signed by the homeowner indicate a 12 clear intent to abandon the property.

13 (G) A law-enforcement agency has received at least two separate reports
14 of trespass, vandalism, or other illegal acts being committed on the property in the 180
15 days before determination of abandonment is made.

16 (H) The homeowner is dead and there is no evidence that a survivor or an 17 heir of the homeowner is in actual possession of the property.

18 (b) An affidavit attesting to the presence of conditions described in subsection (a) 19 and any other facts evidencing abandonment must be signed by and based on personal 20 knowledge of the affiant and must state the basis for that personal knowledge.

21 Photographic or other documentary evidence that demonstrates the supporting facts must 22 be attached to the affidavit. A person may submit multiple affidavits as evidence of 23 abandonment.

1 Comment

3 1. This Act authorizes an expedited foreclosure procedure for abandoned properties for 4 both judicial foreclosure and for nonjudicial foreclosures. An expedited procedure is 5 appropriate for two reasons. First, the homeowner is no longer making a valuable
6 economic use of the property to provide shelter for the homeowner or the homeowner’s
7 family or someone claiming under the homeowner, such as a tenant. A foreclosure sale
8 will not result in a possessor being forced to relocate to other housing. Second,
9 properties that are facing foreclosure and that are vacant have significant negative 10 impacts on neighborhoods and the surrounding communities. Vacancies reduce the 11 market values of neighboring properties. Neighborhood crime increases. The vacant 12 properties tend to suffer from lack of repair and maintenance, creating public health risks,
13 including infestations by vermin, mosquitoes, and other insects. There are fiscal impacts 14 on local governments, who find property taxes on vacant properties often become 15 delinquent; yet the governments are faced with added expenses to provide essential 16 services to blighted neighborhoods, such as police and fire protection. By providing for 17 an expedited foreclosure procedure, this Act seeks to return abandoned properties to the 18 stock of occupied, well-maintained housing as soon as reasonably possible.

20 2. The conditions giving rise to prima facie evidence of abandonment set forth in 21 Subsection (a) through (a) closely track the criteria set forth in Ind. Code § 32-30-10.6-22 5(a) (effective March 16, 2012). A government agency’s issuance of a determination that 23 the mortgaged property is abandoned by itself constitutes prima facie evidence of 24 abandonment. In some localities, after such a determination the government will mark 25 the property as abandoned. The government’s determination, finding, or order might not 26 use the word “abandoned”; it might, for example, refer to the property as vacant. Of 27 course, the homeowner or another person has the right to challenge the correctness of the 28 governmental determination.

29
30 With respect to the statutory conditions listed in the subparagraphs to subsection 31 (a)(2), the presence of three or more of such conditions constitutes prima facie evidence, 32 giving rise to a presumption of abandonment. Such conditions are not conclusive on the 33 issue of abandonment. Many residential properties will exhibit at least one such 34 condition, when the homeowner is still in possession of the property. If the homeowner 35 or another person holding under the homeowner is in actual possession of the mortgage 36 property, the property is not abandoned notwithstanding the existence of such conditions.
37 Likewise, mortgaged property may be abandoned under this Section notwithstanding the 38 absence of any of the statutory conditions.

40 3. A governmental agency’s determination of abandonment under subsection (a)(1) is 41 distinct from the procedure established by Section 603 for a creditor or another person to 42 request a determination of abandonment in nonjudicial foreclosure. In many states other 43 law authorizes a government agency or employee to issue an order, citation, or 44 determination that residential property is abandoned, often without a prior hearing. Such 45 an order or determination creates a presumption of abandonment under this Section.
46 Likewise, a governmental determination that the property is unfit for occupancy or

1 constitutes a serious threat to public health or safety under subsection (a)(2)(D) is not
2 subject to the procedures established by Section 603.

4 4. Mortgaged property often becomes vacant, both under standard mortgage and reverse
5 mortgage transactions, when the homeowner dies. Under subparagraph (a)(2)(H) proof
6 of death of the homeowner is one of the conditions that may give rise to a presumption 7 that the mortgaged property is abandoned, provided that there is no evidence that an heir
8 or other beneficiary of the homeowner's estate is in actual possession. Of course if there 9 are multiple homeowners, this condition is met only if all the homeowners have died.

11 5. An affidavit under subsection (b) may be given by any person having personal 12 knowledge, including a contractor, government employee, or neighbor of the mortgaged 13 property.

15 SECTION 602. DETERMINATION OF ABANDONMENT IN JUDICIAL
16 FORECLOSURE.

17 (a) In a judicial foreclosure, a party or governmental subdivision in which the 18 mortgaged property is located may move for a determination that the property is 19 abandoned property. If the property is located in a common-interest community, the 20 community association may intervene in the foreclosure.

21 (b) A moving party under subsection (a) shall send separately to each homeowner 22 and obligor a notice that contains the following:

23 (1) a copy of the motion;

24 (2) a copy of any affidavit attesting to abandonment or a governmental 25 agency's determination that the property is abandoned that the party will submit as 26 evidence;

27 (3) a description of the consequences that will follow from a determination 28 of abandonment; and

29 (4) a statement that the recipient may contact the [applicable government 30 official] to obtain further information or object to the proposed determination of

1 abandonment.

2 (c) The notice required by subsection (b) may be combined with the notice
3 required by Section 201.

4 (d) The party filing a motion under subsection (a) shall serve personally, or make 5 two attempts to serve personally, the notice described in subsection (b) on a homeowner
6 at the mortgaged property. The attempts must be at least 72 hours apart. One attempt
7 must be before noon, and the other attempt must be between 6 P.M. and 10 P.M. Posting 8 the notice on the property is not required.

9 (e) When a motion is filed under subsection (a), the court shall schedule a hearing 10 on the motion to be held not less than [15] nor more than [30] days after the filing of the 11 motion.

12 (f) At a hearing under subsection (e), if no appearance is made to oppose the relief 13 sought and credible evidence is presented supporting the allegations in the motion, the 14 court shall render an order that the mortgaged property is abandoned property.

15 Comment

17 1. Subsections (e) and (f) are based in substantial part on Minn. Stat. § 582.032, which 18 provides for expedited foreclosure for abandoned homes. Minnesota generally provides a 19 statutory right of redemption (post-foreclosure-sale) of six months or one year, which is 20 reduced to five weeks when the lender uses the statutory procedure for abandoned 21 property; this section does not include a comparable right of redemption.

23 2. If no appearance is made at the hearing to oppose the motion to determine that the 24 mortgaged property is abandoned, under subsection (f) the court may rely on affidavits to 25 render an order that the property is abandoned without taking testimony.

27 SECTION 603. DETERMINATION OF ABANDONMENT IN 28 NONJUDICIAL FORECLOSURE.

29 (a) In a nonjudicial foreclosure, the creditor or governmental subdivision in which

1 the mortgaged property is located may submit a request to [governmental agency] for a 2 determination that the property is abandoned property. The request must be accompanied 3 by an affidavit attesting to facts indicating abandonment.

4 (b) A person that submits a request under subsection (a) shall send separately to 5 each homeowner and obligor a notice that contains the following:

6 (1) a copy of the request;

7 (2) a copy of the affidavit attesting to abandonment or a governmental 8 agency's determination the property is abandoned;

9 (3) a description of the consequences that will follow from a determination
10 of abandonment;

11 (4) a statement that the recipient may contact the [governmental agency]
12 to obtain further information;

13 (5) a statement that the recipient has the right to object to the proposed 14 determination of abandonment by sending a notification of objection to the 15 [governmental agency]; and

16 (6) a statement that the notification of objection must be received within 17 30 days after the notice was sent to the recipient, in which event the [governmental 18 agency] will not issue a determination of abandonment.

19 (c) The notice required by subsection (b) may be combined with the notice
20 required by Section 201.

21 (d) A person that submits a request under subsection (a) shall serve personally, or 22 make two attempts to serve personally, the notice described in subsection (b) on a 23 homeowner at the mortgaged property. The attempts must be at least 72 hours apart. One

1 attempt must be before noon, and the other attempt must be between 6 P.M. and 10 P.M.
2 Posting the notice on the mortgaged property is not required.

3 (e) The [governmental agency], no sooner than 30 days after sending notice 4 under subsection (b), may issue a determination in a record that the property is 5 abandoned property if:

6 (1) the [governmental agency] has received evidence that notice under 7 subsection (b) was sent to each homeowner and obligor;

8 (2) the [governmental agency] has not received a notification of objection 9 to the proposed determination from a person entitled to notice under subsection (b) not 10 later than 30 days after notice was sent to the person;

11 (3) the [governmental agency] has received an affidavit attesting to facts 12 indicating abandonment; and 13 (4) the [governmental agency] has personally inspected the property.

