CONSUMER DEBT COUNSELING ACT

Prefatory Note

The consumer credit counseling industry arose as a means of assisting individuals to pay their credit card debt without resorting to bankruptcy and a means of enabling creditors to collect debt that otherwise would be discharged in bankruptcy. Through the 1980s the industry was financially supported almost entirely by creditors, which returned to the industry approximately 15% of the money they received through the efforts of the industry. Over the last decade, however, the industry has changed significantly. Responding to the dramatic increase in credit card debt, a new generation of credit counseling agencies arose. Reports of abuses by counseling agencies and injury to consumers appeared with increasing frequency in numerous media outlets. A report of two prominent consumer organizations (Consumer Federation of America and the National Consumer Law Center) has documented the situation. The problems include

- deception concerning the nature of, the need for, and the cost of debt-management plans to help consumers deal with burgeoning debt;
- excessive cost to consumers; and
- self-dealing and other conduct by agencies to evade the ban on private inurement that appears in the Internal Revenue Code requirements for tax-exempt status.

These problems are compounded by a drastic reduction in support for the industry by its traditional benefactors, the issuers of credit cards. This has led counseling agencies to impose on consumers an increasing share of the cost of their operations.

In January 2003 the Executive Committee of the Conference authorized the appointment of a drafting committee to develop a uniform law that would address the problems that have developed and enable the states to take a common approach to regulation of the counseling industry. A uniform approach is particularly important because the great majority of agencies operate in multiple states and would otherwise be subject to multiple and sometimes conflicting requirements.

The Drafting Committee first met in Chicago in November 2003 and considered a discussion draft. Committee members reacted to numerous aspects of that draft but the Committee did not take formal votes on any of its provisions. The Committee met again in March 2004. This draft reflects the deliberations and tentative decisions of the Committee at that meeting. The Committee ran out of time before considering sections 22-38.

Reporter's Note: Cross references to sections of the Act are underlined in this draft. This is for the convenience of the Reporter in changing the cross references as sections are renumbered. The underlining will disappear once the numbering of the sections is set.

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. This [act] may be cited as the Consumer Debt
4 Counseling Act.

5 SECTION 2. DEFINITIONS. In this [act]:

6 (1) “Administrator” means the _____.

7 (2) “Affiliate,” with respect to an individual, means:

8 (A) the spouse of the individual;

9 (B) a brother, brother-in-law, sister, or sister-in-law of the individual;

10 (C) an ancestor or lineal descendant of the individual or the individual’s 11 spouse; or

12 (D) any other individual related to the individual within the third degree of 13 consanguinity or affinity.

14 (3) “Affiliate,” with respect to an organization, means:

15 (A) a person that directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by, or is 16 under common control with the organization;

17 (B) an officer or director of, or a person performing similar functions
18 with respect to, the organization;

19 (C) a person that has more than a one-percent ownership interest in, is 20 employed by, or is a director of a person that receives or received more than $25,000 in either 21 the current year or the preceding year from the organization;

22 (D) an officer or director of, or a person performing similar functions
23 with respect to, a person described in paragraph (A);

1 (E) the spouse of an individual described in paragraph (A), (B), (C), or 2 (D); or

3 (F) an individual who is related to an individual or the spouse of an 4 individual described in paragraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) within the third degree of consanguinity
5 or affinity.

6 (4) “Certified counselor” means an individual certified by an independent, 7 nationally recognized certification organization or by a training program approved by the 8 administrator.

9 (5) “Day” means calendar day.

10 (6) “Debt-management plan” means a plan under which money will be paid by or 11 on behalf of an individual through a debt-management-services provider to obtain from one or 12 more creditors of the individual concessions consisting of reduced interest or delinquency fees.

13 (7) “Debt-management services” means:

14 (A) receiving money or anything of value from or on behalf of an 15 individual for the purpose of distributing it to one or more creditors of the individual in full or 16 partial payment of the individual’s obligations; or

17 (B) debt-settlement services, even if the provider of the debt-settlement 18 services never has possession of the individual’s money.

19 (8) “Debt-management-services agreement” means an agreement between a debt-20 management-services provider and an individual for the performance of debt-management 21 services.

22 (9) “Debt-management-services provider” means a person that, in the current 23 calendar year or in the immediately preceding calendar year, has provided or offered to provide

1 debt-management services to more than three individuals.

2 (10) “Debt-settlement services” means acting or negotiating on behalf of an
3 individual with one or more creditors of the individual for the purpose of securing the creditor’s
4 assent to receiving in full satisfaction of the debt owed to it an amount less than the full principal
5 of the debt in fewer than four installments.

6 (11) “Employee” includes an individual who provides services related to debt-
7 management services at any location of a debt-management-services provider.

8 (12) “Person” means an individual, corporation, business trust, estate, trust, 9 partnership, limited liability company, association, joint venture, or any other legal or 10 commercial entity. The term does not include a public corporation, government, or governmental 11 subdivision, agency, or instrumentality.

12 (13) “Record” means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that 13 is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.

14 (14) “Spouse” includes an individual with whom another individual lives as if 15 married.

16 (15) “State” means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto 17 Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, or any territory or insular possession subject to the 18 jurisdiction of the United States.

19 (16) “Trust account” means an account held by a debt-management-services 20 provider that is:

21 (A) established in a state- or federally insured bank;

22 (B) separate from the debt-management-services provider’s other
23 accounts;

(C) designated as a “trust account” or other designation indicating that the money in the account is not the money of the debt-management-services provider or its officers, employees, or agents; and

(D) used to hold money of one or more individuals for disbursement to creditors of the individuals.

Legislative Note: In paragraph (1) insert the name of the agency or entity that will be charged with enforcement of this Act. States must decide whether to create a new administrative agency or charge an existing entity with enforcement of this Act. If the latter, states must decide which existing entity to select. Logical choices include the attorney general or other entity charged with consumer protection generally (under a little-FTC act or similar statute), regulation of consumer credit, or regulation of financial institutions. It may be necessary or desirable to amend that entity’s organic statute to refer specifically to this Act.

Preliminary Comments

Paragraphs (2)-(3)(affiliate): The term “affiliate” is used at three places in the Act: as a disclosure item in the application for registration (§ 6(c)(5), (7), (8)); as a tool to ensure the independence of an agency’s board of directors (§ 8(b)(6), (c)); and as a limit on an agency’s ability to engage in self-dealing (§ 23(b)-(c)).

The definitions of “affiliate” have not yet been considered by the Drafting Committee. The definition in paragraph (2) is drawn from § 9-102(a), but it includes more relatives in the definition. The definition in Article 9 is limited to relatives who live in the individual’s home. This excludes such close relatives as nieces and first cousins unless they live in the individual’s home. The language in subsections (2)(D) and (3)(F) includes those relatives regardless of where they live. On the other hand, the Article 9 definition may encompass distant relatives, whereas this definition is limited to relatives within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity. Consanguinity denotes a relationship in which the persons share a common ancestor. Affinity denotes a relationship in which the persons are related by marriage.

The definition in paragraph (3) also is drawn from the definition of “person related to” in UCC § 9-102(a), but adds paragraph (C). The Committee will need to consider whether one percent is the appropriate level of ownership to make one an affiliate and whether the threshold for directors should be stated in terms of a specific dollar amount (and what that amount should be) or in terms of a vague standard such as receipt of “non-trivial amounts of payment.” Under paragraph (3)(C) a person is not an affiliate until after the person of which it is an owner, employee, or director has received $25,001 in the relevant period.

Paragraph (6)(debt-management plan): In the context of this definition, “reduced” interest or fees encompasses the complete waiver or elimination of them.

1 Paragraph (7)(debt-management services): At the March 2004 meeting, the sense of the 2 Drafting Committee was that the definition should encompass those who provide only 3 rehabilitation or counseling services and perhaps even those who only provide education about 4 personal finance. This so broadens the definition that the Act would apply to colleges and even 5 elementary schools that provide instruction on personal finance. The Drafting Committee still 6 needs to decide the extent to which it desires the Act to go beyond regulating those who receive
7 or direct the individual's money for distribution to creditors. Pending that decision, the definition
8 does not encompass those entities that provide only educational or counseling services
9 concerning management of personal finance.

11 This definition encompasses debt-settlement agencies, which are separately defined in 12 paragraph 10, whether they receive periodic payments from the individual or instead have the 13 individual establish an account for the accumulation of money to be paid to creditors at the 14 agency's direction. The definition does not encompass a creditor that compromises a claim with 15 its debtor. Although the creditor may receive money from an individual, it is not for the purpose 16 of "distributing" that money to a creditor.

18 _____ Paragraph (8)(debt-management-services agreement): This definition does not 19 incorporate any requirement of "written" or "record." An oral agreement is within this definition.
20 Requirements of form appear in Sections 14-16.

22 Paragraph (9)(debt-management-services provider): The purpose of limiting the 23 definition to persons that provide or offer to provide debt-management services to more than 24 three individuals is to exclude from the scope of this Act persons who informally assist their 25 friends or relatives by, for example, accessing the individual's checking account to pay the 26 individual's bills. A person is not subject to the constraints placed on debt-management-service
27 providers until it has provided or offered to provide debt-management services to the fourth
28 individual. Thereafter, the person must comply with this Act. An entity that advertises in any 29 way will necessarily offer to provide services to more than three individuals.

31 The definition encompasses both a nonresident agency that solicits individuals in this 32 state and a resident agency that solicits individuals in other states. Under Section 3, however, the 33 Act does not apply to nonresident agencies that contract with only nonresident individuals, even 34 if their method of solicitation (e.g., via the Internet) reaches individuals in this state.

36 Paragraph (10)(debt-settlement services): Some concern was expressed at the November
37 2003 meeting that the definition might encompass traditional counseling agencies, which deal
38 with credit card debt in which accrued and unpaid finance charge becomes part of the debt. For 39 the most part, the concessions offered by card issuers are prospective, so that the items as to 40 which the issuers make concessions never become part of the principal of the debt. As a further 41 precaution, the definition also uses the number of payments to the creditor as a criterion. The 42 current practice of debt-settlement agencies is to make one payment to the creditor in full 43 satisfaction of the debt. The number in the definition, however, should be set at a level to prevent 44 agencies from making a slight change in their model in order to avoid being categorized as a
45 debt-settlement-services provider. Is four the optimal number?

Paragraph (11)(employee): The purpose of this definition is to prevent evasion of the Act by resort to outsourcing the services necessary for running a debt-management-services business. The phrase “related to debt-management services” is critical, because it has the effect of excluding from the definition, e.g., an individual who makes emergency repairs to the agency’s plumbing system. “Services related to debt-management services” would include such things as marketing, customer service, education, counseling, interaction with creditors, processing of payments by individuals, and any other services provided by the agency to the individual.

Paragraph (12)(person): This definition conforms to the Conference’s standard definition. The definition encompasses for-profit, not-for-profit, and tax-exempt entities.

Paragraph (13)(record): This definition appears in UCC Revised Article 1 (§1-201(b)(31)).

Paragraph (14)(spouse): Section 23 prohibits certain transactions between a debt-management-services provider and its affiliates. The term “affiliate” includes the spouse of specified individuals. Hence, the only purpose for defining this word is to expand the definition of “affiliate.” Under this definition, “affiliate” includes not only a person who is married to the specified individual, but also a person living with that individual.

SECTION 3. APPLICATION TO NON-RESIDENTS. This [act] applies to a person if:

- (1) it, its employees, or its agents are located in this state;
- (2) by any means, including electronic communication, it solicits individuals located in this state to purchase debt-management services; or
- (3) it enters into a debt-management-services agreement with an individual whom it should reasonably know to be located in or a resident of in this state.

Preliminary Comments

Under this provision the Act does not apply to: (1) a debt-management-services provider that is not located in this state and that does not solicit or contract with individuals in this state; (2) a provider whose web site is accessible by residents of this state if the provider declines to do business with residents of this state, in which event the provider is not soliciting individuals located in this state; (3) an individual who forms an agreement with a debt-management-services provider in another state and later moves to this state; or (4) a resident of this state who forms an agreement with a debt-management-services provider located in another state while the

1 individual temporarily is in that other state, if the debt-management-services provider has no
2 notice that the individual resides in this state.

