EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Background. Article II of the Uniform Probate Code was extensively revised in the early 1990s. When those provisions were revised, it was understood that the UPC sections dealing with the parent-child relationship were in need of further revision, but time constraints prevented a thorough consideration of what exactly was needed. Since then, the problem of children of assisted reproduction, especially posthumous conception, has become an issue that has come to the fore.

Scope of Project. Assisted reproduction and posthumous conception are not the only topics that are to be considered. The following table lists the specific sections of the UPC that are in need of revision or are to be added, and the tentative action needed. A separate handout sets forth all of the current UPC sections on intestacy (Article II, Part 1), with those sections to be revised in boldface.

TABLE SHOWING SECTIONS TO BE REVISED OR ADDED

UPC Section	Needed Action (Tentative)
2-103 (Share of Heirs Other than the Surviving Spouse)	Perhaps revise to qualify certain unadopted stepchildren to inherit if the decedent is not survived by a surviving spouse, descendants, parents, or descendants of parents.
2-104 (Requirement that Heir Survive Decedent by 120 Hours)	Revise so that it clearly applies to an individual born before the decedent's death.
2-107 (Kindred of Half Blood)	Perhaps revise to exclude half blood relatives who are unknown or did not grow up in household of same biological parent.
2-108 (Afterborn Heirs)	Revise so that it clearly applies to an individual in gestation at the decedent's death.
2-113 (Individual Related to Decedent Through Two Lines)	Revise so that it applies to an individual who is related to the decedent in two different categories rather than in two different lines (e.g., an adopted grandchild would become a child).
2-114 (Parent and Child Relationship)	2-114 is a confusing section that inadequately addresses different questions of status. The better course is to replace this section with a series of new sections, each one cleanly targeted to a different category, as follows:
	New 2-114 (Parent Barred from Inheriting in Certain Circumstances). This new section would bar a parent from inheriting if parental rights terminated, if parent abandoned child, etc.

	New 2-115 (Marital and Nonmarital Children). This new section would provide that nonmarital child inherits same as marital child (current 2-114 already so provides, so this is not a change in substance).
	New 2-116 (Adopted Individual). This new section would provide that adopted individual inherits from adopting parent(s) and adopting family, and also from biological parent in limited circumstances, such as adoption by stepparent, members of one side of family after death or incapacity of parent, by nominated guardian, etc. (similar to but more comprehensive than current 2-114).
	New 2-117 (When Unadopted Stepchild Treated as Adopted). This new section would provide that an unadopted stepchild is treated as adopted if the stepparent attempted to adopt the child and if certain other requirements are satisfied.
	New 2-118 (Child of Assisted Reproduction). This new section would provide that a child of assisted reproduction inherits from parent who consented in a record to be parent of child or who functioned as parent of child (similar to but less restrictive than the requirement of UPA 707); if child conceived posthumously, impose three year limit on birth or conception.
	New 2-119 (Child Born to a Surrogate or Gestational Mother). This new section would provide that a child born to a gestational (surrogate) mother is child of intended parent (consistent with UPA).
	Add New Bracketed section that would require any entity receiving human genetic material that could be used for conception to provide consent form that would satisfy requirements of new 2-118. (This new section, copied substantially from new California statute, is extremely important because the JEB-UTEA's Director of Research collected forms currently used by fertility clinics, and none of the forms would satisfy new 2-118 or UPA 707.)
	New 3-916 would authorize the decedent's personal representative to delay distribution of decedent's estate upon notice that decedent's surviving spouse [or legally recognized unmarried partner] intends to use genetic material of decedent for pregnancy, but limit the possible delay in distribution to cases in which the posthumous birth of the child would make a difference in the distribution of the decedent's estate.

2-705 (Class Gifts Construed to Accord with Intestate Succession)	Revise to deal with status of children of assisted reproduction for purposes of a class gift; subsection codifying class-closing rules also to be added.
UPA 707 (Parental Status of Deceased Individual)	A conforming amendment would align this section with the UPC provisions.

CURRENT UPC SECTIONS TO BE AMENDED OR REPLACED

§ 2-103. Share of Heirs other than Surviving Spouse. Any part of the intestate estate not passing to the decedent's surviving spouse under Section 2-102, or the entire intestate estate if there is no surviving spouse, passes in the following order to the individuals designated below who survive the decedent:

(1) to the decedent's descendants by representation;

(2) if there is no surviving descendant, to the decedent's parents equally if both survive, or to the surviving parent;

(3) if there is no surviving descendant or parent, to the descendants of the decedent's parents or either of them by representation;

(4) if there is no surviving descendant, parent, or descendant of a parent, but the decedent is survived by one or more grandparents or descendants of grandparents, half of the estate passes to the decedent's paternal grandparents equally if both survive, or to the surviving paternal grandparent, or to the descendants of the decedent's paternal grandparents or either of them if both are deceased, the descendants taking by representation; and the other half passes to the decedent's maternal relatives in the same manner; but if there is no surviving grandparent or descendant of a grandparent on either the paternal or the maternal side, the entire estate passes to the decedent's relatives on the other side in the same manner as the half.

§ 2-104. Requirement that Heir Survive Decedent for 120 Hours. An individual who fails to survive the decedent by 120 hours is deemed to have predeceased the decedent for purposes of homestead allowance, exempt property, and intestate succession, and the decedent's heirs are determined accordingly. If it is not established by clear and convincing evidence that an individual who would otherwise be an heir survived the decedent by 120 hours, it is deemed that the individual failed to survive for the required period. This section is not to be applied if its application would result in a taking of intestate estate by the state under Section 2-105.