14 (f) The [governmental agency] shall send a determination of abandonment under 15 subsection (e) to the creditor and to each homeowner and obligor.

16 (g) A determination of abandonment under subsection (e) or the refusal of the 17 [governmental agency] to issue a determination is subject to de novo judicial review.

18 Comment

20 1. In a nonjudicial foreclosure, the creditor may treat the mortgaged property as 21 abandoned only by submitting evidence of abandonment to an independent third party.
22 Subsection (a) provides for the submission of evidence to a person, who as part of the 23 decision making process must personally visit the property. Normally jurisdictions
24 enacting this Act will designate an employee of local government, such as a building 25 inspector, who is responsible for evaluating the physical condition of dwelling units.
26

27 2. Judicial review of the decision is available to any interested person. Subsection (g)
28 does not specify the nature of that action, which in many jurisdictions will be a 29 mandamus action. De novo judicial review is appropriate to protect the homeowner from

1 the significant limitations on the homeowner’s rights under this act that follow from a
2 determination of abandonment.

4 SECTION 604. WITHDRAWAL OF ABANDONED PROPERTY

5 PROCEEDING.

6 (a) In a judicial foreclosure, after a party has moved for a determination that the 7 property is abandoned property, the motion may be withdrawn only by leave of court.

8 (b) In a nonjudicial foreclosure, after a person has requested a determination that 9 the property is abandoned property, the request may be withdrawn only by the consent of 10 the person submitting the request and each homeowner and obligor.

13 Once a party has filed a motion in a judicial foreclosure for a determination that the 14 mortgaged property is abandoned, withdrawal of the motion is allowed only by leave of 15 court. This allows for judicial control over the imposition of maintenance responsibilities 16 under Section 606.

18 SECTION 605. FORECLOSURE OF ABANDONED PROPERTY.

19 (a) In a judicial-foreclosure, if a court determines that mortgaged property is 20 abandoned property and the court previously rendered or at the same time renders a 21 judgment of foreclosure, the court shall:

22 (1) order a public sale of the abandoned property not earlier than [30] days 23 but not later than [45] days after entry of the order; or

24 (2) on a motion of the foreclosing creditor, if the court determines that 25 there is no equity in the mortgaged property available to satisfy the interests of 26 subordinate creditors, the court shall order a transfer of the abandoned property directly 27 to the foreclosing creditor without public sale. The transfer of the property extinguishes 28 the rights of all interests subordinate to the interest of the foreclosing creditor.

1 (b) In a nonjudicial-foreclosure, if a governmental agency has determined that the 2 mortgaged property is abandoned property, a creditor may conduct an expedited public
3 sale of the property. Unless an action for judicial review of the determination is pending, 4 the sale may take place not earlier than [30] days but not later than [60] days after 5 issuance of the determination. The creditor shall comply with the notice requirements of 6 Section 404, except that [15]-days' notice of the sale is sufficient.

7 (c) After a judicial order or a determination by a governmental agency that the 8 mortgaged property is abandoned property, the creditor shall cause the public sale or 9 transfer of the mortgaged property to the creditor to be completed not later than 120 days 10 after the order is rendered or the determination is made unless the creditor releases its 11 mortgage and the release is filed in the [real-property records]. Unless the creditor 12 releases its mortgage, the creditor may not seek to end its obligation to maintain the 13 property under Section 606 by dismissing, terminating, or suspending the foreclosure.

14 (d) On a public sale or transfer of the mortgaged property to the creditor under 15 subsection (a) or (b), any personal property remaining on the abandoned property is 16 deemed to have been abandoned by the owner of the personal property and may be 17 disposed of by the purchaser or transferee of the property [60] days after the sale or 18 transfer. Neither the creditor nor purchaser is liable to the homeowner or obligor for 19 disposal of personal property pursuant to this subsection.

20 (e) Completion of a public sale or a transfer of mortgaged property to the creditor 21 under subsection (a) or (b) terminates the right of the homeowner and any other person to 22 redeem the property under law of this state other than this [act].

23 Legislative Note: In some states, homeowners have a statutory right of redemption for a 24 period of time after the completion of a public sale. Some of those states also extend

1 redemption rights to third parties, such as subordinate lien holders. In states with 2 statutory redemption, subsection (e) eliminates those rights after a public sale or transfer
3 to the creditor of the mortgaged property. After a homeowner abandons the property, it
4 serves no useful purpose to allow the homeowner an option to reacquire the property
5 after the completion of foreclosure.

7 Comment
8

9 1. This Section provides for an expedited public sale of the mortgaged property after a 10 determination that the mortgaged property is abandoned. In a judicial foreclosure, the 11 court must order the sale to take place no longer than __ days after the court enters its 12 order finding the property to be abandoned, unless the creditor agrees to a later sale date.
13 In a nonjudicial foreclosure, the creditor may select the date, provided it is no sooner than 14 [__] days after the written determination of abandonment.
15

16 2. This Section does not authorize a disposition of abandoned property other than public 17 sale, but other dispositions are available under other sections of this Act. For example, 18 the homeowner and creditor may agree to a negotiated transfer to the creditor in lieu of 19 foreclosure pursuant to Sections 501 to 504.

21 3. Once a creditor decides to take advantage of the expedited foreclosure procedure
22 allowed by this Section, there is a public interest in ensuring that the property becomes 23 occupied as soon as reasonably possible. For this reason subsection (c) does not allow the 24 creditor to suspend indefinitely its efforts to consummate the foreclosure. There may be 25 exceptional circumstances in which it is not feasible to hold the foreclosure sale within 60
26 days of the judicial order or written determination finding the property to be abandoned, 27 as required by subsection (a) and (b).
28

29 Subsection (c) poses the substantial question of what consequences should flow
30 from the failure of the creditor to comply with its requirements. On the one hand, it
31 would clearly be inappropriate to impose an obligation on a creditor to repair the property
32 subject to the mortgage before the creditor has taken possession or an official 33 determination is made that the property is abandoned. Certainly, the lending community 34 would object to a statutory duty to maintain property on which it holds a mortgage in 35 those instances where the lender would prefer to release its mortgage and forego any 36 interest in that property.
37

38 On the other hand, the consequences of a creditor's failure either to commence 39 and complete a foreclosure action or to release its mortgage on other stakeholders in the 40 abandoned property – including the fee owner, the municipality and neighbors in which 41 the abandoned property is located, and where appropriate, a homeowners association - are 42 very real. The act as drafted resolves these conflicting policies by offering the lender a 43 choice of how it wishes to proceed.
44

45 4. In states that afford the homeowner and other persons a statutory right of redemption
46 after completion of a foreclosure sale, subsection (e) serves to terminate those redemption

1 rights.

SECTION 606. MAINTENANCE OF ABANDONED PROPERTY.

(a) In this section, “maintain” means to:

(1) care for the yard and exterior of any building on abandoned property, including removing excessive foliage growth that diminishes the value of surrounding properties;

(2) prevent trespassers from remaining on the property;

(3) prevent mosquito larvae from growing in standing water on the 10

11

(4) take any other actions needed to prevent conditions on the property

12 which create a public or private nuisance.

13

(b) If a creditor is a party to a judicial-foreclosure, the creditor shall maintain the 14 mortgaged property beginning when the court renders an order determining that the property is abandoned property under Section 602.

15

16

(c) If a creditor commences a nonjudicial-foreclosure, the creditor shall maintain

17 the mortgaged property beginning when a [governmental agency] determines that the property is abandoned property is issued under Section 603.

18

19

(d) Absent a judicial order under subsection (b) or a determination under 20 subsection (c), a creditor that has commenced a foreclosure shall maintain the mortgaged

21 property beginning when the creditor receives notice that a [governmental agency] has issued a determination that the property is abandoned property and is in a condition that poses a threat to public safety or health.

22

23

24

(e) A creditor’s obligation to maintain abandoned property continues until the

1 property is conveyed through foreclosure to a purchaser other than the creditor or until 2 the creditor records a release of its mortgage.

3 (f) A creditor that is obligated to maintain abandoned property may enter the 4 property peacefully and cause others to enter the property peacefully for the limited
5 purpose of maintenance required by this section and inspection and repair. All reasonable 6 expenses incurred by a creditor in complying with this section are an obligation of the 7 homeowner and are secured by the mortgage.