4 This Act uses the term “individual” rather than “consumer.” The purpose of this usage is 5 to enlarge the usual meaning of that term (viz., one who acquires goods or services for personal,
6 family, or household purposes) to encompass individuals who have incurred debt for business
7 purposes, including farming.

8
9 Subject to the limitations stated in this section, the intention is for the Act to have as 10 expansive a reach as is constitutionally permissible. Common criteria for determining whether 11 there is a sufficient jurisdictional nexus for an Internet-based business include the business’
12 targeting a specific jurisdiction and the presence of a customer of a business in the jurisdiction.

14 SECTION 4. EXEMPT PERSONS. This [act] does not apply to the following 15 persons, or their employees, when the person or its employee is engaged in the regular course of 16 its business or profession and the provision of debt-management services is incidental to the 17 business or profession:

18 (1) an attorney at law who is licensed in this state;

19 (2) a judicial officer or a person acting under a court order;

20 (3) a person that provides bill-paying services and does not negotiate with a 21 payee concerning the amount of a payment;

22 (4) a certified public accountant; [or]

23 (5) a state- or federally insured bank[; or]

24 (6) a person licensed under Section ____ as a (money transmitter).

25 Legislative Note: In paragraph (6) insert the citation to any statute requiring money transmitters 26 to be licensed, conform the parenthetical to the terminology of that statute, and delete the 27 parentheses. If there is no such statute, paragraph (6) should be omitted.
28

29 Preliminary Comments

30
31 The exemption in this section applies to the enumerated persons only when providing 32 debt-management services is incidental to the regular course of the business or profession of the 33 person and its employees. If providing debt-management services is not merely incidental to an

1 employee's duties, then the exemption does not apply, and the employer must comply with the 2 Act (including registration).

4 The former version of this section exempted a creditor that negotiates or receives
5 settlement of a debt an individual owes it. The definition of "debt-management services" has 6 been revised to incorporate the requirement that the provider receive money for the purpose of 7 "distributing" it to one or more creditors. A creditor that receives payment from an individual
8 does not "distribute" that payment to itself. Hence, it is no longer necessary for an exemption for 9 creditors to appear in this section.

11 Subsection (c) exempts bill-paying services provided by an entity that does not otherwise 12 provide debt-management services. It also exempts title insurers and other entities that provide 13 escrow services, e.g., in real estate transactions or in connection with construction contracts. The 14 primary purpose of the escrow arrangement is to reduce the credit risk of both buyer and seller.

15
16 Some states exempt title insurers, mortgage loan servicers, or business liquidators.

23 There are at least three models for a registration requirement: (a) registration based on 24 bare-bones information; (b) registration based on detailed information, with or without the power
25 of the state to deny registration; (c) licensing based upon an examination of the applicant. Each 26 of these models may be found in existing legislation governing debt-management-services
27 providers. The Athlete's Agents Act, suggested as a model at the November 2003 meeting, 28 follows the second approach. At the March 2004 meeting, the Drafting Committee concurred.

30 (a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c), a person may not provide or 31 offer to provide debt-management services to individuals unless the person is registered with the 32 administrator. Registration is valid for one year.

33 (b) A debt-management-services provider must renew its registration every year.

34 (c) If a person is registered under this [act], the registration requirement of 35 subsection (a) does not apply to the officers, employees, and agents of the person.

36 (d) The administrator shall publicize the names of all persons registered as debt-37 management-services providers under this [act]. The administrator shall update the list of names at least twice each year.

Preliminary Comments

Subsection (a) requires persons providing debt-management services to be registered under this Act. Under Section 3 this requirement extends to debt-management-services providers located in other states, if they solicit or serve individuals who reside in this state.

Subsection (d): The objective of this subsection is to enable individuals and creditors to ascertain whether a given debt-management-services provider is registered. Posting on the Internet web site of the administrator (or other appropriate official site) is the preferred method, because the information is instantaneously and continuously available.

SECTION 6. APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION: FORM AND CONTENTS.

(a) An application for registration must be in the form prescribed by the administrator.

(b) An application for registration must be accompanied by:

(1) the fee established by the administrator;

18 (A) the applicant or any of its officers, directors, owners, or 19 affiliates; or

20 (B) a person with respect to whom the applicant or any of its 21 officers, directors, or owners was an affiliate at the time of the enforcement action;

22 (9) with respect to each of the second through fifth calendar years
23 immediately preceding the year of the application:

1 (A) for all individuals who entered debt-management plans and 2 made at least one payment to the applicant that year, the aggregate debt in those plans;

3 (B) the aggregate distribution to creditors of those individuals from 4 the aggregate payments made by those individuals since the inception of their plans; and

5 (C) the ratio of the number in subparagraph (B) to the number in 6 subparagraph (A);

7 (10) a statement describing any judgment, tax lien, or litigation, and any 8 administrative or enforcement action by a government agency in any state [jurisdiction] against 9 the applicant;

10 (11) the applicant's federal employer identification number and every 11 state identification number for each state in which the applicant has a state identification 12 number;

13 (12) the compensation of the applicant's five most highly compensated
14 employees for each of the three years immediately preceding the application;

15 (13) the applicant's audited financial statements for each of the two years
16 immediately preceding the application;

17 [(14) evidence of tax-exempt status under Section 501(c) of the Internal 18 Revenue Code;]

19 (15) evidence of any accreditation by a nationally recognized accrediting 20 organization;

21 (16) evidence that, within 12 months after their initial employment, each 22 of the applicant's counselors is a certified counselor;

4 that the applicant provides or intends to provide to individuals and copies of any materials used
5 or to be used in those programs;

8 individuals;

9 (21) a copy of each form of debt-management-services agreement that the 10 applicant will use;

11 (22) the applicant's schedule or schedules of fees and charges that 12 individuals will incur;

13 (23) at the applicant's expense, the results of a criminal background
14 check, including fingerprints, on every officer and on every employee or agent of the applicant
15 who is authorized to have access to the trust account required by Section 19 or, if an applicant
16 has submitted this information to another state, a copy of the report from the background check
17 conducted for that state;

18 (24) an irrevocable consent signed by the applicant and the bank at which 19 the trust account required by Section 19 is to be maintained, providing that if the 20 administrator in connection with enforcement of this [act] pursuant to Section 26 so demands, 21 the bank will turn over to the administrator all money, books, records, accounts, and other 22 property of the applicant in its control; and

23 (25) any other information that the administrator reasonably requires.

(d) The applicant or registered debt-management-services provider shall notify the administrator within 10 days after a change in its name, principal business address, principal telephone number, or the information specified in subsections (b)(4) or (c)(1), (3), (8), or (14).

Legislative Note: In subsection (b) the state may wish to name its secretary of state or other official as the agent for service of process.

Preliminary Comments

Subsection (c): Paragraph (1) requires disclosure of all business addresses. As now drafted, it requires this information of agencies located in other states, as well as agencies located in the state of enactment. For agencies headquartered in this state, it may (or may not) make sense to require disclosure of all business addresses in other states. It makes less sense to require an agency headquartered elsewhere to disclose all its business addresses in all states in which it operates. What is the Drafting Committee's pleasure?

Paragraph (3) contemplates disclosure of the address of places like call centers and back-office operations, but not the addresses of employees who work from home.

Paragraphs (6)-(8): Does the Drafting Committee wish to expand these paragraphs to encompass foreign jurisdictions?

Paragraph (9): Prior drafts required disclosure of the success/failure rate during the scheduled life of a plan or during a portion of the plan. Industry participants explained that after a certain point in the life of a typical plan, it is common for individuals to self-administer their plans. The purpose of a disclosure requirement concerning the success/failure rate of a counseling agency is to provide some indication of the extent to which an agency is channeling into DMP's individuals for whom there is no realistic hope of success. This draft requires the applicant to disclose the extent to which an agency's debt-management plans actually are enabling individuals to reduce their debt.

Some agencies enroll individuals in plans only when the agency receives the individual's first payment. Others establish the plan in advance of the first payment. To provide similar treatment to the agencies without regard to which of these models they follow, the calculations required by this paragraph focus on plans in which the individual makes a payment. But the phrase "at least one payment" in subparagraph (A) includes a set-up or other fee, as well as a payment of money that is to be distributed to creditors.

Some individuals may enter a plan in December of one year and make their first payment in January of the following year. In making the calculation required by this paragraph, the agency may treat the plan and the payment as occurring in the same year and may select either of the two years (but not both) for that purpose. If the individual enrolls in a plan but never makes any payment to the agency, the agency should exclude that individual's debt from its

2
3 Paragraph (14): Please see the Memo accompanying the Annual Meeting Draft.

5 Paragraph (15): At the March 2004 meeting the Drafting Committee tentatively decided
6 to abandon any requirement that a debt-management-services provider be accredited. Hence this 7 paragraph merely requires the agency to inform the administrator whether it is accredited. This 8 information may assist the administrator in determining whether further investigation is 9 warranted.

11 Paragraph (16): To obtain registration, a debt-management-services provider must 12 employ counselors who are certified within 12 months of their initial employment. This 13 requirement applies only to employees who act as counselors and educators. It does not apply to 14 such other employees as customer service representatives.

16 Paragraph (19): As used in this paragraph, “programs” encompasses both a course of 17 instruction, which may be entirely oral, and computer software.

19 Paragraph (21): An agency located elsewhere need supply only the documents that it will
20 use with residents of this state. An agency located in this state, however, may use different forms
21 for individuals who reside in other states. This subsection requires the agency to file a copy of 22 each with its application. If a form used in another state violates a provision of this Act, Section_ 23 34 determines whether the violation is actionable.

25 Paragraph (22): As with paragraph (21), an agency located elsewhere need supply only 26 the schedules of fees and charges for residents of this state. An agency located in this state must 27 supply the schedules used for residents of other states, too. This information will enable the 28 administrator to monitor the industry’s practices in the state. It should assist the administrator in 29 determining whether an individual agency is gouging individuals, as well as whether to 30 encourage the legislature to raise the fee cap when the passage of time or changed circumstances 31 make it too low.

33 Paragraph (23): In some jurisdictions the mechanics and procedures for obtaining 34 fingerprints are quite burdensome. This paragraph attempts to reduce the burden by permitting 35 an applicant that has gone through this process in one state to use the results of the process in 36 this state, too.

38 Paragraph (24): In the draft for the March 2004 meeting, this paragraph had two parts,
39 one addressing accounts at a bank located in this state and one addressing accounts at a bank
40 located in another state. If an administrator from any state seizes even a portion of the money
41 and records, that seizure would effectively freeze the entire operation of the debt-management-
42 services provider. Consequently, the Drafting Committee decided to collapse the two parts into 43 one. In response to the requirements of this paragraph, it is likely that a bank would provide its 44 irrevocable consent only if the account contains the money of individuals from a single state.
45 This would mean that a debt-management-services provider would have to establish a separate

1 trust account for each state whose residents it serves. The Drafting Committee may wish to 2 consider this further.

4 Subsection (d): The cross-referenced sections require disclosure of the name of the 5 applicant's registered agent, the name of the applicant, the addresses at which it operates,
6 enforcement action against the applicant in another state, and tax-exempt status. Subsection (d)
7 requires immediate notification of any change in this information, and even though the 8 subsection speaks of an "application," this requirement of notification applies both before and 9 after the administrator has issued a certificate of registration. Notification of change in other 10 required information is governed by Section 10, which requires notification at the time of 11 renewal of registration.

13 SECTION 7. APPLICATION FOR REGISTRATION: PUBLIC INFORMATION.

14 (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the administrator shall make 15 available to the public the information in an application for registration.

16 (b) The administrator shall preserve the confidentiality of the information
17 required by Section 6(c)(4) and (23), except that the information required by Section 6(c)(23)
18 is subject to legal process in connection with public or private enforcement of this [act].

21 _____ This preserves the confidentiality of home addresses and, except in litigation, the report 22 on the criminal background check.

24 SECTION 8. CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRATION: ISSUANCE OR DENIAL.

25 (a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), the administrator shall issue a 26 certificate of registration to a person that complies with Section 6 .

