2 Section 1. Title

3 This [act] may be cited as the Model Public Meetings During Emergencies Act.

4 Section 2. Definitions

5 In this [act]:

6 (1) “Electronic” means relating to technology having electrical, digital, magnetic, 7 wireless, optical, electromagnetic, or similar capabilities.

8 (2) “Emergency” ~~means a disaster or comparable event or circumstance that is an~~ 9 ~~emergency under other law of this state, law of a political subdivision of the state, or federal law.~~

10 (3) ~~“Emergency~~ declaration” means a declaration of emergency issued under 12 (43) “Meeting” has the meaning of [meeting] in the open meetings law governing 13 a public body.

14 (54) “Observe” means listen to or watch, whether or not permitted to participate.

15 (65) “Open meetings law” means a law of this state or a political subdivision of 16 the state that governs when and how a meeting of a public body must be open to the public.

17 (76) “Participate” means speak or submit a comment.

18 (87) “Person” means an individual, estate, business or nonprofit entity, public 19 corporation-, government or governmental subdivision, agency or instrumentality, or other legal 20 entity.

21 (98) “Political subdivision of the state” includes a city, [county], district, and any 22 other local or regional governmental authority.

23 (109) “Public body” means an entity subject to an open meetings law. [The term

1 does not include the [Legislature and agencies of the Legislature] or a state [or local] court.]

2 (~~11~~10) “Record” means information:

3 (A) inscribed on a tangible medium; or

4 (B) stored in an electronic or other medium and retrievable in perceivable 5 form.

6 (~~12~~11) “Virtual meeting” means a meeting of a public body, during at least part of 7 which one or more members of the public body attend by electronic means.

8 Legislative Note: If a state or political subdivision uses a term other than “meeting” in its open 9 meetings law, insert that term in the brackets in paragraph (4).

10 11 In paragraph (10), a state that includes the state legislature and its agencies and its state and 12 local courts in the state’s open meetings law and does not choose to extend the scope of the act
13 to those branches of government should include the bracketed sentence. If the bracketed 14 sentence is included, the state should insert the language used in the state to describe its state
15 legislature and legislative agencies. In a state that does not have local courts, the bracketed text 16 “or local” should be omitted.

19
20 The Public Meetings During Emergencies Act builds on and fits into existing state laws 21 authorizing the declaration of emergencies and subjecting public meetings to various procedural 22 and public access requirements, particularly open meetings laws and laws providing for public 23 comment on and participation in the deliberations of public bodies. During the COVID-19 24 pandemic, most governors included within their declarations of emergency provisions 25 suspending many state laws concerning the meetings of public bodies, such as those governing 26 the location of meetings and public access and participation, and authorized virtual meetings.
27 Some of the executive orders included provisions intended to create public access and 28 participation rights in virtual meetings comparable to those applicable to traditional in-person 29 meetings. Since the onset of the pandemic a number of states have adopted laws – some 30 temporary, intended to expire after the pandemic, and others permanent – authorizing public 31 bodies to hold virtual meetings during emergencies, subject to various requirements for the 32 conduct of those meetings, including public access. States that adopted such laws or amended 33 pre-existing laws that provided some authorization for remote or virtual meetings in 2020-2022 34 include Arkansas, California (teleconference meetings for local agencies; emergency provisions 35 expire December 31, 2023, other provisions take effect January 1, 2024); Connecticut (expires
36 April 30, 2022; as of this writing a bill is pending before the state senate to extend authorization 37 through December 31, 2022), Delaware, Hawaii, Maine, Massachusetts (expires July 15, 2022), 38 Minnesota, Nevada, New York (expires, unless renewed, upon the expiration of Governor 39 Hochul’s executive order #11; that executive order was most recently extended on March 16,

1 2022 for thirty days), North Carolina, Oklahoma (expires February 15, 2022, or thirty days after 2 the expiration of the COVID state of emergency; as of this writing, the Oklahoma legislature is 3 considering a bill to permit remote meetings by “a public body in any county in which the 4 Governor has declared a state of emergency until the emergency declaration expires or is 5 terminated”), Vermont (expires January 15, 2023), and Virginia. This Act would provide a 6 statutory basis for the authorization of virtual meetings during an emergency conditioned on 7 compliance with requirements intended to assure comparable public access and participation.
8