8 (g) A person that enters abandoned property for a purpose described in subsection 9 (f) is not liable to the homeowner for trespass or for damage to the property resulting 10 from a cause other than the person's negligence or willful misconduct.

11 (h) The following have the right to enforce the obligations created by this section:

12 (1) a governmental subdivision in which the mortgaged property is 13 located; [or]

14 (2) a homeowners association, condominium association, or cooperative 15 association, if the property is subject to the rules of the association [; or 16 (3) a community development corporation serving the area where the 17 mortgaged property is located].

18 (i) The obligation of a creditor to maintain abandoned property is limited to the 19 obligations created by this section. If the creditor becomes the owner of the property, the 20 creditor's obligations with respect to the property are determined by law of this state 21 other than this [act]. The creditor does not become a mortgagee in possession of the 22 property solely by virtue of the creditor's performance of the obligations created by this 23 section.

1 Comment

3 1. This Section requires creditors to maintain abandoned properties under certain 4 circumstances. The obligation may arise based upon action of the creditor or action of the 5 municipality or other governmental entity where the property is located.

7 However, it is clear under this [act] that the creditor has no obligation to maintain 8 the property before the creditor commences a foreclosure. Moreover, the creditor does 9 not become obligated to maintain merely by commencing foreclosure at a time when the 10 dwelling unit is vacant. Rather, the obligation arises when the creditor seeks to use the 11 expedited foreclosure procedure authorized by Section 605 and obtains either a judicial 12 order or official determination that the property is abandoned. Under subsection (c) the 13 obligation may also arise any time after the creditor has commenced foreclosure if the 14 municipality or other local governmental entity cites the property as both abandoned and 15 presenting a threat to public safety or health.

17 2. Subsection (e) defines the scope of the creditor’s obligation to maintain abandoned 18 property. The focus is on the outward appearance of the property, including yards and 19 other exterior spaces, and other conditions that are likely to have significant impacts on 20 the neighborhood, such as interior spaces frequented by squatters or persons engaged in 21 criminal activities. This subsection is modeled closely on Cal. Civ. § 2929.3(b), enacted 22 in 2008.

24 3. Subsection (f) grants a license to the creditor and to its agents or contractors to enter 25 abandoned property for the purpose of inspection, repair, and maintenance, regardless of 26 whether that right is reserved in the mortgage. Similarly, this subsection authorizes the 27 addition of the creditor’s reasonable maintenance expenses under this section to the debt 28 secured by the mortgage, regardless of whether the mortgage contains a provision to that 29 effect.
30

31 4. Subsection (h) provides for enforcement by the local government that has jurisdiction
32 over the abandoned property. When the property is located in a common-interest 33 community, it also provides standing for the association as a means to protect 34 neighboring property owners whose interests are likely to be harmed by the creditor’s 35 failure to maintain the property. In conferring standing both to the local government and 36 to owners’ associations, this subsection follows the approach taken by N.Y. Real Prop.
37 Acts. § 1307(3), enacted in 2009. This subsection does not grant a direct enforcement
38 right to neighbors. If negatively impacted, such persons may have a remedy under other 39 laws, such as public or private nuisance.
40

41 5. At common law a creditor who takes possession of mortgaged property prior to the 42 completion of foreclosure becomes a “mortgagee in possession,” who by virtue thereof 43 undertakes a number of obligations to the homeowner with respect to maintenance and 44 care of the property. Subsection (i) expressly provides that a creditor who enters the 45 property solely for the purpose of complying with its obligations under this Section does 46 not assume the liabilities of a mortgagee in possession.

1 [ARTICLE] 7

2 REMEDIES

3 SECTION 701. EFFECT OF VIOLATION; DEFENSES.

4 (a) In a judicial-foreclosure, if the court finds that the creditor or servicer or a 5 person that has commenced foreclosure has committed a material violation of this [act], 6 the court may dismiss the action, stay the action on appropriate terms and conditions, or 7 impose any sanction the court deems appropriate. Dismissal must be without prejudice 8 unless the court determines that a new foreclosure action should be barred because of 9 misconduct by the creditor or servicer or other good cause.

10 (b) In a nonjudicial-foreclosure, the homeowner or obligor may initiate an action
11 against the creditor or servicer or a person that has commenced foreclosure asserting a 12 defense to foreclosure or that a creditor or servicer committed a material violation of this 13 [act]. If the court finds that a defense exists or a material violation of this [act] occurred, 14 the court may enjoin the foreclosure, stay the foreclosure on appropriate terms and 15 conditions, or impose any sanction the court deems appropriate. An injunction must not 16 be permanent unless the court determines that foreclosure should be barred because of 17 misconduct by the creditor or servicer or other good cause.

18 (c) If a court determines there is a material violation of this [act] under subsection 19 (a) or (b), the creditor may not add to the amount of the obligation any attorney's fees or 20 costs incurred as a result of the violation, or any other attorney's fees and costs incurred 21 before the creditor cures the violation.

22 (d) A homeowner or obligor injured by a violation of this [act] may bring an 23 action for actual damages sustained by the homeowner or obligor against the person that

1 caused the violation.

2 (e) In addition to the damages recoverable under subsection (d), the court may 3 award a homeowner or obligor statutory damages not exceeding $[15,000] for a pattern
4 or practice of violating this [act]. In determining whether to award statutory damages and 5 the amount of statutory damages, the court shall consider, all relevant factors, including:

6 (1) the frequency and persistence of violations by the creditor or servicer
7 in its business practices;

8 (2) the nature of the violations, and

9 (3) the extent to which the violations were intentional.

10 (f) In opposing the imposition or amount of statutory damages for violations of 11 this [act] established by the obligor or homeowner, the creditor or servicer may show 12 that:

13 (1) the violation was due to a mistake, other than a mistake of law, that 14 occurred notwithstanding reasonable procedures established to preclude such mistakes; or 15 (2) before the action was brought, the creditor or servicer discovered and 16 cured the violations.

17 (g) An action for damages brought under this section must be commenced not 18 later than [one] year after the violation on which it is based.

19 Comments

21 1. The statutory damages for individuals under subsection (e) require a pattern or practice
22 of noncompliance, similar to the federal RESPA statute's provision for statutory 23 damages, 12 U.S.C. §2605(f)

25 2. Dismissal with prejudice is a sanction of last resort, and should be reserved for cases
26 of very serious noncompliance by the creditor or servicer. Dismissal with prejudice may 27 be warranted, for example, when there have been repeated and serious violations by the 28 creditor. E.g. Bank of New York v. Richardson, 2011 Me. 38, 15 A.3d 756 (2011)

1 (creditor failed to appear at three successive mediation conferences in a case where the 2 homeowner asserted significant consumer law counterclaims); U.S. Bank N.A. v. Solorin
3 934 N.Y.S.2d 655 (2012) (dismissal after 16-month delay in filing required certification
4 of accuracy of supporting documents).

6 3. Actual damages incurred by a homeowner or obligor under this section may include
7 damages for emotional distress. Whether or not the homeowner may claim that damages 8 caused by a servicer are chargeable to the creditor who retained the servicer under 9 theories of agency or employer/employee law is not determined by this act but by other 10 law.

12 4. Under subsection (a), before confirmation of the foreclosure sale, the homeowner may 13 raise a material violation of the statute, for example, a materially inaccurate notice of the 14 amounts needed to cure a default, as a basis for asking the court to prevent the 15 foreclosure sale (or confirmation), until the violation has been corrected and remedied. If 16 the creditor can cure the violation in a timely way so that full compliance is achieved, it 17 would then be appropriate under this section for the foreclosure to proceed.

19 However, after a foreclosure sale, under established principles of real estate law, 20 unless the homeowner under state law has an independent right of redemption, a bona 21 fide sale purchaser is entitled to rely on the conclusive effect of the sale, and the 22 homeowner's only remedy for violations of the statute would be to seek damages from 23 the foreclosing creditor or any other remedy allowed under state or federal law.
24

25 SECTION 702. DEFENSE OR REMEDY OF HOMEOWNER OR

26 OBLIGOR UNDER OTHER LAW. This [act] does not displace any defense or 27 remedy a homeowner or obligor has under federal law or law of this state other than this 28 [act].