27 (b) The administrator shall deny registration if:

28 (1) the application is not accompanied by the fee established by the 29 administrator;

30 (2) the application contains material information that is erroneous or

1 incomplete;

2 (3) an officer, director, owner, or employee of the applicant has ever been 3 convicted of a crime involving violation of state or federal securities laws, moral turpitude, or 4 fraudulent or dishonest actions;

5 (4) the applicant or any of its officers, directors, owners, or employees
6 has ever defaulted in the payment of money collected for others;

7 (5) the administrator finds that the financial responsibility, experience,
8 character, or general fitness of the applicant or its officers, directors, owners, employees, or 9 agents is not such as to warrant the belief that the business will be operated in compliance with 10 this [act]; or

11 (6) the applicant's board of directors[, if any,] is not independent of the 12 applicant's officers, employees, and agents.

13 (c) A board of directors is not independent under subsection (b)(6) if more than 14 one-third of its members:

15 (1) are affiliates of the applicant; or

16 (2) within [10] years after first becoming a director of the applicant, were 17 employed by or directors of a person that receives or received from the applicant more than 18 [$25,000] in either the current year or the preceding year.

19 Preliminary Comments

21 Some conduct justifies a lifetime ban from the debt-management-services industry.
22 Examples appear in paragraphs (3) and (4). Other conduct can be readily corrected, e.g., 23 paragraphs (1)-(2) and perhaps (6). Paragraph (5) gives the administrator discretion to consider 24 the importance of various items of adverse information about an applicant, such as the fact of 25 and reasons for any suspension or revocation of the applicant's right to provide debt-
26 management services in another state. Paragraph (6) requires that the board of directors be 27 independent of the management of the agency and independent of the creditors for whom the

1 agency is, in a sense, acting as collection agent. The precise contours of this paragraph (e.g., “[if
2 any],” “ten years,” and “more than $25,000”) will need to be fixed once it is determined whether
3 for-profit entities may operate as debt-management-services providers. The Drafting Committee 4 intends to address the question whether business entities other than corporations should be 5 permitted to operate as debt-management-services providers.
6

7 SECTION 9. CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRATION: TIMING.

8 (a) The administrator shall approve or deny an initial registration within [60]
9 days after an application satisfying the requirements of Section 6 is filed. The administrator
10 may extend the [60]-day period. [If the administrator does not act on the application before the 11 expiration of the period, the application is approved, and the administrator shall issue a 12 certificate of registration.] Within seven days after denying an application, the administrator, in a 13 record, shall inform the applicant of the reasons for the denial.

14 (b) If the administrator denies an applicant’s application for registration, the 15 applicant, within 30 days after receiving notice of the denial, may appeal and request a hearing
16 pursuant to Section ____.

17 Legislative Note: Insert the citation to the appropriate section of the Administrative Procedure
18 Act or other statute governing administrative procedure.
19

20 Preliminary Comments

21
22 In subsection (a) the number “60” is bracketed pending the Drafting Committee’s 23 decision concerning the appropriate number. The Committee also will decide whether the 24 registration must issue if the administrator fails to act before expiration of the period.

26 SECTION 10. RENEWAL OF REGISTRATION.

27
28 (a) An application for renewal of registration must be in the form prescribed by 29 the administrator. It must:

30 (1) be filed no more than 60 and no fewer than 30 days before the

1 registration expires;

2 (2) be accompanied by the fee established by the administrator and the 3 bond or other assurance required by Section 12;

4 (3) be signed under penalty of perjury;

5 (4) contain the matter required for initial registration by Section 6(c)(9), 6 (15), and (16) and an audited financial statement for the year immediately preceding the 7 application;

8 (5) disclose any changes in the information contained in the applicant's
9 application for registration or its immediately previous application for renewal, as applicable;

10 (6) supply evidence of insurance against risks of dishonesty, fraud, theft, 11 or other malfeasance or misconduct on the part of an employee or agent of the provider, in an 12 amount equal to the highest daily balance in the trust account required by Section 19 during 13 the six-month period immediately preceding the application;

14 (7) disclose the total amount of money received during the preceding 12
15 months from or on behalf of individuals who reside in this state and the total amount of money 16 distributed to creditors of those individuals during that period; and 17 (8) provide any other information that the administrator by rule requires.

18 (b) Except as otherwise provided in Section 7(b), the administrator shall make 19 available to the public the information in an application for renewal of registration.

20 (c) The administrator shall approve or deny an application for renewal of 21 registration within [30] days after the date the complete application for renewal satisfying the 22 requirements of subsection (a) is filed. The administrator may extend the [30]-day period, but the 23 registration remains effective until the administrator, by record, notifies the applicant of a denial

1 and states in the record the reasons for the denial.

2 (d) If the administrator denies an applicant's application for renewal of 3 registration, the applicant, within 30 days after receiving notice of the denial, may appeal and 4 request a hearing pursuant to Section _____. Subject to Section 29(c), the applicant may [must]
5 continue serving its existing customers until it transfers them to another registered debt-
6 management-services provider without material loss or injury to them.

7 Legislative Note: In subsection (d) insert the citation to the appropriate section of the 8 Administrative Procedure Act or other statute governing administrative procedure.
9

10 Preliminary Comments

11
12 Subsection (a): The cross-referenced provisions in paragraph (4) require disclosure of the 13 ratio of individual payments to individual debt, proof of agency accreditation, and proof of 14 counselor certification.

16 Subsection (c): The grounds for denial of an application to renew registration appear in 17 Section 29. The number "30" is bracketed pending the Drafting Committee's decision 18 concerning the appropriate number.

20 Subsection (d): The Drafting Committee has identified but not yet considered the issue 21 presented by the second sentence of this subsection, dealing with the aftermath of a denial of 22 renewal of registration.

24 SECTION 11. REGISTRATION IN ANOTHER STATE. A person that has 25 submitted an application for, and holds a certificate of, either registration or renewal of 26 registration as a debt-management-services provider in another state may submit a copy of that 27 application and certificate in lieu of an application in the form prescribed by Section 6(a) and (c).
28 The administrator shall accept the application and the certificate from the other state as an 29 application for registration or for renewal of registration, as appropriate, in this state if the 30 application to the other state:

31 (1) contains information substantially similar to or more comprehensive than that

1 required in an application submitted in this state; and

2 (2) was submitted to the other state within the six months immediately preceding 3 the submission of the application to this state and the applicant, under penalty of perjury:

4 (A) certifies that the information contained in the application is current; or 5 (B) provides current information.

7
8 This section is drawn from the Athlete's Agent Act. Paraphrasing a comment to that Act,
9 the subsection provides for reciprocal use of applications in states that have adopted this Act.
10 The need for a debt-management-services provider to comply with substantially different
11 application procedures in multiple jurisdictions is eliminated. This is intended to ease the burden
12 placed on debt-management-services providers that operate in multiple states. Paragraph (1)
13 makes that benefit available to the debt-management-services provider, however, only if the law
14 of the other state is substantially similar to this Act. As a practical matter, a debt-management-15 services provider can comfortably rely on this section only if the other state has also adopted this

18 SECTION 12. BOND.

19 (a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (h), every debt-management-20 services provider shall file a surety bond with the administrator.

21 (b) The surety bond must run concurrently with the period of registration.

22 (c) If the principal place of business of a debt-management-services provider is:

23 (1) located in this state, a surety bond must run to the state for the benefit 24 of any person; or

25 (2) not located in this state, a surety bond must run to the state for the 26 benefit of any individual who resides in this state.

27 (d) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (f), a surety bond must:

28 (1) be in an amount equal to the sum of the amounts deposited in the trust

1 account required by Section 19 on each of the 180 days immediately preceding the date of 2 application for registration or renewal of registration, divided by six;

3 (2) be issued by a bonding, surety, or insurance company that is 4 authorized to do business in this state; and

5 (3) have payment conditioned upon the noncompliance of the debt-
6 management-services provider or its agents with this [act].

7 (e) If a debt-management-services provider whose principal place of business is 8 located in this state provides a surety bond to comply with the law of another state with respect 9 to individuals who reside in that state, the amount of the bond required under this section is 10 reduced by the amount of that bond, and the bond filed pursuant to this section must not run for 11 the benefit of persons in that state.

12 (f) For an initial registration of a debt-management-services provider that has not 13 provided debt-management services in this state, the amount of the surety bond must be 14 determined by the administrator, based on an estimate of the amounts to be deposited in the trust
15 account required by Section 19 during the twelfth month after registration and on the 16 administrator's consideration of the financial condition and business experience of the debt-17 management-services provider, the history of the debt-management-services provider in 18 providing debt-management services, the potential loss to individuals, and any other factor the 19 administrator considers appropriate.

20 (g) If the principal amount of a surety bond is reduced by payment of a claim or a 21 judgment, the debt-management-services provider, within [30] days after notice by the 22 administrator, shall file a new or additional surety bond in an amount set by the administrator,
23 which amount must be at least the amount of the bond immediately before payment of the claim

1 or judgment.

2 (h) In lieu of the surety bond required by this section, the debt-management-
3 services provider may:

4 (1) file a certificate of insurance in the amount required by subsections
5 (d) through (f), issued by an insurance company rated at least [A] by a nationally recognized 6 rating organization, with a deductible of no more than 10 percent of the face amount of the 7 policy coverage and, as provided in subsection (i), loss payable to the administrator and to 8 customers of the provider as their interests may appear, if the provider does not comply with this 9 [act];

10 (2) provide an irrevocable letter of credit, issued or confirmed by a 11 financial institution approved by the administrator, in the amount and form determined by the 12 administrator pursuant to subsections (d) through (f) and payable, as provided in subsection (i), 13 to the administrator for the benefit of the customers of the provider if the provider does not 14 comply with this [act]; or

15 (3) subject to the approval of the administrator, deposit and maintain with 16 a financial institution approved by the administrator for this purpose bonds or other obligations
17 of the United States or guaranteed by the United States or bonds or other obligations of this state 18 or a political subdivision of this state, in the amount determined by the administrator pursuant to 19 subsections (d) through (f), designated as available, as provided in subsection (i), to the 20 administrator for the benefit of customers of the provider if the provider does not comply with 21 this [act].

22 (i) An amount under a final order under Section 27(a)(2) or (5) or a final 23 judgment pursuant to Section 30(a)(1) or (3) or (b) may be paid and collected from the proceeds of the surety bond, insurance, letter of credit, or other security required pursuant to this section.

Preliminary Comments

Subsection (c): As now drafted the bond runs in favor of individuals who reside in other states if the debt-management-services provider is based in this state. If the debt-management-services provider has no presence in this state other than its agreements with individuals who live in this state, then the benefits of the bond are limited to residents. This subjects the domestic agency to the bond requirements of this state and also the other state in which its customers reside. But see subsection (e).

Subsection (d): The amount of the bond approximates the average monthly amount of money that are deposited into the trust account. In subparagraph (3), is the phrase “or its agents” necessary?

Subsection (e): This subsection provides reciprocity, to give the debt-management-services provider some relief from having to provide duplicative bonds. It needs further attention, however, because the total amount of the bonds posted in other states may exceed the amount of the bond required by subsection (d), leaving nothing for residents of this state.

Subsection (h): As an alternative to posting a bond, subsection (h) authorizes the debt-management-services provider to procure insurance or, subject to the administrator’s approval, a letter of credit or debt instruments. The requirement of approval by the administrator extends to both the securities deposited and the terms of the account into which they are deposited, to ensure that they are available to pay claims of injured individuals. The administrator by rule can develop the mechanics for liquidating the securities and paying the proceeds to injured individuals.

Subsection (i): Section 27 empowers the administrator to seek restitution for injured individuals. Under subsection (i) the bond or other security required by this section is a source for payment of this restitution. Section 30 authorizes private rights of action. The bond or other security is a source of payment of actual damages, the $1,000 minimum damages, and costs and attorney’s fees. It is not available to satisfy criminal penalties under Section 24, civil penalties under Section 27, or punitive damages under Section 30. Does the Drafting Committee concur?

SECTION 13. CUSTOMER SERVICE. A debt-management-services provider must maintain a telephone system, staffed at a level that reasonably permits an individual to speak to a counselor or customer service representative, as appropriate, during ordinary business hours.

This subsection contemplates responses to telephonic requests by existing customers. The staffing required by this subsection therefore is in addition to whatever staffing the debt-management-services provider might have for soliciting or responding to potential customers.