§ 2-107. Kindred of Half Blood. Relatives of the half blood inherit the same share they would inherit if they were of the whole blood.

§ 2-108. Afterborn Heirs. An individual in gestation at a particular time is treated as living at that time if the individual lives 120 hours or more after birth.

§ 2-113. Individuals Related to Decedent Through Two Lines. An individual who is related to the decedent through two lines of relationship is entitled to only a single share based on the relationship that would entitle the individual to the larger share.

§ 2-114. Parent and Child Relationship.

(a) Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), for purposes of intestate succession by, through, or from a person, an individual is the child of his [or her] natural parents, regardless of their marital status. The parent and child relationship may be established under [the Uniform Parentage Act] [applicable state law] [insert appropriate statutory reference].

(b) An adopted individual is the child of his [or her] adopting parent or parents and not of his [or her] natural parents, but adoption of a child by the spouse of either natural parent has no effect on (i) the relationship between the child and that natural parent or (ii) the right of the child or a descendant of the child to inherit from or through the other natural parent.

(c) Inheritance from or through a child by either natural parent or his [or her] kindred is precluded unless that natural parent has openly treated the child as his [or hers], and has not refused to support the child.

§ 2-705. Class Gifts Construed to Accord With Intestate Succession.

(a) Adopted individuals and individuals born out of wedlock, and their respective descendants if appropriate to the class, are included in class gifts and other terms of relationship in accordance with the rules for intestate succession. Terms of relationship that do not differentiate relationships by blood from those by affinity, such as “uncles,” “aunts,” “nieces,” or “nephews,” are construed to exclude relatives by affinity. Terms of relationship that do not differentiate relationships by the half blood from those by the whole blood, such as “brothers,” “sisters,” “nieces,” or “nephews,” are construed to include both types of relationships.

(b) In addition to the requirements of subsection (a), in construing a dispositive provision of a transferor who is not the natural parent, an individual born to the natural parent is not considered the child of that parent unless the individual lived while a minor as a regular member of the household of that natural parent or of that parent’s parent, brother, sister, spouse, or surviving spouse.

(c) In addition to the requirements of subsection (a), in construing a dispositive provision of a transferor who is not the adopting parent, an adopted individual is not considered the child of the adopting parent unless the adopted individual lived while a minor, either before or after the adoption, as a regular member of the household of the adopting parent.

1 SECTION 2-104. REQUIREMENT THAT HEIR SURVIVE DECEDENT FOR 120 HOURS;
2 AFTERBORN HEIRS.

3 (a) An individual who was born before the decedent's death but who fails to survive the decedent
4 by 120 hours is deemed to have predeceased the decedent for purposes of homestead allowance,
5 exempt property, and intestate succession, and the decedent's heirs are determined accordingly. If 6 it is not established by clear and convincing evidence that an individual who would otherwise be an 7 heir survived the decedent by 120 hours, it is deemed that the individual failed to survive for the 8 required period. This section is not to be applied if its application would result in a taking of intestate
9 estate by the state under Section 2-105.

10 (b) An individual who was in gestation at the decedent's death is treated as living at the 11 decedent's death if the individual lives 120 hours after birth.

12 (c) This section applies for purposes of homestead allowance, exempt property, and intestate
13 succession, and the decedent's heirs are determined accordingly. If it is not established by clear and 14 convincing evidence that (i) an individual who was born before the decedent's death survived the 15 decedent by 120 hours for purposes of subsection (a) or (ii) an individual who was in gestation at 16 the decedent's death lived 120 hours after birth for purposes of subsection (b), it is deemed that the 17 individual failed to survive for the required period.

18 (d) This section is not to be applied if its application would result in a taking of intestate estate
19 by the state under Section 2-105.

1 § 2-107. ~~KINDRED RELATIVES OF HALF BLOOD.~~ Relatives of the half blood inherit the
2 same share they would inherit if they were of the whole blood.

3
4 NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: Consider the following example: A and B were married
5 and had two children, X and Y. A and B got divorced and B was awarded custody of X and Y. B married C.
6 A married D. B and C had a child, Z. A and D had a child, V.

7 X died intestate, survived by V, Y, and Z. A, B, C, and D predeceased X. Under current UPC §§ 2-103
8 and -107, X's heirs are V, Y, and Z. If C had adopted X and Y, however, current UPC § 2-114 (and proposed 9 § 2-116(d)(2), infra page 16), V would not take.

11 [space to draw chart]

12
13
14
15 The problem is whether V should inherit from X. Why should whether C adopted X and Y make a 16 difference?

17 Ralph C. Brashier, Consanguinity, Sibling Relationships, and the Default Rules of Inheritance Law: Reshaping Half-blood Statutes to Reflect the Evolving Family, 58 SMU L. Rev. 137 (2005), looks at cases 18 like the above and other cases, and argues that 2-107 should be revised.

20 Note that the UPC 2-103(3), supra page 2, would also have to be amended if we decide to change our 21 rule on half-blood relatives. Section 2-103(3) provides that intestate rights go "to the descendants of the 22 decedent's parents or either of them by representation" if the intestate is not survived by a spouse,
23 descendant, or parent.