29 Comment

30 This act preserves rights and defenses available to homeowners and obligors under other 31 state statutes, regulations, common law, and federal law. In many states, such rights and 32 defenses include payment or tender of payment; discharge; contract law defenses, 33 including forgery, lack of capacity, duress, absence or failure of consideration, fraud,
34 misrepresentation, unconscionability, failure of a condition precedent; equitable defenses 35 such as estoppel, laches, or unclean hands; release by cancellation of debt; a violation by 36 a creditor, servicer, their predecessors in interest, or their agents of unfair and deceptive
37 trade practices statutes and other consumer protection statutes; a defect in a mortgage 38 resulting from a failure to comply with statutory requirements for the execution of 39 mortgages; a determination that the creditor or its predecessor in interest was not licensed 40 under state mortgagee licensing statutes or was not legally authorized to make the loan 41 under federal law; and breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing.

1 SECTION 703. ATTORNEY’S FEES AND COSTS. In an action in which a
2 party seeks a remedy under Section 701 based on a violation of this [act], or asserts a
3 defense or remedy under Section 702 or a defense under Section 703, the court may 4 award the costs of the action and reasonable attorney’s fees to the prevailing party.

5 SECTION 704. ENFORCEMENT BY [ATTORNEY GENERAL]. In 6 addition to enforcing any remedies available under law of this state other than this [act],
7 the [attorney general or other state official or agency] may bring an action to enjoin a 8 pattern or practice of violating this [act]. In such an action the court may (1) issue an 9 injunction or order against a creditor, servicer, their agents, or any other person violating 10 this [act], which may include requiring steps to be taken to remedy a violation or the 11 payment of damages to aggrieved obligors or homeowners; and (2) assess a civil penalty 12 of not less than $[_____] nor more than $[_____].

13 SECTION 705. EFFECT OF THE HOLDER IN DUE COURSE RULE.

14 (a) Notwithstanding [insert reference to UCC Section 3-305] and any agreement
15 waiving claims or defenses by an obligor or homeowner, a creditor that is a holder in due 16 course or who seeks to enforce a waiver of claims or defenses is subject to the claims and 17 defenses described in subsection (b) that the obligor or homeowner could assert against 18 the initial holder of the obligation.

19 (b) An obligor or homeowner may assert against a holder in due course a claim or 20 defense based on specific allegations of fraud, material misrepresentation, or material 21 breach of promise in connection with the original loan transaction. A material breach of 22 promise is a breach that substantially deprives the obligor of the benefit of the expected 23 bargain.

1 (c) If the creditor is a holder in due course under [insert reference to UCC Section
2 3-305] or seeks to enforce a waiver of claims and defenses, an obligor or homeowner 3 may:

4 (1) assert, in addition to the defenses otherwise available under [insert
5 reference to UCC Section 3-305], any defense against the holder in due course described 6 in subsection (b); or

7 (2) bring a declaratory judgment action to establish any claim against the 8 holder in due course described in subsection (b).

9 (d) A claim or defense under subsections (b) and (c) may not be made or asserted
10 more than six years after signing of the record creating the obligation being enforced.

11 (e) If an obligor or homeowner establishes a claim or defense under this section, 12 relief is limited to reformation of the obligation and recoupment. Recoupment must be in 13 the amount of the economic loss caused by the fraud, misrepresentation, or material 14 breach of promise and may not exceed the amount owed on the obligation at the time of 15 judgment. The court may determine whether the effect of recoupment is to cure the 16 default or reinstate the obligation pursuant to Section 201. Recoupment reduces both 17 what the creditor is entitled to collect in foreclosure and what the creditor is entitled to 18 collect by other processes, including a separate action to collect the obligation.

19 (f) This section applies to obligations incurred after [the effective date of this 20 [act]].

21 Reporter's Note

22
23 We should consider whether subsection (e) should be parallel to Section 3-305.

24 Comment

26
27 1. This section represents a middle-ground position between preservation of the status

1 quo and complete abrogation of the HDC doctrine, along the lines of the Federal Trade
2 Commission Regulation (16 CFR Part 433) that protects consumers who finance the 3 purchase of goods or services.

5 In doing so, the draft limits the insulation that UCC Section 3-305 otherwise provides to 6 holders of notes – typically viewed by the marketplace as negotiable instruments under 7 UCC Section 3-104 – when secured by mortgages on “mortgaged property” as that term
8 is defined in Section 102 (15) of this [act].

10 The section contains these major limitations compared to simply abrogating the holder in 11 due course doctrine:

12
13 (a) it caps the liability of the holder to the outstanding loan balance,

14
15 (b) it applies only prospectively, and

16
17 (c) it preserves only claims and defenses based on fraud, material
18 misrepresentation, or material breach of promise in connection with the original loan 19 transaction.

21 2. The primary limitations on the claims or defenses which a borrower may assert are the 22 following:

23 First, under subsection (a) the borrower’s claims or defenses may be asserted 24 despite any waiver the borrower or other owner of the mortgaged property may have 25 signed;

27 Second, under subsection (b), any claim or defense must not be barred by a statute
28 of limitation or other preclusion;

29 Third, also under subsection (b), any claim or defense must be ‘based on fraud, 30 material misrepresentation, or material breach of promise in connection with the original
31 loan transaction; ’

32 Fourth, under subsection (c), the subsection (b) claims or defenses are in addition 33 to the defenses already available under U.C.C. 3-305.

34 Fifth, under subsection (d), no such claim or defense may be made or asserted 35 more than six years after the note was signed. However, nothing in this section would 36 alter the existing common law doctrine of recoupment that, in some states, may permit 37 assertion of a time-barred claim as a recoupment defense only.

38 Sixth, under subsection (e), if a borrower establishes a claim, the recovery is 39 limited to the amount of borrower’s economic loss, and in no event more than the 40 outstanding balance on the note.

41 Seventh, under subsection (f), the new remedies provided to borrowers under this 42 section would apply only to notes signed after the effective date of the [act] in the state

1 where the mortgaged property is located.

2 3. The section also authorizes the borrower to bring a declaratory judgment to 3 affirmatively assert one of these permitted claims, without the need to raise them only in 4 a foreclosure action. This balances the limitation of the borrower’s right to assert either a
5 claim or a defense to a six year statute of limitation, with another year allowed in the case
6 of an interest rate adjustment. There is no policy reason to force the borrower to default
7 on her loan as a condition of asserting claims she may have arising out of fraud,
8 misrepresentation or breach of promise.

10 4. Under subsection (e), the relief granted to the borrower is framed in terms of 11 recoupment or reduction in the balance of the outstanding loan, rather than requiring the 12 holder to pay funds to the borrower. For example, if the obligor is personally liable to pay 13 the obligation, recoupment under this section reduces what the creditor may collect 14 outside of foreclosure, including by way of a deficiency judgment if foreclosure proceeds
15 to a sale. In this respect, this section follows the broad approach taken by the FTC
16 regulation. By making the creditor “subject to” claims and defenses, those claims and 17 defenses, when proven, offset the amount due on the obligation.

18 5. Finally, while the section refers only to ‘creditors’, a servicer would be subject to the 19 same liabilities imposed on the creditor whose contract with a servicer authorized or 20 required the creditor to undertake a duty that the [act] imposes on the creditor; see 21 Section 107 of the [act].

36 OR FEDERAL REGISTRY IF AND WHEN DEVELOPED.

37
38 We propose that the Uniform Home Foreclosure Procedures Act (Act) needs to 39 require the establishment of a registry by each state enacting the Act and include a
40 new Article 8 with a transition to a federal or state compact registry if and when a 41 satisfactory one may be established.
42

1 The ULC conference has had some experience in including successful provisions for 2 registries in its Acts, for example:

- 3
- 4 1. UCC Article 8 –authorizes DTC by the provisions of Part 5 to operate the 5 holding of electronic (non-certificated) securities pursuant to certain 6 standards and rules.
7
- 8 2. Uniform Anatomical Gift Act – encourages the establishment of a 9 registry for donors; the registries cover areas served by Organ
10 Procurement Organizations that sometimes embrace parts of states but 11 substantially all of the country is served collectively by a registry. The 12 practice is to call the registry where the donor resides if the donor is fatally
13 injured and dying in another state or country without his or her donative 14 intent otherwise known on a driver’s license or some other document.
15
- 16 3. UCC Article 7 –authorizes electronic Bills of Lading under standards set 17 forth in that Act.
18
- 19 4. Uniform Electronic Transaction Act – authorizes electronic mortgage
20 notes. MERS has employed this authorization and has maintained a 21 capacity for registering electronic notes with substantial success, but the 22 MERS system dealing with MERS as the mortgagee for the owner of 23 indebtedness secured by a mortgage has had much litigation due to its 24 structure and thus is not well regarded in all quarters.
25
- 26 5. Virginia Advance Medical Directives Act: Virginia authorizes the 27 establishment of a “secured online” registry by a state agency and 28 authorizes reliance on the registry.
29

30 While these precedents are useful, they are not models that fit well the circumstances in 31 the housing market. They do provide some guidance of the features for a registry from 32 which a registry for mortgage notes might be formulated.
33

34 II. A ULC Subcommittee has been created to study alternatives for a registry.

35

36 The Subcommittee appointed by Harriet Lansing to review and make recommendations 37 with respect to a registry for residential mortgage notes has concluded that:

- 38
- 39 • Capital available from a national market is necessary to provide for a 40 vibrant and healthy housing industry
- 41 • Packaging and securitization of residential mortgages is necessary for 42 adequate capital availability.
- 43 • Thus it is important that the Act include authorization for and 44 establishment of a registry.
45

46 The subcommittee believes that the benefits, but taking into account the

1 detriments, for stakeholders in the current draft of the proposed Act will not generate
2 support from the stakeholders. The American Bankers already have confirmed that 3 opinion. It is also unlikely that any state will enact a proposal that authorizes a registry 4 that does not exist and the framework of which depends on the creation of a federal 5 registry that may, in significant measure, preempt existing state law for property located
6 in that state. The only feasible proposal for enactment thus must embrace a registry 7 proposal with known and limited impact on existing state laws.