(a) Before providing debt-management services to an individual, a person shall provide the individual a list of services and the charges for each, describing:

(A) free of charge, if the individual enters into a debt-management-services agreement; and

(2) those goods or services the person offers for a charge that are not offered as a part of debt-management services.

(1) has provided the individual with education concerning personal finance or counseling about the management of personal finance;

1 (3) has made a good faith, reasonable determination that the plan is 2 necessary for the individual to avoid serious financial hardship or the need to file for relief under 3 the United States Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C. § 101 et seq.; and

4 (4) has made a good faith, reasonable determination based on its analysis
5 of the information provided by the individual and otherwise available to it that:

6 (A) the individual will be able to make the payments that the plan
7 calls for the individual to make; and

8 (B) each creditor of the individual listed as a participating creditor 9 in the plan will accept payment of the individual's debts as provided in the plan.

10 (c) Before an individual signs a commitment to engage in a debt-management
11 plan or a debt-settlement plan, a debt-management-services provider shall provide the individual 12 with:

13 (1) a copy of the analysis and plan required by subsection (b)(2) in a form 14 the individual may keep whether or not the individual signs the commitment; and

15 (2) with respect to all creditors identified by the individual or otherwise 16 known by the provider to be creditors of the individual, a list of all creditors that the provider 17 reasonably expects to accept the payment proposed in the plan and a list of all creditors that the 18 person reasonably expects not to grant concessions.

19 (d) Before an individual signs a commitment to engage in a debt-management 20 plan, a debt-management-services provider shall disclose, in a document that contains nothing 21 else:

22 (1) that debt-management plans are not suitable for all individuals and 23 that the individual may request information about bankruptcy and other ways to deal with

1 indebtedness;

2 (2) that establishment of a debt-management plan may adversely affect 3 the individual's credit rating or credit scores;

4 (3) the information concerning the payment ratios required by Section 5 6(c)(9); and

6 (4) unless it is not true, that the provider may receive compensation for its 7 services from some or all of the individual's creditors.

8 (e) Before an individual signs a commitment to engage in a debt-settlement plan,
9 a debt-management-services provider shall disclose, in a document that contains nothing else:

10 (1) that debt-settlement plans are not suitable for all individuals and that 11 the individual may request information about bankruptcy and other ways to deal with 12 indebtedness;

13 (2) the information concerning the payment ratios required by Section 14 6(b)(9); and

15 (3) that nonpayment of the individual's debt pursuant to the plan of the 16 debt-settlement-services provider is likely to have an adverse effect on the individual's credit 17 report and may lead creditors to undertake activity, including litigation, to collect their debts.

20 Subsection (b): Paragraph (1) requires education or counseling. This may consist of an 21 individual session with a counselor (which may also include the analysis required by paragraph 22 (2)), a group class, or an electronic educational program. The education and counseling must be 23 substantially more than an explanation of the benefits of a debt-management plan or a debt-
24 settlement plan. Under Section 26(e) the administrator has the power to establish minimum 25 standards for the education and counseling.

27 Subsection (c): Since secured creditors are creditors, paragraph (2) requires the provider
28 to include secured creditors in the two lists, as appropriate.

1 Subsections (d)-(e): These subsections require providers of debt-management plans to 2 give a warning to individuals before they commit to a debt-management plan or a debt-
3 settlement plan.
4

5 SECTION 15. COMMUNICATION BY ELECTRONIC MEANS.

6 (a) A debt-management-services provider may comply with Section 14 via the 7 Internet or other electronic means if the provider complies with the Electronic Signatures in 8 Global and National Commerce Act (15 U.S.C. Section 7001 et seq.) and:

9 (1) with respect to the requirements of Section 14(b), a certified 10 counselor has reviewed and approved the education required by subsection (b)(1) and the 11 computer program or application used to create the financial analysis and the debt-management 12 plan required by subsection (b)(2);

13 (2) the individual is advised of the availability of counseling by telephone 14 or in person and is afforded the opportunity for counseling and for discussion of the financial 15 analysis and the initial debt-management plan with a certified counselor;

16 (3) the materials are presented in such a way that the individual can print
17 them;

18 (4) the provider informs the individual that upon electronic, telephonic, or 19 written request, the provider will send the individual a written copy of the materials required by 20 Section 14(c) at no charge;

21 (5) with respect to disclosure via an Internet web site of the information
22 required by Section 14(d) and (e) :

23 (A) the disclosure appears on a separate screen that:

24 (i) contains no other information; and

(ii) the individual must see before proceeding to assent to formation of a debt-management plan; and

(B) the provider informs the individual that, upon electronic, telephonic, or written request it will send the individual a written copy at no charge; and

(6) within 14 days, the provider sends the individual, at no charge, a signed, written copy of the agreement that complies with Sections 16 and 23.

(b) A debt-management-services provider that pursuant to this section complies with Section 14 by means of electronic communication via its Internet web site shall disclose on the home page of that web site:

(1) its name and all names under which it does business;

(2) its principal business address and telephone number; and

(3) the names of its principal officers.

(c) A debt-management-services provider that forms debt-management plans or debt-settlement plans with individuals on its Internet web site shall respond to electronically communicated requests for counseling or customer service within a reasonable time during ordinary business hours.

Preliminary Comments

Subsection (a): Under paragraph (2), if counseling in person is not readily available in reasonable proximity to the individual's residence, the debt-management-services provider must offer counseling by telephone. An alternative approach would permit agencies to operate entirely by electronic communication, in which event paragraph (2) would be revised to require the agency to disclose that it operates entirely by electronic communication, that some other agencies provide personal contact, and that if the individual wants personal contact he or she should seek out one of those other agencies.

To meet the objectives of physical delivery, electronic delivery must satisfy certain requirements of form, such as appearing on a screen that contains no other information. Paragraph (5)(B) prohibits the provider from limiting the medium the individual may use to 1 request a written copy.

3 Even if a debt-management plan is formed over the Internet, the individual should have a
4 hard copy of the agreement with the debt-management-services provider. Paragraph (6) requires
5 the provider to mail one. Alternatives would be to require the provider to mail one only if the 6 individual so requests or to require the provider to make it available electronically in a form that 7 the individual may print out.

8
9 Subsection (b): An agency might do business under numerous names. Should the statute
10 permit the agency to provide this information via a link to another page of the website? The 11 same question exists with respect to the names of its principal officers.

12
13 Subsection (c): The debt-management-services provider that operates exclusively via its 14 web site must comply with Section 13 (maintain an adequate telephone system). Having invited
15 electronic communication, however, it also must respond within a reasonable time to requests

17 18 SECTION 16. FORM AND CONTENTS OF AGREEMENT.

19 (a) Every debt-management-services agreement must:

20 (1) be dated and signed by the debt-management-services provider and 21 the individual;

22 (2) include the name and address of the individual and the name, address, 23 and telephone number of the debt-management-services provider; and 24 (3) disclose:

25 (A) the services to be provided;

26 (B) all fees, individually itemized, to be paid by the individual;

27 (C) that the debt-management-services provider may not require a 28 voluntary contribution from the individual for any service provided to the individual;

29 (D) the schedule of payments to be made by the individual,
30 including the amount of each payment, the date on which each payment is due, an estimate in 31 good faith of the date of the last payment, and an itemization of each payment showing how

1 much will be retained by the debt-management-services provider for its services and how much
2 will be distributed to the individual's creditors;

3 (E) each creditor of the individual to which payment will be made,
4 the amount owed to each creditor, the concessions the debt-management-services provider
5 reasonably expects each creditor to offer, and the schedule of payments to each creditor,
6 including the amount and date on which each payment will be made;

7 (F) each creditor that is not participating in the debt-management
8 plan and to which the debt-management-services provider will not be directing money;

9 (G) unless it is not true, that the debt-management-services
10 provider may receive compensation from the individual's creditors for the benefits it provides to 11 the creditors;

12 (H) that establishment of a debt-management plan may adversely
13 affect the individual's credit rating and credit scores;

14 (I) that the debt-management-services provider, if consistent with 15 good faith, may terminate the agreement for good cause and upon return of unexpended money
16 of the individual;

17 (J) that the individual may contact the administrator with any 18 questions or complaints regarding the debt-management-services provider; and

19 (K) the address, telephone number, and Internet address or web
20 site of the administrator.

21 (b) If the administrator supplies the debt-management-services provider with any 22 of the information required under subsection (a)(3)(K), the provider complies with that 23 subsection only by disclosing the information supplied by the administrator.

1 (c) Every debt-management-services agreement must provide that:

2 (1) the individual has a right to terminate the agreement at any time,
3 without penalty or obligation, by giving the debt-management-services provider written or 4 electronic notice;

5 (2) the individual who terminates is entitled to a refund of all unexpended
6 money that the individual has paid to the debt-management-services provider for the reduction of 7 the individual's debt;

8 (3) the individual authorizes any bank in which the debt-management-
9 services provider has established a trust account to disclose to the administrator any financial 10 records relating to the trust account;

11 (4) the debt-management-services provider will notify the individual
12 within five days after learning of a creditor's decision to withdraw from a debt-management plan
13 and that this notice will include:

14 (A) the identity of the creditor; and

15 (B) the right of the individual to modify or terminate the debt-
16 management-services agreement.

17 (d) A debt-management-services agreement may not:

18 (1) provide for payments by the individual for longer than 60 months or 19 other period established by rule of the administrator;

20 (2) provide that the law of any jurisdiction other than this state applies;

21 (3) contain a provision that modifies or limits otherwise available forums 22 or procedural rights that are necessary or useful to the individual in the enforcement of the 23 individual's rights under this [act] or law other than this [act];

1 (4) contain a provision that restricts the individual’s remedies under this 2 [act] or law other than this [act]; or

3 (5) contain a provision that:

4 (A) limits or releases the liability of any person for failing to 5 perform the debt-management-services agreement or violating this [act]; or

6 (B) indemnifies any person for liability arising under this [act] or 7 out of performance of the debt-management-services agreement.

8 (e) The rights and obligations specified in subsection (c) exist even if the debt-
9 management-services provider has not complied with the requirements of that subsection. A 10 provision in a debt-management-services agreement that violates subsection (d) is void.

11 (f) An individual may rescind a debt-management-services agreement until 12 midnight of the third business day after the individual receives a copy of an agreement that 13 complies with Sections 16 and 23. To exercise the right to rescind, the individual must give 14 written or electronic notice to the debt-management-services provider. Notice by mail is given 15 when mailed.

16 (g) Every debt-management-services agreement must be accompanied by a form
17 that has the heading “Notice of Cancellation” and contains in bold face type:

18 You may cancel this agreement, without any penalty or obligation,
19 at any time before midnight of the third day that begins the day after you 20 sign it.

21 To cancel this agreement during this period, send an e-mail to (e-22 mail address of the provider) or send or deliver a signed, dated copy of 23 this notice, or any other written notice to (name of debt-management-

1 services provider) at (address) before midnight on (date). If you cancel
2 this agreement within the 3-day period, we will refund all money you
3 already have paid us.

4 You also may terminate this agreement at any later time, but we
5 may not refund fees you have paid us.

6 I hereby cancel this contract,

7 (date) ,

8 (individual's signature) .

9 (h) An individual may waive the right to cancel in the event of a personal
10 emergency. To waive the right, the individual must deliver a signed, hand-written statement 11 describing the circumstances that necessitate a waiver. The waiver must explicitly waive the 12 right to cancel. An electronic waiver is void.

14
15 Subsection (a):

16
17 Paragraph (3)(D): The date of the last payment depends on the creditors' concessions and 18 the amount of the monthly payment by the individual, each of which may change during the 19 course of the plan. It also depends on the timeliness of payment by the individual. None of this 20 can be known in advance. Therefore, paragraph (3)(D) requires a good faith estimate of the date 21 of the final payment.

23 Paragraph (3)(F): As with Section 14(c)(2) (pre-agreement disclosures), identification 24 of nonparticipating creditors includes secured creditors but refers only to creditors that the 25 individual has disclosed to the debt-management-services provider or that the provider otherwise
26 actually knows to be a creditor of the individual. Subparagraph (F) does not require the provider 27 to make any disclosures with respect to creditors of which it is unaware.