24 Here is an excerpt from the Brashier article (footnotes omitted):

25
26 What kinds of objective evidence would indicate that a decedent considered his half-blood sibling
27 to be a member of his family who should inherit from his intestate estate? Some of the considerations
28 that scholars have proposed for evaluating committed unmarried partner relationships could be
29 instructive in the sibling context. Cohabitation of adult siblings at the time one dies is objective evidence
30 that the two considered themselves family. If they pooled their financial resources in bank accounts, real
31 estate, or other investments, this too is some evidence of the survivor's status as a "true" sibling. On the 32 other hand, clear evidence that the decedent was unaware of a half-blood sibling's existence certainly 33 indicates that no close family relationship existed between the two. Of course, drawing conclusions from 34 these examples is simple, because they lie at the extremes.

35 The harder cases are those in the middle, in which the decedent knew his half-blood siblings but 36 failed to leave unequivocal evidence of his ties to them. One objective inquiry that a probate court might 37 consider in determining whether the decedent would want such half-blood siblings (or their issue) as 38 heirs is whether the decedent had a "shared upbringing" with the half-blood siblings during a significant 39 part of her childhood. The "shared upbringing" inquiry would often exclude the half-blood sibling if a 40 wide age gap exists between the decedent and him, because either the decedent or he will be grown and 41 out of the household before the other is born. Yet if shared upbringing fosters sibling relationships, then
42 perhaps the typical decedent would not want the much younger or much older half-blood sibling to share

1 his estate.

2 Legislatures would have to define "shared upbringing" carefully to use that criterion as an objective
3 standard. Presumably two half-blood siblings who shared a principal residence with the common parent
4 would have a shared upbringing. To further refine the determination by objective parameters, the 5 legislature could place time considerations in the definition. For example, "shared upbringing" could 6 provide that the half-blood sibling is to be treated as a whole-blood sibling if the decedent and the 7 half-blood sibling are reared in the same household for at least forty-five days of the year in at least three
8 years of the decedent's childhood. Thus if two half-blood siblings spent at least three school years
9 together in the home of their mother, they would have a shared upbringing. If one of the children also 10 spent most of a summer, several long holidays, or numerous weekends with his father and paternal
11 half-blood siblings, that child could also have a shared upbringing with his paternal half-blood siblings.
12 Nonetheless, strict adherence to these requirements could unfairly exclude some half-blood siblings
13 whom the decedent considered family. To account for such problems, state legislatures could include
14 limited judicial discretion in the statutory scheme as a safety valve. For example, the statute could afford 15 those half-blood siblings who cannot satisfy the shared upbringing test the alternative of proving 16 "significant family interaction" with the decedent.

17 Although a limited objective approach to half-blood relationships might provide better results than 18 existing pure objective probate schemes, convincing state legislatures to take this path would probably 19 be difficult. To date, even when states have extended probate's default rules to acknowledge society's 20 broadening view of family, they have continued to rely primarily on cut-and-dried rules. For example,
21 states that have extended the default rules of intestate succession to unmarried surviving partners have 22 generally placed severe restrictions on eligibility, requiring a public filing or registration to verify the 23 existence of the relationship. In light of states' dogged adherence to fixed, box-like rules, perhaps our 24 best hope concerning half-bloods and inheritance rules is that more states will begin to provide pure
25 objective solutions that reflect the need for compromise.

26
27 Professor Brashier suggests the following statute:

28
29 (1) A relative of the half-blood does not inherit from the decedent unless the relative proves,

30 (a) by a preponderance of the evidence, the existence of a shared upbringing

31 (i) between the half-blood relative and the decedent; or

32 (ii) between a predeceased ancestor of the half-blood relative and the decedent; or

33 (iii) between a predeceased ancestor of the half-blood relative and a predeceased ancestor of the 34 decedent; or,

35 (b) by clear and convincing evidence, the existence of significant interaction between the half-blood
36 relative and the decedent demonstrating that the decedent considered the half-blood relative to be a member
37 of the decedent's family.

38 (2) "Shared upbringing" means cohabitation with the decedent or the decedent's predeceased ancestor
39 for at least forty-five days in each of three years during the minority of the decedent or the decedent's
40 predeceased ancestor. The forty-five days of cohabitation may be satisfied by continuous cohabitation or by 41 combining multiple shorter periods of cohabitation including holidays, weekends, and overnight stays.

42 (3) "Significant interaction" means acts or events sufficient to indicate that the decedent acknowledged
43 and considered the half-blood claimant as family.

44 (4) "Ancestor of the half-blood relative" means lineal ancestors of the claimant whose relationship with 45 the decedent or the decedent's predeceased ancestors was also of the half-blood.

46 (5) "Ancestor of the decedent" means lineal ancestors of the decedent whose relationship with the 47 claimant or the predeceased ancestors of the claimant was also of the half-blood.

1 (6) A relative of the half-blood who satisfies the requirements of paragraph (1) inherits as though he or 2 she were a relative of the whole-blood.
3

4 Comment

5 The current majority approach to half-bloods and inheritance includes half-blood relatives without 6 inquiry. This draft statute includes half-blood relatives who satisfy either (a) the minimal requirements for 7 "shared upbringing" or (b) the more demanding requirements for establishing a family connection directly
8 with the decedent by "significant interaction." The statute would exclude the claims of previously unknown
9 half-blood survivors such as those in In re Griswold, 24 P.3d 1191, 1192 (Cal. 2001) (recognizing a right of 10 half-siblings to inherit from an intestate decedent and thus reducing the inheritance of his wife, even though 11 the decedent had never met half-blood siblings, was apparently unaware of their existence, and the 12 half-siblings were unaware of the decedent until after his death).

