

February 5, 2013

Dear Committee Members and Observers:

We look forward to seeing you in Washington, DC later this month. Please find attached a new draft of the proposed uniform act on the Prevention and Remedies for Human Trafficking.

Our associate reporter Professor Joe Colquitt has done substantial work on the criminal law sections in an effort to make the draft conform to typical statutory language for criminal provisions. We will spend most of our February meeting reviewing the criminal sections and will then move to a review of the provisions on victims' remedies, state coordination efforts, etc.

We plan to meet all day on Friday and Saturday, and a half day on Sunday, ending at 12:00 noon. Breakfast and lunch will be provided on Friday and Saturday in our meeting room.

Should you have any questions or comments in advance of the meeting, please feel free to reach out to one of us via email or phone.

Steve Wilborn and Anita Ramasastry