28
29 Paragraph (3)(I): The good cause for termination by a provider pursuant to this paragraph 30 does not encompass a desire to escape the fee structure to which the provider may have 31 committed. Rather, it contemplates such things as the individual's failure to make monthly 32 payments or to cooperate with the provider. The standard of good cause is higher with respect to 33 a debt-settlement plan than for a debt-management plan because the adverse consequences to the 1 individual are higher.

2
3 Paragraph (3)(K): Compliance with subparagraph (K) will mean that a provider that 4 serves individuals in 50 states may have to have a different form for each state. Computerization
5 of the standard document may minimize the difficulty of complying with this disclosure 6 requirement.

7
8 A provision in paragraph (3) requiring disclosure of the name and address of the bank
9 holding the trust account has been deleted.

11 Subsection (c): Current practice by many counseling agencies is to permit termination at 12 any time; they do not even purport to bind the individual to a contract. The draft mandates this 13 right of termination for all agencies. If the individual has an unlimited right of termination, it is 14 questionable whether there is a contract at all. The requirement of notice may supply sufficient 15 obligation to support a contract, but even if it does not, there is no reason why the industry, and 16 regulation of the industry, cannot operate on the basis of agreements that are not enforceable
17 under the common law of contracts. This Act can provide the authorization for the industry, as 18 well as the regulation of it.

20 With respect to any requirement of notice of termination, what should be the 21 consequence of the individual's failure to give notice? Unless it gives the debt-management-
22 services provider some right it would otherwise not have, the imposition of a notice requirement 23 may be unwise: it may mislead the individual into continuing with a debt-management plan even 24 after he or she no longer wants it. On the other hand, perhaps the requirement is desirable simply 25 as a matter of bringing closure to the transaction.

27 The prior draft gave the individual the right to modify an agreement under certain 28 circumstances. This provision has been dropped because the right to terminate altogether may 29 include the less drastic option of modifying the agreement. If the Drafting Committee believes 30 that unilateral modification by the individual should be permitted, subsection (c)(1) will be 31 modified to read, "right to terminate or modify the agreement at any time."

32
33 Subsection (d): This subsection seeks to preserve the individual's common law and 34 statutory rights against the unilateral decision of a debt-management-services provider to remove 35 or restrict them. Thus an agency may not evade this Act by adopting the law of another 36 jurisdiction. Nor may an agency contract for a distant forum or the surrender of rights or 37 remedies under other law, including the right to proceed by way of a class action when 38 appropriate. Paragraph (3) bars provisions requiring resolution of dispute by arbitration. A 39 statute designed to protect individuals should not permit the deprivation of important procedural 40 and jurisdictional rights by means of a unilateral decision by the other party. Furthermore,
41 because of the non-public nature of arbitration proceedings and results, depriving the individual
42 of the right to judicial resolution of any dispute will tend to undermine the uniformity of the law
43 that the Act seeks to achieve. This provision may be preempted by federal law, but would be 44 effective if the Federal Arbitration Act is revised to exempt consumer transactions. In any event, 45 the prohibition on banning class actions removes much of the incentive for arbitration clauses.

1 Subsection (f): Section 16 specifies the form of the agreement, and Section 23 lists
2 prohibited terms. Subsections (f) through (h) derive from section 125 of the Truth-in-Lending
3 Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1635. Though the language of subsections (f) through (h) varies from the 4 language of the federal statute, courts should interpret these subsections in a manner consistent
5 with the interpretations of section 125, including Regulation Z and the Official Staff
6 Commentary.
7

8 SECTION 17. FOREIGN LANGUAGE. If a debt-management-services provider
9 communicates with an individual primarily in a language other than English, all disclosures and 10 documents required by this [act] must be in the other language.

11 SECTION 18. VOID AGREEMENTS.

12 (a) A debt-management-services agreement between an individual and a person
13 that is not registered under this [act] is void.

14 (b) All amounts paid by an individual under a void debt-management-services
15 agreement are recoverable, together with costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

16 (c) A person does not have a claim against an individual for breach of contract
17 and does not have a claim in restitution with respect to an agreement that is void under this 18 section.

19 Preliminary Comments
20

21 Subsection (a): The Consumer Federation/NCLC report recommends that the contract be 22 void if it violates any requirement of the proposed statute. This section (like the CFA/NCLC's 23 Model Consumer Debt Management Services Act) does not go that far. It limits voidness to 24 agreements by a debt-management-services provider that is not properly registered under Section
25 5. On the other hand, if a provider is not properly registered, it must return to the individual all 26 money paid by the individual, even amounts passed on to creditors. This is a windfall to the 27 individual and a penalty to the provider. It is included for its deterrent effect. Subsection (c)
28 clarifies that the provider has no claim whatsoever against the individual. The individual's right 29 to terminate the agreement would foreclose a claim for future loss, and this section is intended to 30 make it clear that the provider has no claims with respect to any benefits conferred on the 31 individual in the past.

1 SECTION 19. TRUST ACCOUNT.

2 (a) Within two business days after receipt, a debt-management-services provider
3 shall deposit in a trust account established for the benefit of individuals all money paid by or on 4 behalf of an individual for disbursement to the individual's creditors.

5 (b) Money in a trust account is not property of a debt-management-services
6 provider. A trust account established pursuant to this section is not available to creditors of the 7 debt-management-services provider, except that an individual from whom, or on whose behalf,
8 the debt-management-services provider has received money has access to the trust account to the 9 extent that the money deposited by or on behalf of the individual has not been distributed to 10 creditors of the individual.

11 (c) A debt-management-services provider shall:

12 (1) maintain separate records of account for each individual to whom the 13 provider is providing debt-management services;

14 (2) disburse money paid by or on behalf of an individual to creditors of 15 the individual as disclosed in the debt-management-services agreement, except that:

16 (A) the disbursement must comply with the due date established by 17 each creditor; and

18 (B) the provider may delay payment to the extent that a check
19 written by the individual has not cleared; and

20 (3) promptly correct any payments that are not made or that are 21 misdirected as a result of an error by the debt-management-services provider and reimburse the 22 individual for any costs or fees imposed by a creditor as a result of the failure to pay or 23 misdirection.

1 (d) A person may not commingle the money in a trust account established for the 2 benefit of individuals with money of a person other than those individuals.

3 (e) A debt-management-services provider shall reconcile the trust account at least 4 once a month. The reconciliation must ascertain the cash balance in the account and compare it
5 to the sum of the escrow balances in each individual's account. If the debt-management-services 6 provider has more than one trust account, each trust account must be individually scheduled and 7 reconciled.

8 (f) Each trust account of a debt-management-services provider must at all times
9 have a cash balance equal to or greater than the sum of the escrow balances of each individual's 10 account.

11 (g) If its trust account does not contain sufficient money to cover the aggregate 12 individual balances, the debt-management-services provider, immediately upon discovery, shall 13 notify the administrator by telephone, facsimile, electronic mail, or other method approved by 14 the administrator. The debt-management-services provider shall also provide written notice 15 including a description of the remedial action taken.

16 (h) If all of the unpaid creditors to whom a debt-settlement-services provider has 17 submitted proposals refuse to assent to those proposals, the provider shall promptly refund to the 18 individual all money paid by or on behalf of the individual which has not been paid to the 19 creditors.

20 (i) Before changing the financial institution at which its trust account is located, a 21 debt-management-services provider shall deliver to the administrator the consent required by 22 Section 6(c)(24).

1
2 Subsection (a): For debt-management-services providers at brick and mortar locations, it
3 would be feasible to require the trust account to be located in this state. For providers that 4 operate (via the Internet or telephone) nationally out of an office not located in this state, it may 5 be unduly burdensome to require a trust account in each state in which the provider operates.
6 Some existing state statutes, however, do just that. This section permits the agency to deposit
7 money of residents of this state into a trust account located in another state and containing the 8 money of individuals who reside in other states. But Section 6(c)(24) requires the depository
9 bank to provide irrevocable consent to a turnover order by the administrator. A bank may be 10 unwilling to do this if the account contains the money of individuals who reside in other states.
11 As a practical matter, then, an agency may have to establish a separate account for each state 12 whose residents it serves.

14 Subsection (b): As a person with a claim against a debt-management-services provider,
15 the individual is a “creditor.” Nevertheless, the individual should have access to the trust 16 account, but only to the extent the debt-management-services provider has received money from 17 or on behalf of the individual and has not distributed them to creditors. Without this limitation, 18 the individual’s compensation out of the trust account would come at the expense of other 19 individuals whose money comprises the trust account. Compensation of the individual for other 20 loss or damage will have to come from assets of the debt-management-services provider or the 21 bond or other assurance required by Section 12. Because the money does not belong to the 22 provider, the trust account may not bear interest for the benefit of the provider.
23

24 Subsection (c): As provided in subsection (b), money in the trust account is not property
25 of the debt-management-services provider. This subsection prohibits commingling the trust
26 money with the provider’s own money. Under paragraph (2) the debt-management-services 27 agreement may establish a date by which the individual must remit to the provider and a date by 28 which the provider must remit to the creditors, but the agreement—and the provider’s 29 performance—must conform to the due dates established by the creditors. It is expected that, if 30 necessary or desirable, the provider will secure the creditors’ assent to modify the original due 31 dates to maximize the feasibility of the plan.
32

33 Subsection (f): Section 29(b) provides that failure to maintain the amount is cause for 34 summary suspension of registration.
35

36 Subsection (h): Once it becomes clear that a debt-settlement plan will not work, the 37 provider must refund the individual’s money.
38

39 Subsection (i): Section 6(c)(24) requires the agency and the bank to give irrevocable 40 consent to permit the administrator to access the account in connection with enforcement of the 41 Act.

43 SECTION 20. FEES: MONETARY LIMITS.

1 (a) A person may not impose a fee or other charge on an individual or receive
2 money from or on behalf of an individual for debt-management services except as permitted 3 under this section.

4 (b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c) and Section 15(a)(6), a 5 person providing debt-management services to an individual may not impose charges or receive 6 payment for the services until the person and the individual have executed a debt-management-
7 services agreement that complies with Sections 16 and 23 and the person has signed and given 8 the individual a completed copy of it.

9 (c) Except as otherwise provided in Section 21(c):

10 (1) a debt-management-services provider may charge for its educational 11 and counseling services a fee that is fair and reasonable, as permitted by the administrator; and

12 (2) if an individual enters a debt-management plan or a debt-settlement
13 plan, the provider may charge a fee not exceeding $[50] for consultation, obtaining a credit 14 report, setting up an account, and the like.

15 (d) The fees permitted by subsection (c) must be deducted from:

16 (1) the first six payments of any monthly maintenance fee in connection 17 with a debt-management plan permitted by subsection (b); and

18 (2) the compensation permitted a debt-settlement-services provider by 19 subsections (f) and (g).

20 (e) Except as otherwise provided in Section 21(c), a debt-management-services
21 provider other than a debt-settlement-services provider may charge a monthly maintenance fee 22 not exceeding the lesser of [6%] of the monthly payment by or on behalf of the individual or 23 $[8] for each creditor that is listed in the debt-management-services agreement between the debt-

1 management-services provider and the individual, except that the total monthly maintenance fee
2 may not exceed $[40].

3 (f) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c), a person providing debt-4 settlement services may not charge or receive compensation until the settlement of an 5 individual's debt with a creditor.

6 (g) The amount of compensation of a debt-settlement-services provider may not 7 exceed the lesser of [$600] or [15%] of the amount of debt that each creditor forgives.

8 (h) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c), a person providing debt-9 management services to an individual may not charge a fee to:

10 (1) prepare a financial analysis or an initial budget plan for the individual;

11 (2) provide education or counseling about the management of personal 12 finance; or

13 (3) terminate a debt-management-services agreement.

14 (i) If a payment by an individual under this section is dishonored, a debt-15 management-services provider may impose a reasonable charge on the individual, not to exceed 16 the amount allowable for dishonored checks or other instruments by Section ____.

17 (j) The administrator shall [may] adjust the dollar amounts specified in this 18 section to reflect inflation and changes in the cost-of-living index.

19 Legislative Note: In subsection (i) insert the citation of the statute specifying the maximum 20 charge a payee may impose for a dishonored check.