13 To further limit the probate determination to objective facts, a state legislature may specify acts or events
14 that indicate "significant interaction." These might include, for example, cohabitation, intermingling of 15 finances, frequent visits and phone calls, the regular exchange of holiday or birthday cards and gifts, and so
16 forth. Alternatively, a legislature troubled by this prong of the statute may simply limit the inheritance rights
17 of half-bloods to scenarios involving a shared upbringing. Paragraph (1)(a) applies primarily to the claimant
18 who is a half-sibling of the decedent. It is not limited to that scenario, however, and thus other half-blood
19 relatives who had a shared upbringing with the decedent could be entitled to inherit under this paragraph.
20 Paragraph (1)(b) applies primarily when the claimant's predeceased ancestor was the half-sibling of the 21 decedent. Paragraph (1)(c) permits inheritance by distant half-blood relations when the family half-blood
22 division began before the generation in which the decedent was born. For example, if the decedent's
23 predeceased mother and the claimant's predeceased grandmother were half-sisters who had a shared
24 upbringing, the claimant could satisfy the statute. Legislatures troubled by the potential tracing problems
25 presented when the half-blood relationship originated with an ancestor of the decedent may simply limit the 26 inheritance rights of surviving half-bloods to those in which the claimants or their ancestors had a shared 27 upbringing with the decedent.

28 Although the term "lineal" before "ancestor" in the definition of ancestors in paragraphs (4) and (5) may 29 seem obvious or even redundant, its placement prevents a claimant from asserting the 30 occasionally-encountered usage in which an ancestor refers to collaterals of preceding generations. See, e.g.,
31 Black's Law Dictionary 84 (6th ed. 1990). The seventh edition of Black's makes it perfectly clear that using
32 the term ascendant (or ancestor) to refer to collateral forbears is "loose" usage. Black's Law Dictionary 108
33 (7th ed. 1999).

34 "Ancestor of the half-blood relative" and "ancestor of the decedent" are further defined to indicate that
35 tracing the relationship in question cannot go beyond the generation in which the half-blood family division
36 first occurred. Since all half-blood relationships begin at the sibling level, tracing back to the source of the 37 half-blood split must end there.
38

40 NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: One problem that I see in the above statute is that, in the 41 example on page 9, Z might not inherit from X if X had reached adulthood when Z was born. Instead of 42 "shared a common upbringing," would a term like "brought up in the household of the same genetic parent"
43 or something like that produce a better result?
44

1 NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: Section 2-108 is not deleted, but has been moved to 2 section 2-104(b).

4 SECTION 2-108. [RESERVED.] ~~AFTERBORN HEIRS.~~ An individual in gestation at a particular
5 ~~time is treated as living at that time death if the individual lives 120 hours or more after birth.~~

8 SECTION 2-113. INDIVIDUALS RELATED TO DECEDENT THROUGH TWO OR MORE
9 LINES OR CATEGORIES OF RELATIONSHIP. An individual who is related to the decedent
10 through two or more lines or categories of relationship is entitled to only a single share based on the 11 relationship that would entitle the individual to the larger share.

1 [Current Section 2-114 (following) is deleted]

2 ~~§ 2-114. PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP.~~

3 ~~—(a) Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c), for purposes of intestate succession by,~~
4 ~~through, or from a person, an individual is the child of his [or her] natural parents, regardless of their~~
5 ~~marital status. The parent and child relationship may be established under [the Uniform Parentage~~
6 ~~Act] [applicable state law] [insert appropriate statutory reference].~~

7 ~~—(b) An adopted individual is the child of his [or her] adopting parent or parents and not of his [or~~
8 ~~her] natural parents, but adoption of a child by the spouse of either natural parent has no effect on~~
9 ~~(i) the relationship between the child and that natural parent or (ii) the right of the child or a~~
10 ~~descendant of the child to inherit from or through the other natural parent.~~

11 ~~—(c) Inheritance from or through a child by either natural parent or his [or her] kindred is~~
12 ~~precluded unless that natural parent has openly treated the child as his [or hers], and has not refused~~
13 ~~to support the child.~~

1           Current Section 2-114 (preceding page) is replaced by the following new sections:

2   SECTION 2-114. PARENT BARRED FROM INHERITING IN CERTAIN
3   CIRCUMSTANCES. A parent who has refused to acknowledge or has abandoned his or her child,
4   or a person whose parental rights have been terminated, is barred from inheriting from or through
5   the child. For purposes of intestate succession by, from, or through the deceased child, a parent who 6   is barred from inheriting under this section is treated as if he [or she] predeceased the child.

7   NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: A recent law review article argues that barring
8   inheritance for termination of parental rights is too broad. I have not read the full article, but the 9   author argues for granting the judge discretion whether to bar inheritance. The article is Richard Lewis
10   Brown, Undeserving Heirs?--the Case of the "Terminated" Parent, University of Richmond Law Review
11   (January, 2006).
12   I doubt that we would want to inject judicial discretion into the UPC intestacy statute, but perhaps we should 13   distinguish among the various grounds for terminating parental rights. For example, suppose the mother and 14   child were involved in an automobile accident, and both survived but the mother was so physically disabled
15   that she could not fulfill parental duties. I'm not sure whether that would be grounds for terminating her
16   parental rights, but if so, she probably should not be barred from inheriting. It might be different if she were 17   drunk and her drunken condition were the cause of the accident.

1 SECTION 2-115. PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP; MARITAL AND
2 NONMARITAL CHILDREN.

3 (a) This section applies for purposes of determining the status of a marital or a nonmarital child
4 under [this Part] [the laws of intestate succession].