9 The Act uses a state’s open meetings law to provide definitions of “public body” and 10 “meeting.” Different states use different terms – including but not limited to “open meetings,” 11 “sunshine” or “government in the sunshine,” “open doors,” “freedom of information” – for the 12 law that sets the requirements for public observation of meetings of public bodies. The Act’s use 13 of the term “open meetings law” is intended to reach all such laws regardless of how they are 14 referred to in a specific state. The Act uses the open meetings law to define “public body” and 15 “meeting” for several reasons. Most of the executive orders or laws addressing virtual meetings 16 during emergencies have, to date, been operated as exceptions to or amendments of an open 17 meetings law as that is necessary to allow a public body to meet in a physical location that is not 18 publicly accessible. So, too, an important purpose of these orders or laws has been to provide 19 alternative means of public access via electronic technology comparable to the access required 20 by open meetings laws. Moreover, a state’s open meetings law typically includes a 21 comprehensive definition of what the state considers to be its public bodies. Rather than provide 22 a new definition of “public body” consisting of a lengthy list of agencies, authorities, boards, 23 bureaus, commissions, committees, councils, etc. that would surely vary from state to state, the 24 Act incorporates by reference the state’s open meetings law definition.
25

26 The Act also assumes the broad definition of “meeting” – a convening or gathering of a 27 public body to discuss or transact the public’s business – typically found in state open meetings 28 laws.
29

30 The Act uses the term “virtual” to refer to a meeting of a public body conducted by 31 electronic means. The executive orders and state laws that have authorized such meetings more 32 commonly use the term “remote.” However, “remote” may imply that there is an in-person 33 meeting of the public body with only some members participating remotely by electronic means.
34 Indeed, a number of states before the pandemic had adopted laws permitting some members of 35 public bodies to participate remotely in a public meeting that occurred at the public body’s usual 36 physical location. “Virtual” makes it clearer that this Act applies to meetings where there need 37 not be a central gathering. The “one or more” phrase permits the Act to apply in hybrid settings 38 in which some members of the body are at a central location but the meeting involves the use of 39 electronic means to connect them to other members of the body who are participating virtually.
40

41 Section 3. Scope

42 (a) This [act] applies to the conduct of a virtual meeting only while an emergency 43 declaration is in effect.

1 (b) This [act] does not limit or supersede other law authorizing a public body to permit a 2 member of the public body to participate, or a member of the public to observe or participate, by 3 electronic means, in a meeting of the public body, whether or not an emergency declaration is in 4 effect.

5 Comment

6
7 A number of states have laws authorizing remote participation in public meetings by 8 individual members of a public body and some forms of remote observation or participation by 9 members of the public. These laws assume that the meeting of the public body will be in a 10 physical location, and may specify that members of the public body also be at a publicly 11 accessible physical location, such as at a state office building. The Act does not supersede those 12 laws but supplements them with an authorization for an entirely or primarily virtual meeting 13 during an emergency.
14

15 Section 4. Authorization for Virtual Meeting

16 (a) A public body may conduct a virtual meeting while an emergency declaration is in 17 effect that applies to all or part of the jurisdiction of the public body if:

18 (1) the emergency declaration prohibits, limits, or has the effect of prohibiting or 19 limiting an in-person meeting of the public body; or

20 (2) the presiding officer of the public body or other individual authorized ~~by law~~ 21 ~~or rule of the public body~~ to act for the public body:

22 ~~(A)~~ determines it is not practical or prudent for the public body to conduct 23 an in-person meeting because of the emergency; and 24 ~~(B) before the meeting, informs~~

25 (A) communicates to the members of the public body that the meeting will 26 be held virtually; and ~~the~~

27 (B) takes reasonable steps to inform members of the public ~~of that~~ the ~~basis~~ 28 ~~for the determination~~ meeting will be held virtually.