23
24 Subsection (b): Section 15(a)(6) permits delayed delivery of the written agreement by a
25 provider that communicates by electronic means. The phrase "payment for the services," viz., 26 debt-management services, means that the prohibition in this subsection does not apply to fees
27 for education or counseling. If the debt-management-services provider creates a debt-

1 management plan for the individual, the next subsection requires that the educational or 2 counseling fees be credited against the fees for the DMP.

3
4 Subsection (c): Section 21(c) requires the provider to reduce or waive its fee in 5 appropriate cases.

6
7 The Oregon statute permits a charge for “education classes” if (1) the classes and the fees
8 are approved by the administrator or (2) the classes are required by federal or state law, the 9 provider is certified under that law as an approved provider of the classes, and the administrator
10 approves the fee. If the bankruptcy bill is enacted, any federal law authorizing specific charges
11 for the education required by the bill would be likely to preempt any provision in this Act that 12 caps fees for the services required by that bill. If the federal law authorizes charges by resort to a 13 standard such as “reasonable,” a limit in state law might be viewed as defining “reasonable” and 14 not preempted.

16 Subsection (d): Subsection (c) permits a debt-management-services provider to charge a 17 set-up fee and a fee for educational services. Subsection (e) permits a monthly service fee, and 18 this fee is comprehensive, so if there is a set-up fee or a charge for education or counseling
19 before the individual enters a DMP, the provider must refund them, in the form of a credit 20 against the accruing monthly charges.

22 Subsection (d): Using the numbers in brackets, the $40 limit would apply if either the 23 number if creditors exceeds five or the monthly payment exceeds $666.

25 Some states cap the fees at a percentage of the monthly payment by the individual 26 without regard to the number of creditors. (15% is common in statutes regulating debt pro-raters, 27 the forbears of debt-settlement service providers.) Others, e.g., California, use a combination of a 28 percentage and a fixed cap. Washington prohibits imposition of a fee with respect to payments to 29 utility companies or landlords. In Michigan, Nebraska, and Washington, the limit on the set-up 30 fee is $25. The trade associations limit their member agencies to $75. See the Reporter’s Note to 31 subsection (g). The ISO standard for accreditation caps the set-up fee at $75 and the monthly fee 32 at $50.

34 Providers of debt-settlement services typically charge a percentage of the forgiven debt, 35 as much as 25% or more, in addition to large front-end fees and perhaps monthly charges. The 36 cap imposed by this section is much lower, but does not apply to those entities. Subsection (g) 37 establishes the cap for debt-settlement-services providers.

38
39 Subsections (f)-(g): Subsection (c) permits the debt-settlement-services provider to 40 receive the set-up fee. Subsection (d) does not authorize a debt-settlement-services provider to 41 charge a monthly fee, so the ban of subsection (a) applies. So under subsections (a)-(d), a debt-
42 settlement-services provider may charge the set-up fee but not any monthly fee. Subsection (f)
43 makes this ban on monthly fees clear. Subsection (g) permits compensation of up to [$600] (or 44 [15% of $4000] of debt forgiveness) at the time the individual’s debt to a creditor is settled, and 45 subsection (d) requires that the amount of any set-up fee and any fee for education or counseling

1 be credited against this compensation. The 15%/$600 cap applies to each debt that is settled. The 2 Drafting Committee has not yet considered whether this approach and these limits are 3 appropriate and has not yet considered whether debt-settlement-services providers should be 4 subject to the same caps as other debt-management-services providers.
5

6 Subsection (i): The Drafting Committee may wish to consider whether it is appropriate to 7 borrow the state's general provision on fees for bounced checks. In the context of debt-
8 management-services agreements, it may be appropriate to set the sanction for writing a bad
9 check at a level that just permits the provider to recover the costs a bad check causes it to incur.
10

11 Subsection (j): The Drafting Committee must decide whether there should be adjustment 12 of dollar amounts and, if so, whether adjustments should be mandatory or optional.

14 SECTION 21. FEES: OTHER LIMITS.

15 (a) A debt-management-services provider may not require a voluntary
16 contribution from an individual or any other person for any service provided to the individual. A 17 debt-management-services provider may accept voluntary contributions from an individual but,
18 until 30 days after completion or termination of a debt-management plan, the aggregate amount
19 of money received from or on behalf of the individual may not exceed the total amount the debt-
20 management-services provider is authorized to charge the individual under Section 20.

21 (b) A debt-management-services provider, as a condition of entering into a debt-
22 management plan or a debt-settlement plan, may not require an individual to purchase a
23 counseling session, an educational program, or materials and supplies. Except as otherwise 24 provided in subsection (c), however, the provider may charge the individual, to the extent 25 permitted by Section 20(a), for counseling sessions, educational programs, or supplies if the 26 individual does not enter into a plan.

27 (c) A debt-management-services provider may not deny services to an individual 28 whom it determines cannot pay the provider's usual fee. The provider shall reduce its fee to the 29 extent necessary to enable the individual to acquire its services.

1 (d) If an individual who has entered into a debt-management-services agreement
2 does not make payments for a period of 60 days, the agreement terminates. The debt-
3 management-services provider shall immediately return to the individual any money of the 4 individual remaining in its possession or in the trust account.

5 (e) If a debt-management-services provider imposes a fee or other charge or 6 receives money or other payments not authorized by Section 20, except as a result of an 7 unintentional and bona fide error notwithstanding the maintenance of procedures reasonably 8 designed to prevent the error, the debt-management-services agreement becomes void and the 9 debt-management-services provider [shall immediately return the amount of the unauthorized
10 fees, charges, money, or payments to the individual] [shall return to the individual all amounts 11 received from or on behalf of the individual].

12 (f) If, as a result of an unintentional error made in good faith notwithstanding the 13 maintenance of procedures reasonably designed to prevent the error, a debt-management-14 services provider receives money not authorized by Section 20, the provider shall return that 15 money to the individual no later than two days after receiving it.

18 Subsection (a): Section 20(a) precludes a debt-management-services provider from 19 requiring or receiving a “voluntary” payment in addition to or in excess of the amounts
20 stipulated in Section 20. The separate prohibition in this section is included in order to leave no
21 doubt that the current practice of many debt-management-services providers is unlawful. The 22 point presumably could be made in a comment to Section 20(a) instead of being included in the 23 text of the statute. The limitation on voluntary contributions is designed to prevent evasions of 24 the basic prohibition.

26 Subsection (b): This subsection authorizes a counseling agency to impose charges for 27 education or counseling services. Any charge must be reasonable.

28
29 Subsection (c): This is the current practice of most counseling agencies and is a
30 requirement for qualification as a § 501(c)(3) entity. An industry Observer at the November

1 2003 meeting pointed to the risk of adverse selection since virtually all individuals seeking debt-
2 management services are financially stressed. The ISO standards for accreditation, however,
3 require that there “be objective evidence of conformance to demonstrate ... the individual credit
4 counseling agency stands ready to serve all clients who seek service regardless of ... a client’s 5 ability to pay”
6

7 Subsection (d): In the context of a debt-management plan, if the debt-management-
8 services provider is acting in conformity with the Act, there will be no money in the trust
9 account. This provision addresses the provider that has not distributed the money to creditors as 10 required by Section 19(c)(2). Perhaps more importantly, it requires the provider of debt-
11 settlement services to return the individual’s money.
12

13 Subsection (e): The Drafting Committee has two decisions to make here: (a) whether, if 14 the debt-management-services provider charges excessive fees, the agreement should be void;
15 and (b) if it is void, whether the sanction should be return of the excessive amount or the more 16 deterrence-oriented remedy of returning all money received from the individual, including those 17 that were paid over to the creditors. A similar question is presented under Section 18(b) (void 18 agreements).

20 SECTION 22. PERIODIC REPORTS AND RETENTION OF RECORDS.

21 (a) A debt-management-services provider shall provide the accounting required 22 by subsection (b):

- 23 (1) at least once each calendar quarter;
24 (2) upon rescission or termination of a debt-management-services 25 agreement; and
26 (3) within five business days after a request by an individual.

27 (b) A debt-management-services provider shall provide each individual for 28 whom it has established a debt-management plan or a debt-settlement plan a written accounting 29 of:

- 30 (1) the amount of money received from the individual since the last 31 report;
32 (2) the amounts and dates of disbursement made on the individual’s

1 behalf, or by the individual upon the direction of the debt-management-services provider, to each
2 creditor listed in the plan since the last report;

3 (3) any amount deducted from amounts received from the individual;

4 (4) any amount held in reserve; and

5 (5) the total amount a creditor has agreed to accept as payment in full on a 6 debt owed by the individual.

7 (c) A debt-management-services provider shall maintain records for each
8 individual for whom it provides debt-management services for six years after the last payment
9 made by the individual. The debt-management-services provider may use electronic or other 10 means of storage of the records.

12
13 Subsection (a): Some debt-management-services providers provide accountings on a 14 monthly basis. Nothing in this section is intended to discourage this practice.

15
16 Subsection (b): Paragraph (2) has been revised to pick up those agencies, typically 17 providers of debt-settlement services, that have the individual establish a savings account rather 18 than sending payment to the provider for placement in an escrow account. The provider complies 19 by stating the dates on which it directed the individual to make payment.

20
21 Paragraph (5) applies primarily to debt-settlement agencies. If no creditor has agreed to 22 settlement terms during a reporting period, the subsection does not require the agency to make 23 any disclosure. Hence, the subsection ordinarily would not apply to agencies operating a debt-
24 management plan, in which creditors receive the full principal amount of the debt owed them 25 and do not “agree” to accept any particular amount as payment in full.

26
27 Subsection (c): Implicit in the permission to maintain records electronically is a 28 requirement that the records may be produced promptly upon proper request.

29 30 SECTION 23. PROHIBITED ACTS AND PRACTICES.

31 Preliminary Comments

32
33 Most states that regulate credit counseling agencies have a list of prohibited practices.

1 The prohibited practices have several discrete purposes:

3 (1) to implement the policy that a debt-management-services provider should assist the 4 individual in dealing with his or her creditors but not become a creditor itself or have an 5 adversary relationship with the individual (paragraphs 1-5);

6
7 (2) to implement the objective of improving, not worsening, the individual's economic 8 situation (paragraph 6);

9
10 (3) to prevent deception (paragraphs 7-10);

11
12 (4) to promote the debt-management-services provider's duty of loyalty to the individual 13 (paragraphs 11-16); and 14

15 (5) to prevent unfairness or abuse (paragraphs 17-18).

16
17 At the November 2003 meeting there was some discussion of whether the Act should state that 18 counseling agencies are fiduciaries. An agency undoubtedly is a fiduciary with respect to 19 management and disbursement of the trust account, even without any express statement to that 20 effect in the Act. The Drafting Committee plans to consider whether there should be a broader 21 statement regarding an agency's fiduciary status and, if so, exactly what that status entails. If the 22 Committee decides to include a fiduciary obligation, this section might be an appropriate place
23 to locate it.

25 (a) A debt-management-services provider may not:

26 (1) misappropriate or misapply money in a trust account;

27 (2) purchase a debt or obligation of an individual;

28 (3) receive from or on behalf of an individual a promissory note or other 29 negotiable instrument other than a check or a demand draft;

30 (4) lend money or provide credit to an individual;

31 (5) obtain a mortgage or other security interest in property owned by an 32 individual;

33 (6) structure a debt-management plan in a manner that would result in a 34 negative amortization of any of the individual's debts, unless a creditor that is owed a negatively
35 amortizing debt agrees to refund or waive the finance charge upon payment of the principal

1 amount of the debt;

2 (7) employ an unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive act or practice,
3 including the knowing omission of any material information;

4 (8) offer a gift, bonus, premium, reward, or other compensation to an 5 individual for executing a debt-management-services agreement;

6 (9) make a representation that:

7 (A) the debt-management-services provider will provide money to 8 pay bills or prevent attachments;

9 (B) payment of a certain amount will permit satisfaction of a 10 certain amount or range of indebtedness; or

11 (C) participation in a debt-management plan will or may prevent 12 litigation, garnishment, attachment, repossession, foreclosure, eviction, or loss of employment;

13 (10) represent that it is authorized or competent to furnish legal advice or 14 perform legal services;

15 (11) disclose the identity or identifying information of the individual or 16 the identity of the individual's creditors, except to:

17 (A) the administrator, upon proper demand; or

18 (B) a creditor of the individual, to the extent necessary to secure
19 the cooperation of the creditor in the debt-management plan;

20 (12) offer, pay, or give a gift, bonus, premium, reward, or other
21 compensation to a person for referring a prospective customer, except to the extent the payment 22 is reasonable and represents only compensation for the service of determining whether the 23 services of the debt-management-services provider are suitable for the individual;

1 (13) receive a bonus, commission, or other consideration for referring an 2 individual to a person for any reason;

3 (14) except as otherwise provided for debt-settlement-services providers
4 in Section 20(g), provide the individual less than the full benefit of a compromise of a debt
5 arranged by the provider;

6 (15) charge for or provide credit insurance, other insurance of any kind,
7 coupons for any kinds of goods or services, membership in a club of any kind, access to 8 computers or the Internet, or any other matter not directly related to debt-management services
9 or education concerning personal finance;

10 (16) compensate its employees on the basis of a formula that incorporates 11 the number of individuals the employee induces to enter into debt-management-services
12 agreements;

13 (17) take a confession of judgment or power of attorney to confess 14 judgment against an individual or appear on the individual's behalf in a judicial proceeding; or 15 (18) furnish legal advice or perform legal services, including the 16 preparation of or advice concerning a release of attachment or garnishment, stipulation, affidavit

17 for exemption, compromise agreement, or other legal document.