5 (b) Except as provided in Sections 2-118 and 2-119 (relating to children of assisted 6 reproduction), an individual is the child of his [or her] genetic parents, regardless of their marital 7 status. The genetic parent and child relationship may be established under [Articles 1 through 6 of 8 the Uniform Parentage Act] [applicable state law] [insert appropriate statutory reference].

9

1    SECTION 2-116. PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP; ADOPTED INDIVIDUAL.

2           (a) This section applies for purposes of determining the status of an adopted individual under
3 [this Part] [the laws of intestate succession].

4           (b) An adopted individual is the child of his [or her] adopting parent or parents.

5           (c) Except as provided in subsections (d) and (e), an adopted individual is not the child of his [or 6 her] genetic parents.

7           (d) An individual who is adopted by the spouse [or by the legally recognized domestic partner]
8 of either genetic parent continues to be the child of:

9               (1) that genetic parent; and

10              (2) the other genetic parent, but only for purposes of intestate succession from or through that 11 other genetic parent.

12           (e) An individual who, after the death or incapacity of, or after the abandonment or ceasing or 13 failure to discharge parental responsibilities or functions by, either genetic parent, is adopted by any 14 of the following continues to be the child of both genetic parents:

15               (1) a relative of either genetic parent or the spouse or surviving spouse of such a relative;

16               (2) an individual nominated by either genetic parent to be the child’s guardian; or

17               (3) [an individual who is acquainted with either genetic parent]

18    [NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: We need a better formulation here, such as maintained
19 a continuing family relationship or something like that, and also should the child be the child of both
20 genetic parents or of the genetic parent of a family in which the continguing family relationship
21 continues? On this latter point, see how Restatement § 14.6 treats this situation, infra page 27.]
22

23           (f) If a child was adopted more than once, the term “genetic parent” in subsections (d) and (e)
24 includes a “previous adoptive parent.”

1 SECTION 2-117. PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP; WHEN UNADOPTED
2 STEPCHILD TREATED AS ADOPTED.

3 (a) This section applies for purposes of determining the status of an unadopted stepchild under
4 [this Part] [the laws of intestate succession].

5 (b) A stepchild is treated as a child who has been adopted by his [or her] stepparent if:

6 (1) the relationship began during the child's minority and continued throughout the lifetime
7 of the stepparent; and

8 (2) it is established by clear and convincing evidence that the stepparent would, during the 9 child's minority, have adopted the child but for a legal barrier.

10 (c) This section does not affect or limit application of the judicial doctrine of equitable adoption.
11

1 SECTION 2-118. PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP; CHILD OF ASSISTED
2 REPRODUCTION.

3 (a) This section applies for purposes of intestate succession by, through, or from a child conceived
4 by means of assisted reproduction by a woman other than a gestational or surrogate mother.

5 (b) In this section:

6 (1) “assisted reproduction” means a method of causing pregnancy other than sexual 7 intercourse. The term includes:

8 (A) intrauterine insemination;

9 (B) donation of eggs;

10 (C) donation of embryos;

11 (D) in-vitro fertilization and transfer of embryos; and

12 (E) intracytoplasmic sperm injection.

13 (2) “[Third-party] Donor” means an individual who produces eggs or sperm used for assisted 14 reproduction, whether or not for consideration. The term does not include:

15 (A) a husband who provides sperm, or a wife who provides eggs, to be used for assisted
16 reproduction by the wife;

17 (B) a woman who gives birth to a child by means of assisted reproduction other than a 18 gestational or surrogate mother; or

19 (C) a parent under subsection (d).

20 (3) “functioned as the child’s parent” means performing functions that are customarily
21 performed by a parent.

22 (c) A child who is conceived by means of assisted reproduction is not the child of a [third-party]

1 donor.

2 (d) Except as provided in subsections (e) and (f), a child who is conceived by means of assisted 3 reproduction is a child of:

4 (1) a person who consented in a record to be the child's parent; or

5 (2) in the absence of consent in a record to be the child's parent, a person who functioned as 6 the child's parent or was prevented from doing so by an event such as death or incapacity. If the 7 child is produced for a married person [or for a person in a legally recognized domestic 8 partnership], and the couple are not separated and no divorce or annulment proceedings or 9 dissolution are pending, it is presumed that both spouses [or partners] consented to be the child's 10 parent.

11 (e) If a marriage [or a legally recognized domestic partnership] is dissolved before placement of 12 eggs, sperm, or embryos, the resulting child is not a child of the former spouse [or partner] unless 13 the former spouse [or partner] consented in a record that if assisted reproduction were to occur after 14 a dissolution of the marriage [or partnership], the child would be the child of the former spouse [or 15 partner].

16 (f) If, in a record, a man or a woman withdraws consent to assisted reproduction before
17 placement of eggs, sperm, or embryos, the resulting child is not a child of that individual.

18 [NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: Do we want to require the storage facility and/or 19 other partner to be notified of the withdrawal of consent ??]

20
21 (g) If the intestate decedent is the child's deceased parent, the decedent's child produced
22 posthumously by assisted reproduction is treated as in gestation at the decedent's death for purposes
23 of Section 2-104(b), if the child was [born] [conceived] within three years after the decedent's death.

1 If the intestate decedent is someone other than the child's parent, a child produced posthumously by
2 assisted reproduction is in gestation on the date of conception for purposes of Section 2-104(b).

3 NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: Three years is chosen because that is the period allowed
4 by Section 3-1006 for an after-discovered heir to recover property from any distributee.