9 What are the benefits of a registry? There is a substantial cost in processing paper 10 notes and mortgages, in warehousing them, in locating them if and when needed, and in 11 providing them for the record in foreclosure actions. When mortgages were provided by 12 local banks, payments were made to that bank, and upon foreclosure processed by the 13 local bank, so paper notes were not a major concern or cost. Since the homeowner was 14 likely the continuing customer of the bank, there was a built in effort to work things out if 15 possible.

17 Today's national and international credit market has changed all of that forever.
18 Today relatively few mortgages are held and served by the local community banker. The 19 mortgages are packaged with the local bank selling their mortgages for investors who 20 acquire the ownership of a small fraction of the package. Thus, it often is difficult to find 21 someone with authority to explore whether things can be worked out for everyone's 22 mutual benefit, the servicers and banks sometimes exploit the situation, and some 23 defaulters delay foreclosures when not justified due to confusion in the law, adding to the 24 costs of realizing the value of the collateral that in turn negatively impacts interest rates
25 and availability of capital for affordable housing for consumers, and depressing resale 26 value of neighboring properties that are not subject to foreclosure. Congestion in our 27 courts may also delay resolution of cases. An electronic registry for notes can avoid or 28 mitigate a number of these problems by clarifying who has the right to foreclose and 29 what is proper procedure as well as reducing cost through the use of electronic records, 30 and accordingly, through the use of electronic records, would be very attractive to both 31 borrowers and lenders.
32

33 This draft sets forth a concept largely following the precedent from UCC Article 8
34 and the Virginia registry for Advance Medical Directives, but still will need much 35 careful and thoughtful drafting.
36

37 III. Proposal For Initially A State Registry In The Act, With 38 Transition To A State Compact Or Federal Registry
39

40 A. Add to or change provisions of the current HFP Act as follows:
41

42 1. Change § 102(14) to read:
43

44 "Registry" means an entity in accordance with Article 8 of this Act created 45 and operated for the following purposes: (1) to allow the deposit of 46 mortgage notes and the accompanying mortgages, (2) to eliminate paper

1 forms, (3) to identify the person entitled to enforce the note and thus 2 foreclose the mortgage, (4) to track transfers, modifications, and 3 satisfactions of the note and mortgage, (5) to provide certain protections 4 for secured parties, and (6) to address selected other issues, such as 5 appropriate safeguards for and transparency of relevant information, 6 remedies for violations of certain rules other than specified in Article 8 of 7 the Act, and the application of relevant rules from other state law,
8 particularly the Uniform Commercial Code.

10 2. Change § 401 to read:

11
12 SECTION 401[A]. RIGHT TO FORECLOSE – JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE;
13 OTHER RIGHTS
14

15 (a) Only a person described in subsection (b) may commence judicial 16 foreclosure, and only after default in the obligation and satisfaction of all conditions
17 required by the mortgage agreement and by applicable law.
18

19 (b) (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d), only a person
20 entitled to enforce the obligation secured by the mortgage, as determined by law of this
21 state other than this Act, including the Uniform Commercial Code as enacted in this state,
22 may commence a foreclosure.

23 (2) For an obligation registered in the registry provided for in Article 8
24 of this Act, subject to subsection (d), only the person designated as the person entitled to 25 enforce the obligation as specified in subsection (b)(1) may be recognized by the registry,
26 and exercise the exclusive right to foreclose or exercise other rights with respect to the 27 obligation and the mortgage securing it.
28

29 (c) In a judicial-foreclosure, the following rules apply:
30

31 (1) The creditor must plead that it has the right under subsection (b) to 32 foreclose; and
33

34 (2) If the obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument, the 35 [complaint] must include:
36

37 (A) a true and complete copy of the instrument in its present condition, 38 including any indorsement or allonge and a statement identifying the 39 person in possession of the instrument; or 40

41 (B) a statement that the instrument has been lost, destroyed, or stolen 42 and, if possible, a true and complete copy of the instrument in its last-43 known condition, in which case the [complaint] must include an affidavit
44 that complies with Section 403.
45

46 (3) If the obligation is not evidenced by a negotiable instrument, the

1 [complaint] must include a true and complete copy of the record evidencing the 2 obligation and any record or records evidencing the creditor’s right to enforce the 3 obligation.

5 (d) (1) The creditor in a record may authorize another person to foreclose.
6 The [complaint] described in subsection (c) must disclose the name of the creditor and of 7 the person authorized by the creditor to foreclose.

9 (2) A person with a security interest perfected by filing under the 10 Uniform Commercial Code as enacted in this state in an obligation registered in the 11 registry, and who is not the person described in this section as entitled to enforce the 12 obligation, may be recognized by the registry if the person has its interest noted in the 13 registry when the obligation is registered, or upon the taking of the security interest if it 14 does not exist when the obligation is registered, and thereafter shall be deemed, as 15 applicable, to also be perfected by possession and shall have the right to notify the 16 registry to prohibit transfer of the obligation and the mortgage that secures it without 17 prior consent by the secured party in a record, and upon receipt of the notification and 18 after a reasonable opportunity for the registry to act on it, the registry must recognize and 19 implement the notification and thereafter the secured party is recognized as having the 20 sole right to enforce the obligation and to foreclose the mortgage that secures it.
21

23

24 It seems unnecessary to specifically mention “transferable records.” Either they 25 are subject to the rules for negotiable instruments as provided in UETA § 16 or § 16
26 separately accomplishes what the deposit of a negotiable instrument into the registry
27 would accomplish. Nonetheless, this conclusion needs discussion. Also, it is awkward, 28 given the definition of “creditor,” to describe that person differently in subsections (a) 29 and (b) than in subsection (c), but it seems necessary given subsection (d).
30

31 (e) If an obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument and a creditor 32 does not own the obligation, the [complaint] described in subsection (c) must disclose the 33 name of the legal owner or owners of the obligation.
34

35 SECTION 401[B]. RIGHT TO FORECLOSE – NONJUDICIAL
36 FORECLOSURE; OTHER RIGHTS.
37

38 (a) Only a person described in subsection (b) may commence nonjudicial
39 foreclosure and only after default in the obligation and satisfaction of all conditions
40 required by the mortgage agreement and by applicable law.
41

42 (b) (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d), only a person
43 entitled to enforce the obligation secured by the mortgage, as determined by law of this
44 state other than this Act, including the Uniform Commercial Code as enacted in this state, 45 may commence a foreclosure.
46

1 (2) For an obligation registered in the registry provided for in Article 8
2 of this Act, subject to subsection (d), only the person designated as the person entitled to
3 enforce the obligation as specified in subsection (b)(1) may be recognized by the registry,
4 and exercise the exclusive right to foreclose or exercise other rights with respect to the 5 obligation and the mortgage securing it.

7 (c) In a nonjudicial foreclosure, the following rules apply:

9 (1) The creditor must establish that it has the right under subsection 10 (b) to foreclose; and 11

12 (2) If the obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument, the 13 creditor also must supply upon request by the homeowner or obligor:

14
15 (A) a true and complete copy of the instrument in its present
16 condition, including any indorsement or allonge and a statement 17 identifying the person in possession of the instrument; or

18
19 (B) a statement that the instrument has been lost, destroyed, or 20 stolen and, if possible, a true and complete copy of the instrument in its 21 last-known condition, in which case an affidavit that complies with 22 Section 403 must also be supplied.