1 (b) An action taken at a virtual meeting that complies with this [act] has the same effect 2 as an action taken at an in-person meeting of the public body.

3 (c) Other law that applies to an in-person meeting of a public body applies, to the extent 4 practicable, to a virtual meeting.

5 Comment

7 Subsection (a) creates a two-part test for authorizing public bodies to meet virtually.
8 First, the individual authorized by state law to declare an emergency has done so with respect to 9 a geographic area that is part of the public body’s jurisdiction. That individual is likely to be the 10 governor, but for local emergencies it could be a county executive, mayor or other local official.
11 Minnesota’s law, for example, requires that “the presiding officer, chief legal counsel, or chief 12 administrative officer for the affected governing body” make the determination that an in-person 13 meeting is “not practical or prudent.” Minn. Stat. Ann. § 13D.021.1 (1). Second, either the 14 emergency declaration itself must have the effect of preventing an in-person meeting – such as 15 by a direct prohibition, a stay-at-home order, or an order limiting the number of people at a 16 gathering – or the presiding officer of the public body or another individual authorized to act for 17 the public body determines that due to the emergency it would be impractical or imprudent for 18 the body to meet.

19
20 The reason for the second requirement is that sometimes emergency declarations remain 21 in effect long past the most acute phase of an emergency. This may be necessary for the area to 22 continue to receive special emergency assistance or because some emergency measures may still 23 be needed. However, it might be possible for the public body to meet in-person. The second 24 requirement addresses that concern. If the emergency declaration in effect continues to have the 25 effect of prohibiting an in-person meeting, the public body may continue to meet virtually.
26 Alternatively, if the emergency declaration by its terms does not have the effect of prohibiting an 27 in-person meeting, a virtual meeting will be authorized only if the public body’s presiding officer 28 or someone else – such as its executive director – determines that it would be impractical or 29 imprudent due to the emergency for the public body to meet and advises the members of the 30 public body and the public of that determination prior to the meeting. As

31
32 With the need authorization for a virtual meeting ~~is~~ triggered by an emergency 33 declaration, ~~it~~ the exigent circumstances of the emergency may ~~not always be possible for~~ 34 interfere with the ability of the presiding officer of the public body or other authorized individual 35 to provide the other members of the public body and members of the public with notification 36 ~~about~~of the change to a virtual format in the manner ordinarily required ~~off~~for notices of meetings 37 of public bodies. ~~The~~ This is most likely to occur with respect to meetings scheduled prior to the 38 issuance of the emergency declaration. This section requires that at a minimum the presiding 39 officer or other authorized individual ~~should use the best means available under the~~ 40 circumstances to inform ~~shall communicate to the~~ other members of the public body and 41 members of the public that a meeting will be held virtually. ~~Thereafter, if the~~ and shall make a 42 reasonable effort so to inform the public. If, however, emergency conditions ~~for a virtual~~

1 ~~meeting set by this section are met, do not interfere with~~ the ability of a public body ~~will need to~~ 2 to comply with notice requirements, it must comply with the notice provisions of Section 8 in 3 addition to any other applicable notice requirements.
4

5 Subsection (b) creates a safe harbor for actions taken at a virtual meeting conducted in 6 accordance with the requirements of the act. The converse will also be true. That is, if the 7 meeting is not conducted in accordance with the requirements of the act, the action taken may 8 not be valid if, under the open meetings law, it would not be valid if taken at an in-person 9 meeting that is not conducted in accordance with the rules for the meeting required by the law.
10

11 Section 5. Conduct of Virtual Meeting

12 (a) A public body shall to the extent practicable select technology to conduct a virtual 13 meeting that is compatible with assistive technology commonly used by people with disabilities 14 and that facilitates the accommodation needs of people with disabilities to access the meeting.

15 (b) Except as provided in subsections (c) and (d), technology used to conduct a virtual 16 meeting must permit each member of the public body who attends the meeting 17 contemporaneously and throughout the meeting to see and hear, and to be seen and heard by, the 18 other members of the public body who attend the meeting.