5
6 (h) A child of assisted reproduction is a marital child if the child is produced for a married
7 couple, before or after the decedent-spouse's death.

8 NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE: Do we want to require that a child must be produced by 9 genetic material of the decedent deposited before death? I can think of cases in which this restriction
10 would be too restrictive, such as where husband and wife arranged for the wife to be inseminated
11 by a third party donor, but the husband dies before the procedure is commenced or is successful. Or,
12 arranged for a surrogate mother, but the decedent dies before the surrogate mother become pregnant.
13 Other cases should also come to mind, such as cases in which a widow arranges to have her deceased
14 husband's sperm "harvested" after death so she can become pregnant with his child.

15
16 COMMENT

17 To produce a baby by assisted reproduction, you need sperm, eggs, and a womb. [To be 18 continued.]

1 SECTION 2-119. PARENT AND CHILD RELATIONSHIP; CHILD BORN TO A
2 GESTATIONAL OR SURROGATE MOTHER.

3 (a) This section applies for purposes of intestate succession by, through, or from a child
4 conceived by means of assisted reproduction by a gestational or surrogate mother.

5 (b) In this section:

6 (1) “gestational or surrogate mother” means a woman who gives birth to a child under a
7 [valid] gestational or surrogacy agreement [under the Uniform Parentage Act].

8 (2) “intended parent” is an individual who entered into an agreement providing that he [or 9 she] will be the parent of a child born to a gestational or surrogate mother by means of assisted 10 reproduction, whether or not he [or she] has a genetic relationship with the child.

11 (c) A child who is born by means of assisted reproduction to a gestational or surrogate mother
12 is the child of an intended parent and not of the gestational or surrogate mother for purposes of 13 intestate succession by, through, or from an intended parent.

14

1 SECTION 3-916. DELAYED DISTRIBUTION IN CASE OF POSSIBLE POSTHUMOUS
2 CONCEPTION.

3 The personal representative [shall] [may] delay distribution of the decedent's estate if:

4 (a) the personal representative has received notice or has knowledge that the decedent's surviving
5 spouse [or legally recognized domestic partner] intends to use genetic material to produce a child
6 after the decedent's death; and

7 (b) the posthumous birth of a child of assisted reproduction will have an effect on the distribution
8 of the decedent's estate.

9

1 SECTION 2-705. CLASS GIFTS CONSTRUED TO ACCORD WITH INTESTATE
2 SUCCESSION.

3 (a) Adopted individuals, ~~and~~ individuals born out of wedlock, stepchildren, children of assisted
4 reproduction, and children born to a gestational or surrogate mother, and their respective descendants
5 if appropriate to the class, are included in class gifts and other terms of relationship in accordance
6 with the rules for intestate succession. Terms of relationship that do not differentiate relationships
7 by blood from those by affinity, such as “uncles,” “aunts,” “nieces,” or “nephews,” are construed to 8 exclude relatives by affinity. Terms of relationship that do not differentiate relationships by the half 9 blood from those by the whole blood, such as “brothers,” “sisters,” “nieces,” or “nephews,” are 10 construed to include both types of relationships.

11 (b) In addition to the requirements of subsection (a), in construing a dispositive provision of a
12 transferor who is not the ~~natural~~ genetic parent, an individual born to the ~~natural~~ genetic parent is 13 not considered the child of that parent unless the individual lived while a minor as a regular member
14 of the household of that ~~natural~~ genetic parent or of that parent’s parent, brother, sister, spouse, or 15 surviving spouse.

16 (c) In addition to the requirements of subsection (a), in construing a dispositive provision of a
17 transferor who is not the adopting parent, an adopted individual is not considered the child of the 18 adopting parent unless (i) the adoption took place before the child reached the age of majority; (ii)
19 the adopting parent was the child’s stepparent or foster parent; or (iii) the adopted individual lived 20 while a minor, either before or after the adoption, as a regular member of the household of the 21 adopting parent.

22 (e) For purposes of the class closing rules, an individual in gestation at a particular time is treated

1 as living at that time if the individual lives 120 hours after birth. If the distribution date is the
2 deceased parent's death, a child produced posthumously by assisted reproduction is treated as living
3 at the decedent's death, if the child was conceived within [3 years after the deceased parent's death]
4 [the period allowed by Section 3-1006 for an heir to recover property from any distributee]. If the 5 distribution date arises after the deceased parent's death, a child produced posthumously by assisted 6 reproduction is living on the date of conception.

7 (f) For purposes of the class closing rules, an individual who is in the process of being adopted
8 is treated as an adopted child during the period the adoption is in process.

§ 3-1006. Limitations on Actions and Proceedings Against Distributees. Unless previously adjudicated in a formal testacy proceeding or in a proceeding settling the accounts of a personal representative or otherwise barred, the claim of a claimant to recover from a distributee who is liable to pay the claim, and the right of an heir or devisee, or of a successor personal representative acting in their behalf, to recover property improperly distributed or its value from any distributee is forever barred at the later of three years after the decedent's death or one year after the time of its distribution thereof, but all claims of creditors of the decedent, are barred one year after the decedent's death. This section does not bar an action to recover property or value received as a result of fraud.

1 NOTE TO DRAFTING COMMITTEE about the following bracketed section: I'm not sure what
2 the "record" should say, or whether we can put such a requirement into a probate code. I put this
3 section in just to get something down on paper for us to look at. This section is copied from Cal.
4 Health & Safety Code 1644.7 and .8, except that I changed the word "heir" to "child."