24 (3) If the obligation is not evidenced by a negotiable instrument, a true
25 and complete copy of the record evidencing the obligation and any record or records 26 evidencing the creditor's right to enforce the obligation must be supplied upon request by 27 the homeowner or obligor.

28
29 (d) (1) The creditor in a record may authorize another person to foreclose.
30 The name of the creditor and of the person authorized by the creditor to foreclose must be 31 disclosed in the record, which must be available to the homeowner or obligor upon their 32 request.

34 (2) A person with a security interest perfected by filing under the 35 Uniform Commercial Code as enacted in this state in an obligation registered in 36 the registry, and who is not the person described in this section as entitled to 37 enforce the obligation, may be recognized by the registry if the person has its 38 interest noted in the registry when the obligation is registered, or upon the taking 39 of the security interest if it does not exist when the obligation is registered, and 40 thereafter shall be deemed, as applicable, to also be perfected by possession and 41 shall have the right to notify the registry to prohibit transfer of the obligation and 42 the mortgage that secures it without prior consent by the secured party in a record, 43 and upon receipt of the notification and after a reasonable opportunity for the 44 registry to act on it, the registry must recognize and implement the notification 45 and thereafter the secured party is recognized as having the sole right to enforce 46 the obligation and to foreclose the mortgage that secures it.

1 (e) If an obligation is evidenced by a negotiable instrument and a creditor
2 does not own the obligation, the name of the legal owner or owners of the obligation
3 must be disclosed to the homeowner or obligor upon their request.

4 3. Change § 402 to read:

6 If an obligation is registered in the registry, the person entitled to foreclose under 7 Section 401 is not required to obtain or record any assignment of the mortgage from any 8 transferor of the obligation in the relevant real estate records of this state.

11
12 No reason exists to mandate recording of an assignment of a mortgage due to the registry, 13 which essentially serves that purpose if transparent. For non-registry mortgages, this 14 leaves recording to current applicable state law. This approach might reduce consumer 15 and county recorder opposition. Also, in essence the creation of the registry is only an 16 overlay on present state law and does not change it and is not mandatory. It is 17 evidentiary – a way to establish what is necessary under state law. Thus arguably it is not 18 a delegation of legislative authority to the designated state agency, particularly since 19 there are extensive statutory requirements for the agency’s regulation in Article 8.

21 4. § 403. Minor changes may be desirable to cover the meaning of 22 “destroyed” when the note is registered and destroyed; and in § 403(a) to recognize 23 possession is not lost upon registration.

24

26
27 Are there other provisions that may need minor tweaking?

28
29 5. Change § 706(a) to read:

30
31 If an obligation is registered in the registry, a creditor, or a secured party
32 described in Section 401(d)(2), that has the rights of a holder in due course or who seeks 33 to enforce an agreement waiving claims or defenses is subject only to the claims and 34 defenses described in subsection (b) of this section that the obligor or homeowner can 35 establish against the initial person entitled to enforce the obligation. For an obligation 36 not registered in the registry, whether a person can be a holder in due course or enforce 37 an agreement to waive claims and defenses depends on law of this state other than this 38 Act.

39

41
42 This may go further than we need to go, and is not literally necessary to establish the 43 registry. But it promotes the registry by limiting claims and defenses that might be 44 available, and thus perhaps promotes the Act, allows a compromise with consumers, and 45 helps securitization as registrants, even though they are subject to limited claims and 46 defenses, are protected as the Act also allows recourse back down the transfer chain

1 because the registry established in Article 8 will allow a registrant subject to an allowable
2 claim or defense to sue its warrantor and any prior warrantor back to the original payee
3 holder of the note without need for privity, and thus each transferee can know and assess 4 their transferor and take appropriate steps to protect themselves. The warranties will 5 replicate those of UCC § 3-416. This approach thus allows the same argument made in 6 support of the FTC Holder rule, that you can know and thus protect yourself from 7 problems of your assignor. Non-registrants may not be protected but probably are not in 8 many cases today, as immediate payees seldom can be holders in due course now and 9 their transferees, to the extent there are any, usually by case or statutory law are seldom 10 better off.

12 B. With the foregoing changes, Add a new Article 8 as follows:

13
14 [ARTICLE] 8
15 REGISTRY

16
17 New § 801

18
19 (a) The (appropriate state agency) shall establish, or contract for the 20 establishment, and operate a secure registry meeting the purposes as specified in § 21 102(14) of this Act for obligations as defined in § 102(18) of this Act secured by 22 mortgaged property as defined in § 102(23) of this Act, when the mortgaged property is 23 located in this state. The registry shall be implemented pursuant to regulation, and the 24 regulation or any contract pursuant to it shall be consistent with the provisions designated 25 in § 803 of this Act.

27 (b) The (appropriate state agency) shall determine if registries for obligations
28 secured by mortgaged property established pursuant to the law of other states
29 substantially enacting the uniform version of this Act, or a substantially similar law, are 30 sufficiently similar to the law of this state, have adequate funding, and are in accordance 31 with any regulation promulgated by the agency of this state, and, if so, shall give full 32 faith and credit to the information and legal consequences provided by those other 33 registries.

35 (c) If a registry having substantially similar terms and procedures to the 36 registry established in this state, and having adequate funding and operating in 37 accordance with the regulation of the agency of this state, is established by at least 24
38 other states pursuant to a compact approved if necessary by Congress and to which this 39 state and the other states are parties, the agency of this state by regulation shall designate 40 the registry established by compact as the operative registry for this state and for 41 obligations secured by mortgaged property located in this state. The agency of this state, 42 with the consent of the state legislature, may enter into funding agreements to contribute 43 to the maintenance of the registry established by compact. The agency of this state may 44 exercise the power in this subsection with respect to a compact of less than 24 states if it 45 determines it would advance the goal of having a registry for mortgage obligations.

1 (d) If a registry having substantially similar terms and procedures to the 2 registry established in this state, and having adequate funding and operating in 3 accordance with the regulation of the agency of this state is established by Congress, with 4 any implementing federal regulation, the agency of this state by regulation shall designate 5 the federal registry as the operative registry for this state and for obligations secured by 6 mortgaged property located in this state. The agency of this state with the consent of the 7 state legislature may enter into funding agreements to contribute to the maintenance of 8 the federal registry.

10 New § 802

11
12 An obligation or other document registered in the registry of this state is 13 subject to the same laws of this state that it was subject to prior to registration except as 14 otherwise provided in this Act, and the validity or invalidity of the obligation or 15 document is not affected by its registration, nor is the failure of the registrant or the 16 registry to properly perform any function or give any notice a ground to invalidate the 17 function or notice or transaction involved, but such failure of performance does afford an 18 aggrieved party a right of action for appropriate other relief.

19
20 New § 803

- 21
22 (a) The registry established by this Article shall include provisions:
- 23
24 (1) designating the only person or persons that can register an 25 obligation, which shall be the person entitled to enforce the 26 obligation before it is registered, and that person, except as provided 27 in subsection (d)(2) of Section 401 of this Act, shall be the only 28 person authorized to instruct the registry to modify or transfer an 29 obligation, and to provide information as to the discharge of the 30 obligation or the foreclosure of the mortgage securing the obligation 31 after registration;
- 32
33 (2) providing for registration as the equivalent of possession or control 34 of the obligation by the registrant or a transferee of the registrant, or 35 a secured party, and for a transfer instruction as the equivalent of an 36 indorsement of the obligation and an assignment of the mortgage
37 securing it in a manner consistent with the Uniform Commercial 38 Code as enacted in this state, whether or not the obligation is 39 obligation evidenced by an instrument under UCC Article 3 or a 40 non-negotiable obligation;
- 41
42 (3) providing for the survival of a security interest in the obligation as 43 well as its perfection and priority as existed prior to registration and 44 for taking and perfecting a security interest in an obligation that has 45 been registered, including its priority in relation to other security
46 interests that may exist, in a manner consistent with the UCC Article

9 as enacted in this state;

- (4) providing for the destruction of an obligation if evidenced by a paper instrument when the obligation is registered and held after registration in electronic form without any loss of rights;
- (5) providing for the registered obligation to be identified by a unique registry locator number, and procedures to assure that it is unalterable thereafter, that are not inconsistent with the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, if enacted in this state, or the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act;
- (6) providing for fees from participants adequate to recover costs of operating the registry;
- (7) providing for registrants to have recorded the mortgage securing a registered obligation in the appropriate land records as a condition to registration, and to promptly report to the registry when an obligation has been discharged or a mortgage securing an obligation has been foreclosed or released so that may be noted on registry records;
- (8) providing for the general availability of agency records and who may obtain them, consistent with a policy of transparency at least equal to that of the recording laws of this state with reference to mortgages and the provisions of this Act, and for recordkeeping requirements, including adequate security procedures for registry records;
- (9) providing for whatever other information the registry may determine by regulation to accept, such as the identification of an owner of an obligation, or the identity of an agent or service provider and their authority to act for a registrant;
- (10) providing for non-disclaimable and non-variable transfer warranties of the type and with the remedies in UCC § 3-416 of this state to be given by the registrant to the registrant's transferee and all subsequent transferees; and
- (11) providing for the resolution of claims the registry has received adequate notification of and has had reasonable time to act on, and that are adverse to the rights of the registrant or a secured party to a registered obligation and the mortgage securing it, and for the method of asserting a recognizable claim, including those of more than one secured party or a judgment creditor or a creditor holding a lien by legal process prior to or after the registration of the obligation, which claims shall be resolved in accordance with or by

1 analogy to relevant applicable law of this state, if at all possible and 2 as applicable prior to the registration of the obligation.