19 (c) If a member of a public body is unable to obtain visual access to the virtual meeting 20 but is able to obtain audio access that permits the member contemporaneously and throughout 21 the meeting to hear and be heard by the other members of the public body who attend the 22 meeting, the member may attend by audio access.

23 (d) If a public body lacks the capacity to provide contemporaneous visual access to a 24 virtual meeting for members of the public body, the public body may conduct the meeting by 25 audio-only access that permits each member of the public body who attends the meeting 26 contemporaneously and throughout the meeting to hear and be heard by the other members of the 27 public body who attend the meeting.

28 (e) A member of a public body who attends a virtual meeting is considered present for all

1 purposes, including for determination of a quorum and voting, if contemporaneously and 2 throughout the meeting the member can:

3 (1) for a meeting conducted in compliance with subsection (b), see and hear and 4 be seen and heard by the other members of the public body who attend; or 5 (2) for a meeting conducted in compliance with subsection (c) or (d), can hear and 6 be heard by the other members of the public body who attend.

7 (f) A member of a public body who attends a virtual meeting through electronic means 8 that provide audio-only access to the meeting shall state the member’s name each time the 9 member speaks or votes.

10 (g) The minutes of a virtual meeting must include any vote taken, that the meeting was 11 conducted by electronic means, the technology used, and which members of the public body 12 attended by electronic means.

13 Comment

14 The provisions of this Section derive from some of the gubernatorial executive orders or 15 state laws authorizing remote public meetings, adopted between 2020 and 2022. These include: 16 Cal Gov’t Code § 54953; 5 Ill. C.S. 120/7(e), Ind. Code 5-14-1.5-3.7, Ky SB 150, ch. 73, Ls of 17 2020; Me. Rev. Stat. tit. 1, § 403-A; Michigan Gov. E.O. 2020-154 (July 17, 2020); Mich.
18 Comp. L. Ann. § 15.263a; N.J.S.A. § 52:27D-18.11; N.C. Gen. Stat. § 166A-19.24; 25 Okla Stat.
19 § 307.1; Va Code Ann. § 2.2-3708.2; Vt. Laws 2022, No. 78.

20
21 Consistent with Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Rehabilitation 22 Act of 1973, and other applicable law, subsection (a) directs the public body conducting a virtual 23 meeting to select, to the extent practicable, technology that reasonably accommodates the needs 24 of individuals with a disability in accessing the meeting. This applies to access by both members 25 of the public body and members of the public when authorized to observe the meeting under 26 section 6 or to participate under sections 7 or 8. The public body shall furnish appropriate 27 auxiliary aids and services, as defined in 28 C.F.R. § 35.104, to enable individuals with 28 disabilities to effectively participate in or observe a virtual meeting of the public body.

29
30 As subsection (b) indicates, the intent of this section is to require technology that permits 31 the members of the public body attending the meeting to see and hear each other throughout the 32 meeting. However, this may not always be possible. Subsection (c) addresses the situation of a 33 meeting conducted by technology that provides both visual and audio access but where a

1 particular member may not be able to obtain video access. Subsection (d) addresses the situation 2 where the public body as a whole lacks the technical capacity to provide video access. That 3 could be due, for example, to Internet bandwidth limitations in the public body's area. In that 4 case, the virtual meeting may still be conducted using technology that provides only audio 5 access. In any of those events, the member will still be treated as attending for purposes of a 6 quorum and voting. Subsection (g) provides that the type of technology used, e.g., audio-visual 7 or just audio, shall be reflected in the minutes of the virtual meeting.
8

9 Section 6. Public Observation

10 (a) If the open meetings law requires that the public be able to contemporaneously ~~to~~ 11 observe all or part of a meeting of a public body:

12 (1) the public body shall permit the public to contemporaneously ~~to~~ observe a 13 virtual meeting or the part of the virtual meeting that would be required to be open to the public 14 if it were part of an in-person meeting; and 15 (2) the public body shall provide the technological means to allow the members of 16 the public who observe the virtual meeting ~~must be able~~ to see and hear or, if the public body

17 conducts the meeting by audio-only access under Section 5(d), to hear any members of the public 18 authorized by the public body to speak in the meeting.