6 [SECTION XXX. DUTY OF GENETIC DEPOSITORY TO PROVIDE CONSENT FORM
7 TO DEPOSITORS.

8 (a) Any entity that receives genetic material of a human being that may be used for conception
9 shall provide to the person depositing his [or her] genetic material a form for use by the depositor
10 that, if signed by the depositor, would satisfy the conditions set forth in Section 2-118(d) regarding 11 the decedent's intent for the use of that material. The use of the form is not mandatory, and the form
12 is not the exclusive means of expressing a depositor's intent. The form shall include advisements
13 in substantially the following form:
14

15 "The use of this form for designating whether a child conceived during your life or after your 16 death will be your child is not mandatory. However, if you wish to allow a child conceived during 17 your life or after your death to be considered as your child (or beneficiary of other benefits such as 18 life insurance or retirement) you must specify that in writing and you must sign that written 19 expression of intent.

20 This specification can be revoked or amended only in writing signed by you (and not by spoken 21 words).

22 You should consider how having a child conceived during your life or after your death affects 23 your estate planning (including your will, trust, and other beneficiary designations for retirement 24 benefits, life insurance, financial accounts, etc.) These issues can be complex, and you should

1 discuss them with your attorney.”

2

3 (b) Any entity that receives genetic material of a human being that may be used for conception
4 shall make available to the person depositing his or her genetic material a form that, if signed by the 5 depositor, would revoke any previous expression of intent regarding the use of his or her genetic
6 material necessary to satisfy the conditions set forth in Section 2-118(f). The use of the form is not
7 mandatory, and the form is not the exclusive means of expressing a depositor’s intent with respect
8 to revocation or amendment of a prior expression of intent. The form shall include advisements in 9 substantially the following form:

10

11 “The use of this form to revoke or amend a previous form for designating whether a child
12 conceived during your life or after your death will be your child is not mandatory. This specification
13 can be revoked or amended only in a writing signed by you (and not by spoken words).

14 These issues can be complex, and you should discuss them with your attorney.”]

1 Restatement (Third) of Property

2 [the strikeout and underlined versions are under review and are not finalized]

3 § 14.5 Adopted Child as Child of Adopting Parent

4 Unless the language or circumstances establish that the transferor had a different
5 intention, an adopted child is treated as follows for class-gift purposes:

6 (1) In construing a class gift created by the adopting parent, the adopted child is a
7 child of the adopting parent.

8 (2) In construing a class gift created by someone other than the adopting parent, the 9 adopted child is treated as a child of the adopting parent, but only if:

10 (i) the adoption took place before the child reached the age of majority;

11 (ii) the adopting parent was the child’s stepparent or foster parent; or

12 (iii) the adopting parent functioned as a parent to the child before the adoption
13 and before the child reached the age of majority.

14
15 § 14.6 Adopted Child as Child of Genetic Parent

16 Unless the language or circumstances establish that the transferor had a different
17 intention, an adopted child is not treated for class-gift purposes as a child of either 18 genetic parent, except that:

19 (1) If the adoption is by the spouse or domestic partner of a either genetic parent,
20 the child remains a child of both genetic parents ~~the genetic parent who is married to~~
21 ~~or the domestic partner of the adopting parent.~~

22 (2) If the adoption is by a relative of either genetic parent, or by the spouse or 23 surviving spouse or domestic partner or surviving domestic partner of such a relative,
24 the child remains a child of both genetic parents.

25 (3) If the adoption occurs after the death or incapacity of either genetic parent; (i)
26 the child remains a child of both genetic parents if the adoption is by someone 27 nominated by a genetic parent to be the child’s guardian, ~~or~~ and (ii) the child remains 28 a child of a genetic parent if the child does not subsequently become estranged from the 29 genetic families family of that genetic parent.

30
31 § 14.7 Child of Parents Not Married to Each Other

32 Unless the language or circumstances establish that the transferor had a different
33 intention, a child of parents not married to each other (a nonmarital child) is treated
34 as follows for class-gift purposes:

35 (1) In construing a class gift created by the child’s genetic parent, the nonmarital
36 child is a child of the genetic parent.

37 (2) In construing a class gift created by someone other than the child’s genetic 38 parent, the nonmarital child is a child of the genetic parent, but only if:

39 (A) any of the following functioned as a parent to the child before the child
40 reached the age of majority: (i) the genetic parent; (ii) the genetic parent’s parent,
41 grandparent, uncle, aunt, brother, sister, niece, or nephew; or (iii) the spouse,

1 surviving spouse, domestic partner, or surviving domestic partner of any of the 2 foregoing; or

3 (B) the genetic parent intended to function as a parent to the child before the 4 child reached the age of majority, but an event, such as death or incapacity,
5 intervened to prevent the genetic parent from functioning in that capacity.
6

7 § 14.8 Child of Assisted Reproduction

8 Unless the language or circumstances establish that the transferor had a different
9 intention, a child of assisted reproduction is treated for class-gift purposes as a child 10 of a person who consented to function as a parent to the child and who functioned in 11 that capacity or was prevented from doing so by an event such as death or incapacity.

1 UNIFORM PARENTAGE ACT

2 § 701. Scope of Article. This [article] does not apply to the birth of a child conceived by means of 3 sexual intercourse [, or as the result of a gestational agreement as provided in [Article] 8].

4
5 § 702. Parental Status of Donor. A donor is not a parent of a child conceived by means of assisted 6 reproduction.