- 4 (b) The (appropriate state agency) shall promulgate a regulation to carry out the 5 purposes of the registry which shall, in addition to the specific requirements 6 listed in subsection (a) and as necessary, cover general procedures and the 7 rights and obligations of parties, and may contain appropriate additional 8 requirements beyond those listed in this section. The regulation may 9 contain classifications, differentiations, or other provisions, may provide for 10 adjustments and exceptions for all or any class of circumstances as in the 11 judgment of the agency are necessary or proper to effectuate the purpose of 12 the registry, to prevent circumvention or evasion of requirements of the 13 registry, or to facilitate compliance with the provisions of the registry, or to 14 reflect developments occurring after the establishment of the registry that 15 are relevant to the operation of the registry.
16
- 17 (c) Promulgation of regulations by the agency is subject to the APA of this 18 state.
19
- 20 (d) A regulation governing rights and obligations of specific parties is effective 21 even if the regulation affects another party who is not the principal subject 22 of the regulation.
23
- 24 (e) A person who substantially complies in good faith with the regulation of the 25 state agency is not liable if the regulation or a relevant part of it is later 26 declared void by a final court decision.
27

28 COMMENT 29

30 Subsection (b) is an amalgam of § 107 of the FRB draft and 15 U.S.C. § 1604(a)
31 (Truth in Lending) and is designed for flexibility. Subsection (a) is designed to withstand
32 challenges of improper legislative delegation. Subsection (a) is taken from the ccring 33 draft with additions from the FRB draft. Subsection (d) may not be needed but is based 34 on UCC § 4-103(b). Subsection (e) is based on a protection from Truth in Lending Act 35 § 1640, but the protection may be too broad. A limitation could be added at the end, such 36 as “except for foreseeable economic actual damages that could not be avoided or 37 mitigated.”

2 MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

3 SECTION 901. UNIFORMITY OF APPLICATION AND

4 CONSTRUCTION. In applying and construing this uniform act, consideration must be 5 given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter
6 among states that enact it.

7 SECTION 902. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF LAW APPLICABLE.

8 The principles of law and equity, including the law of principal and agent, supplement
9 this [act] unless displaced by its particular provisions.

10 Comment

12 The provisions of this act are to be supplemented by general principles of law and equity.
13 In mortgage loan transactions, a creditor often acts through agents, and sometimes the 14 creditor is an agent for a principal. The law of agency often will determine when a person
15 has rights or duties under this act. The text is a shortened version of Revised UCC § 1-16 103(b), which provides:

18 Unless displaced by the particular provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code, 19 the principles of law and equity, including the law merchant and the law relative to 20 capacity to contract, principal and agent, estoppel, fraud, misrepresentation, duress, 21 coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other validating or invalidating cause supplement its 22 provisions.

24 SECTION 903. RELATION TO ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES IN

25 GLOBAL AND NATIONAL COMMERCE ACT. This [act] modifies, limits, or 26 supersedes the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, 15 U.S.C.
27 Section 7001 et seq., but does not modify, limit, or supersede Section 101(c) of that act,
28 15 U.S.C. Section 7001(c), or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices
29 described in Section 103(b) of that act, 15 U.S.C. Section 7003(b).

30 SECTION 904. PRE-EFFECTIVE DATE TRANSACTIONS. This [act]

31 applies to foreclosure of a mortgage created before, on or after the effective date of this

1 [act], unless the creditor has commenced a foreclosure before the effective date of this 2 [act]. [WRB- At the suggestion of the Style Committee, the Drafter’s note, with 3 revisions, became the substantive provision.]

4 SECTION 905. REPEALER; CONFORMING AMENDMENTS. The 5 following acts and parts of acts are repealed:

6 (a)

7 (b)

8 (c)

9 If there is a conflict between this [act] and other law of this state, this [act] prevails.

10 Legislative Notes

11
12 At a later time, and with further guidance from Style, the Reporters will add 13 legislative notes on FOIA, various kinds of records, and Redemption.

14
15 Style asks:

16
17 “How does this affect the Overlay concept? Repealer might be inconsistent with that 18 concept.

20 Comment

21
22 1. Subsection (a) of this section should be separately prepared for each state. In each state
23 it is necessary to pay careful attention to how this Act is to be blended with existing state 24 law. The statutes to be specifically repealed will include statutes relating to notices of 25 default, intent to accelerate, and the right to cure to be sent to homeowners; notices and 26 standards for mediation and other types of facilitation; determination of who has the right
27 to commence foreclosure; and advertisement and notices of foreclosure sales;
28 confirmation of sales. Given the scope of this Act, which is limited to residential 29 foreclosures, care should be taken not to repeal statutes to the extent they should continue 30 to apply to non-residential foreclosures. In some instances, instead of repeal it may be 31 useful to amend other state statutes to limit their scope to foreclosures that are not within 32 the scope of this Act.

33
34 2. At the same time, this Act was drafted with the expectation that existing state
35 foreclosure procedures would remain in place. This Act is not intended to displace all 36 existing foreclosure laws in each state, but rather to be an overlay on existing law. For 37 example, and most fundamentally, the Act does not anticipate or provide that a state

1 employ a judicial foreclosure process when the customary practice is to foreclose under a 2 power of sale procedure, nor does the Act contemplate that a state should enact a non-
3 judicial foreclosure process in the absence of existing state laws. It is for that reason that 4 the legislative drafters in each state should carefully consider how best to integrate the 5 provisions of the Act with existing state laws governing the foreclosure process.

7 3. In addition to the listed specific sections repealed by this Act, subsection (b) provides 8 for the repeal of all other legislation in this state which is inconsistent with this Act. This 9 provision is necessary to resolve those matters that may ultimately be presented to a court
10 in construing the Act in cases where the specific repealer in subsection (a) fails to note an 11 existing state statute which the court concludes is inconsistent with a provision of this 12 Act.

1 [APPENDIX]

2 Legislative Note: Model rules are not part of the Act, they are for use of the agency
3 designated under Article 3].

5 MODEL PRE-FORECLOSURE RESOLUTION PROGRAM RULES

6 1. These rules apply to the foreclosure pre-foreclosure resolution program under [Article
7 3 of the Home Foreclosure Procedures Act.] “Agency” means the pre-foreclosure 8 resolution agency. The agency is [name of court or agency]. All provisions referring to 9 “creditor” include “servicer” as defined in [the HFPA].

11 2. The purpose of the foreclosure pre-foreclosure resolution program is to assist a 12 creditor and a homeowner to reach a voluntary agreement that avoids foreclosure and 13 achieves a sustainable pre-foreclosure resolution or mitigates damages in cases where 14 foreclosure is unavoidable.

15
16 3. The pre-foreclosure resolution notice required by §302 of the HFPA may be sent [at 17 any time no later than 30 days after the creditor sends the notice required by §201][no
18 later than 30 days after the creditor files a complaint in foreclosure.] The notice shall 19 instruct the homeowner to contact the agency to request pre-foreclosure resolution at the 20 telephone number [or electronic mail address] designated from time to time on the 21 [agency web site][official journal].

23 4. If a homeowner requests pre-foreclosure resolution, the agency shall open a pre-
24 foreclosure resolution case. Within five days of the request the agency shall send notice 25 to the homeowner and creditor [by mail, by electronic mail] to provide the agency with 26 required documents and information for the pre-foreclosure resolution process. The 27 document exchange notice to the homeowner shall also include a list of available housing 28 counseling agencies that can assist the homeowner.