19 (b) A document, exhibit, or other record presented to a public body at a virtual meeting 20 that, under the open meetings law, would have been available to the public at an in-person 21 meeting, including members of the public observing or participating in a virtual meeting under 22 Section ~~6~~7, must be made available to the public contemporaneously with the virtual meeting; to 23 the extent practicable.

24 Comment

25 This Section confirms that the state's open meetings law applies to a virtual meeting to 26 the same extent as it would to a comparable in-person meeting. If a meeting, or a portion of 27 meeting, such as a closed session, would not be open to the public under the state's open 28 meetings law, that meeting or portion would not be open when conducted virtually. The form of 29 public observation will inevitably be affected by the nature of the technology used. For a meeting 30 conducted by audio-only technology because, under section 5, the public body lacks the capacity

1 for an audio-visual meeting, public observation may be limited to listening to the meeting. Public 2 observation of the meeting requires that the members of the public body, depending on the 3 technology used, be visible and audible, or audible, to the members of the public observing the 4 meeting. As noted in the comment to section 5, appropriate auxiliary aids and services shall be 5 made available to afford individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to observe the virtual 6 meeting. Paragraph (a)(2) is intended to confirm that members of the public who have a right to 7 observe the virtual meeting also have a right to observe members of the public – such as 8 government officials, staff of the public body, experts, witnesses, or parties to a proceeding 9 before the public body – that the public body has invited or authorized to address the public 10 body. Any documents or exhibits considered by members of the public body may be provided by 11 making those documents or exhibits available for inspection separately from the meeting, such as 12 by posting them to the public body’s website. Any such document shall be provided in a format 13 accessible to individuals with disabilities.

14

15 Section 7. Public Participation

16 (a) If a law of this state or a political subdivision of the state or a rule, practice, or 17 procedure adopted by the public body requires that members of the public be permitted to 18 participate in a meeting of the public body, the public body to the extent practicable shall permit 19 members of the public to participate in a virtual meeting, subject to the conditions that apply at 20 an in-person meeting of the public body.

21 (b) If members of the public are permitted to speak at a virtual meeting, the technology 22 used to conduct the meeting must permit the members of the public body and members of the 23 public attending the meeting to hear the members of the public who speak at the meeting.

24 (c) If a public body considers at a virtual meeting a matter affecting the right or interest 25 of a person entitled by other law of the state or a political subdivision of ~~the~~ this state or by rule 26 of the public body to participate, present evidence, or examine or cross-examine witnesses at an 27 in-person meeting, the public body shall permit the person to use the same technology that the 28 public body uses to conduct the virtual meeting, or provide equivalent access, to attend the 29 meeting and present evidence, or examine or cross-examine witnesses in the meeting.

30 (d) If a person to which subsection (c) applies objects that a virtual meeting will deny the

1 person due process of law, the public body may proceed with the matter in the virtual meeting 2 only if the public body considers the objection and determines that the virtual meeting provides 3 the person due process. The determination and the reason for the determination must be stated in 4 a record.

5 Comment

6 Subsections (a) and (b) address the situation in which members of the public have a right 7 to provide comments at the meeting of a public body, either orally or in writing. This right to 8 participate may derive not from an open meetings law but from some other law, such as an 9 administrative procedure act, another law dealing with the operations of state and local public 10 bodies, or the organic law governing the specific public body. Compliance with public comment 11 requirements may require flexible arrangements. For example, the public body could provide for 12 the submission of written comments by e-mail or text message in advance of, or within a limited 13 time after, the virtual meeting. As noted in the comment to section 5, appropriate auxiliary aids 14 and services shall be made available to afford individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity 15 to observe the virtual meeting.