7
8 § 102. Definitions. In this [Act]:

9 ....

10 (8) “Donor” means an individual who produces eggs or sperm used for assisted reproduction,
11 whether or not for consideration. The term does not include:

12 (A) a husband who provides sperm, or a wife who provides eggs, to be used for assisted
13 reproduction by the wife;

14 (B) a woman who gives birth to a child by means of assisted reproduction [, except as 15 otherwise provided in [Article] 8]; or

16 (C) a parent under Article 7 [or an intended parent under Article 8].
17

18 § 703. Paternity of Child of Assisted Reproduction. A man who provides sperm for, or consents

20 her child, is a parent of the resulting child.

21
22 § 704. Consent to Assisted Reproduction.

23 (a) Consent by a woman, and a man who intends to be a parent of a child born to the woman by 24 assisted reproduction must be in a record signed by the woman and the man. This requirement does 25 not apply to a donor.

26 (b) Failure to sign a consent required by subsection (a), before or after birth of the child, does not
27 preclude a finding of paternity if the woman and the man, during the first two years of the child’s
28 life, resided together in the same household with the child and held out the child as their own.

4 woman for assisted reproduction by another woman.

5 (b) Failure by the husband to sign a consent required by Subsection (a) before or after the birth
6 of the child does not preclude a finding that the husband is the father of a child born to his wife if 7 the wife and husband openly treated the child as their own.

16 his wife if the wife and husband openly treated the child as their own.

24 child, does not preclude a finding of paternity if the woman and the man, during the first two (2)
25 years of the child's life resided together in the same household with the child and openly held out the 26 child as their own.

27
28 § 705. Limitation on Husband's Dispute of Paternity.

29 (a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), the husband of a wife who gives birth to a 30 child by means of assisted reproduction may not challenge his paternity of the child unless:

31 (1) within two years after learning of the birth of the child he commences a proceeding to 32 adjudicate his paternity; and

33 (2) the court finds that he did not consent to the assisted reproduction, before or after birth 34 of the child.

35 (b) A proceeding to adjudicate paternity may be maintained at any time if the court determines 36 that:

37 (1) the husband did not provide sperm for, or before or after the birth of the child consent to,
38 assisted reproduction by his wife;

39 (2) the husband and the mother of the child have not cohabited since the probable time of 40 assisted reproduction; and

41 (3) the husband never openly treated the child as his own.

42 (c) The limitation provided in this section applies to a marriage declared invalid after assisted 43 reproduction.

1 § 706. Effect of Dissolution of Marriage or Withdrawal of Consent.

2 (a) If a marriage is dissolved before placement of eggs, sperm, or embryos, the former spouse
3 is not a parent of the resulting child unless the former spouse consented in a record that if assisted 4 reproduction were to occur after a divorce, the former spouse would be a parent of the child.

5 (b) The consent of a woman or a man to assisted reproduction may be withdrawn by that 6 individual in a record at any time before placement of eggs, sperm, or embryos. An individual who 7 withdraws consent under this section is not a parent of the resulting child.
8

9 § 707. Parental Status of Deceased Individual. If an individual who consented in a record to be
10 a parent by assisted reproduction dies before placement of eggs, sperm, or embryos, the deceased
11 individual is not a parent of the resulting child unless the deceased individual consented in a record
12 that if assisted reproduction were to occur after death, the deceased individual would be a parent of 13 the child.

6 § 801. Gestational Agreement Authorized.

7 (a) A prospective gestational mother, her husband if she is married, a donor or the donors, and 8 the intended parents may enter into a written agreement providing that:

9 (1) the prospective gestational mother agrees to pregnancy by means of assisted reproduction;

10 (2) the prospective gestational mother, her husband if she is married, and the donors
11 relinquish all rights and duties as the parents of a child conceived through assisted reproduction;
12 and

13 (3) the intended parents become the parents of the child.

14 (b) The man and the woman who are the intended parents must both be parties to the gestational 15 agreement.

16 (c) A gestational agreement is enforceable only if validated as provided in Section 803.

17 (d) A gestational agreement does not apply to the birth of a child conceived by means of sexual 18 intercourse.

19 (e) A gestational agreement may provide for payment of consideration.

20 (f) A gestational agreement may not limit the right of the gestational mother to make decisions
21 to safeguard her health or that of the embryos or fetus.

22
23 § 802. Requirements of Petition.

24 (a) The intended parents and the prospective gestational mother may commence a proceeding in 25 the [appropriate court] to validate a gestational agreement.

26 (b) A proceeding to validate a gestational agreement may not be maintained unless:

27 (1) the mother or the intended parents have been residents of this State for at least 90 days;

28 (2) the prospective gestational mother's husband, if she is married, is joined in the 29 proceeding; and

30 (3) a copy of the gestational agreement is attached to the [petition].

31
32 § 803. Hearing to Validate Gestational Agreement.

34 gestational agreement and declaring that the intended parents will be the parents of a child born
35 during the term of the of the agreement.

36 (b) The court may issue an order under subsection (a) only on finding that:

37 (1) the residence requirements of Section 802 have been satisfied and the parties have 38 submitted to the jurisdiction of the court under the jurisdictional standards of this [Act];

39 (2) unless waived by the court, the [relevant child-welfare agency] has made a home study
40 of the intended parents and the intended parents meet the standards of suitability applicable to 41 adoptive parents;

42 (3) all parties have voluntarily entered into the agreement and understand its terms;

43 (4) adequate provision has been made for all reasonable health-care expense associated with