18 (b) A person that provides debt-management services may not, directly or 19 indirectly, collect a fee for advising, arranging, or assisting an individual in connection with 20 obtaining an extension of credit or other service from a lender or service provider if:

21 (1) the person providing debt-management services, or an officer, 22 director, owner, employee, or affiliate of that person, has an ownership interest greater than 23 [one] percent in the lender or service provider; or

1 (2) an officer, director, owner, employee, or affiliate of the person
2 providing debt-management services is an officer, director, owner, employee, or affiliate of the 3 lender or service provider.

4 (c) A debt-management-services provider may not purchase goods, services, or 5 facilities from a person if an officer, director, owner, employee, or affiliate of the debt-
6 management-services provider has an ownership interest greater than [one] percent in the person,
7 or an officer, director, owner, or affiliate of the debt-management-services provider is an officer,
8 director, owner, employee, or affiliate of the provider of the goods, services, or facilities. This 9 subsection does not prohibit a debt-management-services provider from purchasing legal,
10 accounting, or banking services from a member of its board of directors, if the supplier of those 11 services both:

12 (1) supplies those services generally; and

13 (2) supplies them to the debt-management-services provider at a cost less 14 than the cost generally charged by the supplier of those services to other persons.

15 (d) A debt-management-services provider, in connection with collecting debts
16 owed it or another person, may not use a false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means;
17 engage in conduct the natural consequence of which is to harass, oppress, or abuse a person; or 18 use unfair or unconscionable means.

19 (e) In applying subsection (d), the administrator and the courts shall give due 20 consideration to judicial and administrative interpretations given to Sections 806 through 808 of 21 the Federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 1692d-1692f).

22 (f) This [act] does not prohibit an assignment of wages by an individual to a debt-
23 management-services provider to the extent permitted by law other than this [act].

Preliminary Comments

Subsection (a):

The November 2003 draft contained a prohibition against operating as a collection agency, as defined in federal and state law. Those definitions, however, contain an exception for nonprofit credit counseling agencies. E.g., Fair Debt Collection Practices Act § 803(6)(E), 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(6)(E). Hence, the prohibition is deleted. In its place new subsection (d) has been added to prohibit the offensive behavior that the debt collection statutes prohibit.

Paragraph (3): At the November 2003 meeting an Observer suggested narrowing “draft” to “demand draft,” Under UCC §3-104 a draft is an unconditional order directing a third party to pay money to the person presenting the draft (or to the order of that person). Narrowing the exception has the effect of permitting a debt-management-services provider to receive a draft payable on demand, but not a draft directing payment on a future date. The rationale for banning promissory notes would seem to apply to drafts that are to be paid in the future. This draft therefore incorporates the suggestion and permits the use only of demand drafts.

Paragraph (6): At the November 2003 meeting an Observer noted that at least one creditor engages in a practice that might, depending on the annual percentage rate and the amount of the monthly payment, result in negative amortization. This creditor, however, forgives or refunds the accrued finance charge if the individual completes the debt-management plan. Apparently, this is true even if the individual ends his or her relationship with the counseling agency and self-administers the plan. If the individual does not self-administer it to completion, the negative amortization remains. Given the high rate of non-completion of plans, the Drafting Committee may consider whether it is appropriate to encourage this creditor’s practices by allowing plans to include debts that involve negative amortization. The Virginia statute deals with this general problem by prohibiting a plan that, at the conclusion of the plan, would result in negative amortization. This approach would not prohibit the practice of the creditor in question.

Paragraph (7): This paragraph prohibits false or misleading representations whether or not the provider knows of the deception. In accord with existing UDAP statutes, the risk of falsity or deception is on the person that makes an express statement. On the other hand, the paragraph prohibits omissions only if the omitted facts are material and are known to the provider.

Alternate articulations found in some statutes include: “employ any scheme, device, or artifice to defraud” and “engage in any act, practice, or course of business that would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person.”

Paragraph (9): Subparagraphs (B)-(C) prohibit certain representations that sometimes are used to entice individuals to sign up for debt-management and debt-settlement plans. They are prohibited here even when they are true because they too often are untrue

Paragraph (11): So long as the debt-management-services provider strips out the

1 individual's identifying information, it would be free to disclose information for purposes of 2 academic research or construction of a scoring system. On the other hand, the only permissible
3 purpose for a disclosure to a creditor of the individual is to secure its cooperation.
4

5 Paragraph (12): The November 2003 draft prohibited referral fees altogether. The current 6 draft prohibits them unless the referring party provides screening services to determine if the 7 prospective customer is a good candidate for the educational or other services of the debt-
8 management-services provider. The phrase "to the extent that" is intended to permit
9 compensation only for the screening services and not for the bare referral. The fact remains,
10 however, that whether the screening function is done by a creditor in-house or is outsourced, it is 11 a subset of the creditor's collection costs. The creditors' direct support of the counseling industry 12 has declined over the last decade. The Drafting Committee may consider whether to prohibit the 13 creditor from passing this indirect cost on to the debt-management-services provider.
14

15 Paragraph (13): This provision is the converse of paragraph (12). Its purpose is to reduce 16 or eliminate the economic incentive for an agency to refer individuals to persons who provide 17 loans or other products.

19 The November 2003 draft prohibited the agency from receiving "any cash, fee, gift, 20 bonus, premium, reward, or other compensation from a person other than the individual or 21 person on the individual's behalf in connection with the debt-management-services provider's
22 business of providing debt-management services." The former version went too far, in that it 23 would bar a counseling agency from receiving "fair-share" money from creditors. Additionally, 24 it would not achieve its objective because it applies "in connection with the ... business of 25 providing debt-management services," but "debt-management services" is defined to mean 26 receiving money from the individual and distributing it to creditors. Thus the prior version might 27 permit the agency to receive referral fees with respect to individuals who do not sign up for a 28 debt-management plan. The current version avoids these problems.
29

30 Paragraph (14): The cross-referenced section permits debt-settlement agencies to receive 31 [15%] of the forgiven debt. Other agencies would not be permitted to receive any portion of any 32 forgiven debt. The drafting may need further attention: by arranging for the compromise of "one 33 or more debts," an agency could bring itself within the definition of debt-settlement-services 34 provider and thus be authorized by § 20(g) to receive up to [15%] of the forgiven debt. Of 35 course, the agency would then be subject to all other sections applicable to debt-settlement-36 services providers.
37

38 Paragraph (15): This paragraph is intended to prohibit the sale to individuals of insurance 39 and other products that in other contexts have been the cause of large expense for largely 40 worthless products as a means of evading statutory regulation. The Drafting Committee may 41 wish to consider whether there are other evasions that should specifically be mentioned, or 42 whether the catch-all at the end of the paragraph suffices.

44 Paragraph (18): Paragraph (10) prohibits representations that an agency is authorized or 45 competent to provide legal services. This subsection prohibits performing those services. The

1 unauthorized practice of law is prohibited by other law, and this paragraph makes it a violation
2 of this Act, too. The Drafting Committee will need to resolve a dilemma: this paragraph 3 prohibits some activity of debt-settlement-services providers, viz., preparation of or advice
4 concerning a compromise agreement.

5
6 Subsection (b): This paragraph supplements subsection (a)(13) (prohibiting referral fees).
7 It is narrower than subsection (a)(13) in that it only applies if there is a particular relationship
8 between the agency and the other person.

9
10 The prohibition is drawn from the Maryland statute, but the Maryland statute only bans
11 the practice if the debt-management-services provider fails to disclose the relationship. If self-12 dealing is offensive, disclosure is not a sufficient response.

14 Subsection (c): The purpose of this subsection is to prohibit the use of a counseling
15 agency to channel money to related entities. Subsection (2) recognizes that members of an 16 agency's board of directors may provide services for free or on a reduced-fee basis. To the extent 17 this practice benefits the agency more than obtaining the services elsewhere would benefit it, the 18 practice seems unobjectionable. Limiting the nature of the services to those specified is designed 19 to prevent attempted evasions of the limit.

21 The Drafting Committee may wish to consider expanding the kinds of services covered 22 by this subsection and the kinds of insiders from whom the agency may purchase services. To 23 the extent the agency purchases at below-market prices, the transaction is unobjectionable. The 24 risk, of course, is re-opening the door to self-dealing.

25
26 Subsections (d)-(e): The language of subsection (d) is drawn almost verbatim from the 27 federal statute. To eliminate some of the vagueness of the terms in these provisions, paragraph 28 (3) directs the courts to look to the interpretations given the federal statute. This follows the 29 approach of statutes in more than 20 states, which direct their courts, in applying the state's 30 unfair-or-deceptive-acts-or-practices statutes, to be guided by the federal courts' interpretation of 31 section 5 of the FTC Act.

32 33 SECTION 24. ADVERTISING; MANDATORY PUBLIC EDUCATION.

34 (a) All advertising for debt-management services other than debt-settlement
35 services, regardless of medium, must disclose the information specified in Section 14(d). All 36 advertising for debt-settlement services, regardless of medium, must disclose the information
37 specified in Section 14(e).

38 (b) In every calendar year, every debt-management-services provider shall spend

1 on public education concerning personal finance an amount of money equal to the amount it
2 spends on advertising via television, radio, and the Internet, including e-mail. This public
3 education may not contain any self-promotion, but for purposes of this subsection, self-4 promotion does not include mentioning the name of the debt-management-services provider as 5 the provider of the education at the beginning or the end, or both, of the educational program. If 6 the debt-management-services provider is identified, the educational program must clearly and 7 conspicuously disclose the information specified in Section 14(d) or (e), as applicable.

8 Preliminary Comments

9
10 Subsection (a): This subsection seeks to counteract the deception and pressure often 11 exercised by debt-management-services providers that engage in extensive advertising. The 12 cross references are to the provisions requiring disclosure of the success rate of the agency's 13 plans; the likely impact on the individual's credit report; that plans are not suitable for all 14 individuals; and that other alternatives for dealing with indebtedness are available.

15
16 Subsection (b): This subsection seeks to expand the amount of public education
17 concerning management of personal finance. The Drafting Committee has not yet decided 18 whether to include this section.

19
20 Duties of Creditors: The credit counseling industry is largely a creation of the credit card
21 industry. The expansion of credit card debt in the last two decades is at least partially a result of 22 the promotional activities of those credit card issuers. Arguably, at the least, creditors have 23 responsibility for dealing with the problems in the counseling industry that led to the creation of 24 this reform effort. Creditors are assuming some responsibility on their own, as they revise the 25 manner in which they compensate the agencies for the benefits the agencies provide them. But 26 the Drafting Committee may wish to consider whether it is appropriate to impose some 27 obligations on the creditors, too.

28
29 Caveat: Credit card issuers that are regulated by the federal banking authorities may not 30 be subject to these restrictions by virtue of the preemption of state law. Nevertheless, it may still 31 be appropriate for the state to assert its view of the proper public policy with respect to these 32 matters. It might even influence the rules adopted by the federal regulators.