16
17 Subsections (c) and (d) address the situation in which the action of the public body will 18 so affect the rights or interests of a specific member of the public that they have a due process
19 right to be heard at the meeting. These are commonly referred to as quasi-adjudicative 20 proceedings, and typically involve land use matters such as variances, special use permits, and 21 site-specific rezonings, but may also include the grant (or revocation) of licenses, franchises, 22 permits, or benefits. Georgia and North Carolina would bar quasi-adjudicative action at a virtual 23 proceeding unless all persons whose interests are affected agree. The North Carolina law also 24 requires that the right to a hearing occur during the emergency. This Act follows the approach of 25 New Jersey’s virtual meeting law, which does not require the consent of the parties or that a 26 decision must be made during the emergency. The Act anticipates, however, that the public body 27 will undertake a “totality of the circumstances” examination to determine whether a virtual 28 meeting could provide due process as required by an administrative rule adopted by New 29 Jersey’s Division of Local Government concerning whether a land use board can conduct a 30 public hearing on a development application virtually: “Before holding a public hearing on an 31 application for development during a remote public meeting, a land use board shall determine 32 whether electronic communication technology can sufficiently facilitate due process of the 33 applicant and any interested party, including the ability to examine exhibits, transcribe testimony 34 and cross-examine witnesses, as well as the ability of the public to comment upon the 35 application. Factors in making this determination shall include, at minimum, the scale of the 36 project, the number of approvals requested, the degree of public interest, and the number of 37 potential objectors.” N.J.A.C. 5:39-1.7(a). The public body should also consider the 38 consequences of delay until an in-person meeting can be held. Consistent with the comment to 39 section 5, appropriate auxiliary aids and services shall be made available to afford individuals 40 with disabilities entitled to present evidence and examine or cross-examine witnesses during the 41 meeting an equal opportunity to do so.

1 The requirements of this section apply not only when the member of the public affected 2 by the public body is participating virtually but also when the member of the public and some 3 members of the public body are present at an in-person meeting of the public body but one or 4 more members of the public body are participating virtually under this act.
5

6 Section 8. Notice

7 (a) In addition to any other requirement concerning notice a public body must give for a 8 meeting of the public body, notice of a virtual meeting must specify that the meeting will be a 9 virtual meeting, ~~the reason provided pursuant to section 4(a)(2)(B) that the meeting will be a~~ 10 ~~virtual meeting~~, and the technology that will be used for the virtual meeting.

11 (b) Notice of a virtual meeting ~~under Section 6~~ must specify how ~~a member~~ 12 (1) members of the public ~~may permitted to~~ observe the meeting 13 contemporaneously: pursuant to Section 6 may do so;

14 ~~(c) Notice of a virtual meeting under Section 7 must specify how a member~~ 15 (2) members of the public ~~may permitted to~~ participate, present evidence, or 16 examine or cross-examine witnesses at the meeting: pursuant to Section 7 may do so;

17 ~~(d) Notice under subsections (b) and (c) must specify how:~~

18 ~~(1)~~ (3) a member of the public may alert the public body of a technical 19 problem that prevents the member from accessing the meeting; and 20 ~~(2)~~ (4) a member of the public with a disability may request the auxiliary 21 equipment or services necessary to permit the member to access the meeting.

22 Comment

23 As noted in the comment to Section 4, the exigent circumstances underlying the 24 declaration of emergency that triggers the authorization for a virtual meeting may interfere with 25 the ability of a public body to comply with statutory requirements governing how notice is to be 26 given, particularly for meetings scheduled prior to the issuance of the emergency declaration or

1 Comment

2
3 The federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, popularly 4 known as “E-Sign”, was adopted in 2000 to facilitate the use of electronic records and signatures 5 in commercial transactions. Subject to exceptions not relevant here, E-Sign mandates the 6 acceptance of electronic contracts and electronic signatures in interstate or foreign commerce. It 7 largely tracks the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, adopted by the ULC in 1999, but 8 includes consumer consent provisions and prohibits state law from giving greater legal effect to 9 any specific technology or technical specification. Under Section 102 of E-Sign, state legislation 10 attempting to regulate electronic records and signatures can opt out of federal preemption, 11 allowing some modification to the federal law, so long as the State treats the records or 12 signatures consistent with E-Sign. In order to take advantage of the exception to preemption, the 13 state law must make specific reference to E-Sign as provided in this Section. See 15 U.S.C.
14 Section 7002(a)(2)(B).