29
30 5. The agency shall schedule a meeting within 60 days after the homeowner’s request for 31 pre-foreclosure resolution.

32
33 6. The document exchange notice to the homeowner shall instruct the homeowner to 34 submit to the agency and the creditor necessary and relevant documents including

- 35
36 a) Documents showing income qualification for a loan modification, including 37 copies of pay stubs, W-2 forms, social security or disability income, retirement 38 income, child support income, or other income that the homeowner believes is 39 relevant to the homeowner’s ability to repay the mortgage, 40 b) Documents supporting any dispute regarding the existence or amount of any 41 mortgage loan default,
42 c) Documents relating to any prior loan modification or other prior agreement 43 regarding the mortgage loan and 44 d) Documents relating to any pending request to modify the loan or negotiate a

1 settlement of the delinquency.

3 7. Homeowners who do not occupy the property being foreclosed are not eligible for pre-
4 foreclosure resolution. The notice to the homeowner shall state that if the homeowner or 5 obligor is not occupying the property is not eligible for pre-foreclosure resolution, and 6 that the homeowner must return a signed non-investor certification form provided by the 7 agency, together with any required fee, in order to participate in pre-foreclosure 8 resolution.

10 8. The document exchange notice to the creditor shall instruct the creditor to submit to 11 the agency and the homeowner necessary and relevant documents including

12

13 a) Any 45-day notice and 5-day notices required by CFPB rule 12 CFR §1024.39(b)
14 and §1024.41(b)(2)(i)(B) previously sent to the homeowner in connection with the 15 current default,

16 b) Any prior offers of loss mitigation, forbearance, modification or other agreements 17 made with the homeowner in connection with the current default, 18 c) a list of documents required by the creditor to evaluate the homeowner's request 19 for loss mitigation,

20 d) The homeowner's payment history from the date of default, 21 e) Itemization of all amounts due on the loan, including all fees, 22 f) copies of the promissory note, signed by the mortgagor, including any 23 endorsements, allonges, amendments, or riders that show the mortgage debt, 24 g) any lost note affidavit the creditor will rely on to foreclose the mortgage.

26 9. The agency or neutral may request additional documents from either party as 27 appropriate. Either originals or copies of documents may be exchanged for the pre-28 foreclosure resolution. The neutral and the agency will not resolve disputes regarding 29 authenticity of documents.

30 10. The homeowner and creditor shall provide the documents requested by the agency no 31 later than 10 days after the sending of the document exchange notice.

32

33 11. The creditor shall communicate to the agency and the homeowner the identity of the 34 individual who will represent the creditor at the pre-foreclosure resolution session at the 35 time it provides the required documents.

36

37 12. Within fourteen days after receiving the homeowner's request, the agency shall send 38 [mail, electronic] notice to the creditor and homeowner that shall include:

39

40 (1) The name and contact information of the assigned neutral,

41 (2) The date, time, and location of the pre-foreclosure resolution session,

42 (3) Information about the conduct of the pre-foreclosure resolution session, and 43 (4) Consequences and penalties for noncompliance with program rules.

45 13. Before accepting appointment as neutral, the neutral shall (a) make an inquiry that is 46 reasonable under the circumstances to determine whether there are any known facts that a

1 reasonable individual would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the neutral,
2 including a financial or personal interest in the outcome of the pre-foreclosure resolution
3 and an existing or past relationship with a party to the pre-foreclosure resolution or 4 foreseeable participant in the pre-foreclosure resolution, and (b) disclose such known fact 5 to the parties as soon as is practical before the first pre-foreclosure resolution meeting. If,
6 after accepting a pre-foreclosure resolution, a neutral learns any fact that a reasonable
7 individual would consider likely to affect the impartiality of the neutral, including a 8 financial or personal interest in the outcome of the pre-foreclosure resolution and an 9 existing or past relationship with a party to the pre-foreclosure resolution or foreseeable 10 participant in the pre-foreclosure resolution, the neutral shall disclose it as soon as is 11 practical.
12

13 14. The neutral's role is to assist the parties with information exchange, communication 14 and negotiation to insure that every reasonable effort has been made to reach a voluntary 15 agreement to resolve the alleged mortgage default in some manner other than a 16 foreclosure sale.
17

18 [15. The neutral may charge each party a fee of [$200]].
19

20 16. At least [10] days prior to the pre-foreclosure resolution session, the creditor must 21 notify the neutral and homeowner of any decision to offer or not offer any loss mitigation
22 options to the homeowner. The creditor shall provide the neutral with documentation 23 supporting its decision not to offer a loss mitigation alternative to the homeowner. The 24 creditor shall also provide the neutral with inputs and the results of the net present value
25 calculations relied upon in reaching its decision. The neutral may request the creditor to 26 provide additional documentation to support its decision.
27

28 17. The homeowner is entitled to have an attorney, housing counselor or other person of 29 the homeowner's choosing accompany the homeowner to and participate in the pre-30 foreclosure resolution meeting.

31 Note – The term 'housing counselor' is included only as an example and 32 without a definition because the term 'other person' would include any 33 representative the homeowner chooses
34

35 18. If the homeowner fails without good cause to substantially and timely provide the 36 documents specified by the neutral or the agency, or to attend the pre-foreclosure 37 resolution meeting, or if the agency determines that the homeowner requesting pre-38 foreclosure resolution is not occupying the property, the agency shall [enter an 39 order][request the court to enter an order] terminating the pre-foreclosure resolution 40 process and permitting foreclosure to proceed pursuant to the HFPA §304.
41

42 19. If the creditor fails without good cause to substantially and timely provide the 43 documents specified by the neutral or the agency, or to appear at the pre-foreclosure 44 resolution meeting with authority to act on any available loss mitigation alternatives, the 45 agency shall [enter an order][request the court to enter an order] extending the pre-46 foreclosure resolution period and the stay of foreclosure pursuant to the HFPA §304.

- 1 20. The parties are required to appear in person at the pre-foreclosure resolution session
2 and shall have the authority to enter into a settlement to resolve the dispute. The 3 creditor's representative must have the ability to evaluate loss mitigation and to have the 4 authority to make a decision as required by the RESPA regulations of the Consumer
5 Financial Protection Bureau. However, upon written request provided to the neutral at 6 least 30 days prior to the pre-foreclosure resolution session, the neutral may waive the 7 requirement of having the parties physically present at the session and allow them to 8 appear by telephone or teleconference.
- 10 21. The parties shall create a signed record of any agreements reached during pre-11 foreclosure resolution. The neutral shall ensure that any agreement reached by the parties 12 at the pre-foreclosure resolution session or during pre-foreclosure resolution is promptly 13 confirmed in a record and signed by all parties.
- 14 22. Within ten days from the conclusion of the pre-foreclosure resolution session, the 15 neutral shall file a record with the agency, reporting whether the parties were present at 16 the session, complied with Section 303 of the Act and all program rules, and whether the 17 parties reached any agreement. The neutral shall also send the record to the parties.
- 18 23. Upon receipt of the neutral's report, the agency shall close the case.
- 19 24. Sanctions for violations of these rules, pursuant to Article 6 of the HFPA, may be 20 imposed only by a court of competent jurisdiction upon motion of either party and after 21 notice and an opportunity to be heard.
- 22 25. All personal financial information as defined by [section of Act] disclosed by the 23 parties in the course of the pre-foreclosure resolution is confidential and not subject to 24 public disclosure under [state freedom of information or sunshine laws] or any other state 25 law.
- 26 26. The agency shall provide ongoing training for neutrals. This includes participation 27 by all neutrals in a mandatory training session on an annual basis.
28
- 29 27. The agency shall prepare and submit to the legislature annually, twenty days prior to 30 the convening of each regular session, a report containing an evaluation of the operation 31 and effects of the program. The report shall include a summary of the cases handled by 32 the program, including the type and frequency of different outcomes, recommendations 33 for changes, modifications, or repeal of the program or parts thereof with accompanying 34 reasons and data.
35
- 36 28. The agency or neutral may recommend or require in appropriate cases that the 37 homeowner tender monthly payments equal to at least 50% of the contractual mortgage 38 payment to the lender or to the agency as a condition of the pre-foreclosure resolution.
39
- 40 29. The lender or creditor may at any time request, pursuant to HFPA §302(a)(2), an 41 order permitting the foreclosure to proceed on the basis that the homeowner has

1 materially failed to comply with rules and requirements of pre-foreclosure resolution.
2 The agency shall act on the request no later than 30 days after receiving the request.