33
34 To stimulate discussion of the propriety of imposing obligations on credit card issuers, 35 the following suggestion illustrates several obligations for the Drafting Committee to consider:

36 SECTION __. DUTIES OF CREDITORS.

37 (a)(1) For purposes of this section only, "individual" means an 38

1 individual who resides in this state;

2 (2) For purposes of this section only, “creditor” means a
3 creditor that extends credit to individuals pursuant to an “open end credit plan,” 4 as defined in the Federal Truth-in-Lending Act §103(a)(i), 15 U.S.C. § 1602(a)(i);
5 and

6 (3) For purposes of subsections (c), (d), (e), and (f) only,
7 “debt-management-services provider” means a debt-management-services
8 provider that is registered in this state.

9 (b) A creditor may not accept a proposed debt-management plan
10 from a debt-management-services provider unless the debt-management-services
11 provider is registered under Section 5.

12 (c) A creditor that receives a proposal for a debt-management
13 services plan on behalf of an individual from a debt-management-services 14 provider shall respond to that proposal within 30 days of receiving it.

15 (d) A creditor that receives payment on an individual’s behalf
16 from a debt-management-services provider shall permit the [individual/provider]
17 to alter the date of the month on which payment is due.

18 (e) A creditor may not increase the cost of credit or make other 19 changes in terms adverse to the individual, in whole or in part because the 20 individual has entered a debt-management plan with a debt-management-services 21 provider.

22 (f) A creditor that receives money on behalf of individuals from 23 debt-management-services providers other than debt-settlement-services
24 providers shall compensate those debt-management-services providers. The 25 creditor may allocate the payments among those providers in whatever way it 26 elects, so long as the aggregate payments to all those providers is at least [ten] 27 percent of the aggregate amounts received from them.

28 (g) A creditor may not, directly or indirectly, impose a fee, 29 commission, or other charge on a debt-management-services provider for 30 referring individuals to the provider.

31 (h) A creditor that receives more than [one million] dollars in a
32 calendar year from debt-management-services providers shall, pursuant to a rule 33 promulgated by the administrator, pay the administrator [$10,000] to support the 34 administration of this [act].

35
36 Reporter’s Note: The reference in subsection (a)(2) is to “open end credit plan”
37 because the Truth-in-Lending Act uses that term. The FRB’s implementing 38 regulation, known as Regulation Z, defines and uses the term “open-end credit.”
39 In interpreting the definition in this section, the intent is that the courts will 40 interpret “open-end credit plan” in accordance with the interpretation given the 41 term by Regulation Z, the Board’s Official Commentary, and judicial decisions.

42 The Reporter’s Note to § 23(a)(12) raises the issue whether agencies
43 should be permitted to pay for screening services. Subsection (g) presumes that 44 the answer is “no,” and complements that section by barring the creditor from 45 charging for screening services.

1
2 SECTION 25. CRIMINAL PENALTY. A person that knowingly and willfully
3 violates this [act] is guilty of a [felony/misdemeanor] and on conviction is subject to a fine not
4 exceeding [$1,000] for the first violation and to a fine not exceeding [$5,000] or imprisonment
5 not exceeding [five] years, or both, for each subsequent violation.

6 SECTION 26. POWERS OF ADMINISTRATOR.

7 (a) The administrator shall determine whether to approve an application for 8 registration or renewal of registration of a debt-management-services provider.

9 (b) The administrator may:

10 (1) investigate the activities of a person providing or offering to provide 11 debt-management services to determine compliance with this [act], including examination of the 12 books, accounts, and records of the person;

13 (2) charge to the person the reasonable expenses necessarily incurred to 14 conduct the examination; and 15 (3) require or permit a person to file a statement under oath [affirmation] 16 and subject to the penalties of perjury, as to all the facts and circumstances of a matter to be 17 investigated.

18 (c) Failure to comply with subsection (b)(3) within 15 days after request is the 19 basis [ground] for issuance of a cease and desist order.

20 (d) The administrator may receive and act on complaints[,] [and] take action to 21 obtain voluntary compliance with this [act], bring civil actions under Section 27, and refer 22 cases to the [attorney general] for prosecution.

23 (e) The administrator may adopt rules to carry out the requirements of this [act]

1 in accordance with Section ____.

2 (f) The administrator may enter into cooperative arrangements with any other 3 federal or state agency having authority over persons providing debt-management services and 4 may exchange with any of those agencies information about a person providing debt-
5 management services, including information obtained during an examination of the person.

6 (g) The administrator shall [may] establish reasonable fees for processing an 7 application for registration or renewal of a registration.

8 Legislative Notes:
9

10 Subsection (d): If the administrator is the attorney general, the last clause should be 11 deleted. If the state wishes the prosecution to be handled by some other official, that official 12 should be substituted for “attorney general.”
13

14 Subsection (e): Insert the citation to the appropriate section of the Administrative 15 Procedure Act or other statute governing administrative procedure.
16

17 Preliminary Comments
18

19 In subsection (g), does the Drafting Committee wish to specify criteria for setting 20 “reasonable” fees?

22 Subsection (g) might also provide, “The administrator may retain for the use of the 23 administrator the aggregate of fees, reimbursement of examination expenses, and any other 24 payment made to the administrator pursuant to this [act] and may carry forward any balance of 25 money from a fiscal year to be expended for the administration and enforcement of the [act] in 26 the following fiscal year.” The Maryland statute contains a more elaborate version. The Oregon 27 statute provides that fees of the type referred to here stay with the administrator, but that all civil 28 penalties of the type received by the administrator pursuant to Section 27 shall be credited to 29 the general money of the state treasury.) Does the Drafting Committee wish to include anything 30 along these lines?
31

32 SECTION 27. ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES.

33 (a) The administrator may enforce this [act] and rules adopted under this [act] by:

34 (1) ordering a violator to cease and desist from the violation and any

1 similar violations;

2 (2) ordering a violator to take affirmative action to correct the violation,
3 including the restitution of money or property to a person aggrieved by a violation;

4 (3) imposing a civil penalty not exceeding [$1,000] for each violation;

5 (4) revoking, suspending, or denying renewal of a debt-management-
6 services provider's registration in accordance with Section 29; and

7 (5) commencing a civil action to obtain restitution, an injunction or other 8 equitable relief, or both.

9 (b) If a person violates or knowingly authorizes, directs, or aids in the violation 10 of a final order issued under subsection (a)(1) or (2), the administrator may impose a civil 11 penalty not exceeding [$10,000] for each violation.

12 (c) The administrator may file a petition in any [county] seeking enforcement of 13 an order issued under this section.

14 (d) In determining the amount of a civil penalty to be imposed under subsection 15 (a) or (b), the administrator shall consider the seriousness of the violation, the good faith of the 16 violator, the violator's history of previous violations, the deleterious effect of the violation on the 17 public, the assets of the violator, and any other factor the administrator considers relevant to the 18 determination of the civil penalty.

19 Preliminary Comments

20
21 The administrator should be able to issue an order to an agent or employee of a debt-
22 management-services provider, whether or not the administrator issues an order to the provider.
23 Is this implicit in subsection (a), or should the section contain an explicit statement to that 24 effect?

25
26 Subsection (a)(5) authorizes the administrator to commence civil actions. Section 26(d)
27 authorizes the administrator to refer cases to the attorney general for prosecution. The drafting

1 Committee needs to decide whether to place all enforcement in the hands of the administrator,
2 split it between the administrator and the attorney general, or let the states choose which model
3 to use.

5 The Oregon statute provides that an individual may initiate proceedings before the 6 administrator, who is empowered to award damages, which may be recovered by resort to the 7 debt-management-services provider's bond. The Drafting Committee may wish to consider the 8 desirability of establishing this adjudicatory function for the administrator in this Act.

10 SECTION 28. VIOLATION OF UNFAIR PRACTICES STATUTE. A violation of 11 this [act] constitutes [an unfair or deceptive act or practice] in violation of Section ____.

12 Legislative Note: Insert the citation to the state's little-FTC or deceptive practices act. In some 13 states it may be necessary to amend that act to add this Act to the statutes whose violation
14 constitutes a violation of that act. Alternatively, this entire Act could be appended to and be a 15 part of that act. Depending on the provisions of that other act, this would permit deletion of 16 Section 25 (criminal penalty), Section 26(b)-(e) (investigatory power, referral to the attorney 17 general, rule-making power), and much of Section 27 (administrative remedies).
18

19 SECTION 29. SUSPENSION, REVOCATION, OR NON-RENEWAL OF 20 REGISTRATION.

21 (a) After notice and hearing, the administrator may suspend, revoke, or deny 22 renewal of a debt-management-services provider's registration if the administrator finds that:

23 (1) a fact or condition exists that, if it had existed when the registrant
24 applied for registration, would have been ground for denying registration;

25 (2) the debt-management-services provider has violated a material
26 provision of this [act] or a rule or order of the administrator under this [act];

27 (3) the debt-management-services provider is insolvent;

28 (4) the debt-management-services provider has refused to permit the 29 administrator to make an examination authorized by this [act]; or

30 (5) the debt-management-services provider has not responded within a

1 reasonable time and in an appropriate manner to communications from the administrator.

2 (b) If a debt-management-services provider does not comply with Section 19(f)
3 or if the administrator otherwise finds that the public health, safety, or welfare requires 4 emergency action, the administrator may order a summary suspension effective on the date
5 specified in the order. The administrator shall hold a hearing promptly thereafter.

6 (c) If the administrator suspends, revokes, or denies renewal of the registration of 7 a debt-management-services provider, the administrator may seize any records and assets of the 8 provider located in this state. This power is in addition to the powers of the administrator under 9 the consent required by Section 6(c)(24).

10 Preliminary Comments

11
12 Subsection (b): Section 19(f) deals with failure to maintain a trust account in an amount 13 at least equal to the sum of the balances in each individual's escrow account.

14
15 Subsection (c): Section 6(c)(24) requires the agency to provide an irrevocable consent
16 by the bank holding the trust account to enable the administrator to access to the account.
17

18 SECTION 30. PRIVATE ENFORCEMENT.

19 (a) An individual who is injured by a violation of this [act], a rule promulgated 20 by the administrator under this [act], or by an unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive act or practice
21 may recover in a civil action:

22 (1) subject to subsection (b)(1), compensatory damages or $[1,000], 23 whichever is greater;

24 (2) subject to subsections (b)(1) and (c), punitive damages; and

25 (3) the costs of the action, including reasonable attorney's fees based on 26 the amount of time involved.

1 (b) In a class action:

2 (1) the minimum damages provision in subsection (a)(1) does not apply;

3 and

4 (2) punitive damages may not exceed [$10,000] per class member.

5 (c) In determining the amount of punitive damages under subsection (a)(2) or

6 (b)(2), the court shall consider the seriousness of the violation, the good faith of the violator, the

7 violator's history of previous violations, the deleterious effect of the violation on the public, the

8 assets of the violator, and any other factor the court considers relevant to the determination of the 9 damages.

10 Preliminary Comments

11
12 Subsection (a): "Compensatory damage" in paragraph (1) includes recovery for non-13 economic injury, such as emotional distress, humiliation, aggravation, etc. Is "compensatory" the 14 best word to capture this idea?

15
16 "Costs of the action" in paragraph (3) encompasses filing fees, jury fees, expert witness 17 fees, and everything else that properly may be taxed as costs against the losing party.

18
19 Subsection (b): An aggrieved individual may proceed by class action if the prerequisites
20 for class actions under the rules of civil procedure are satisfied.

21 22 SECTION 31. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS.

23 (a) An action brought pursuant to Section 27 must be commenced within [four] 24 years of the act of which the administrator complains.

25 (b) An action brought pursuant to Section 30 must be commenced within [four] 26 years from the latest of:

27 (1) the individual's last transmission of money to a debt-management-
28 services provider;

(2) a debt-management-services provider's last disbursement to creditors;

(3) a debt-management-services provider's last accounting to the individual pursuant to Section 22(a)(1) and (2); or

(4) the date on which the individual discovered or reasonably should have discovered the facts giving rise to the individual's claim.

(c) The period prescribed in subsection (b)(4) is tolled during any period during which the defendant has materially and willfully misrepresented information required by this [act] to be disclosed to the individual if the information so misrepresented is material to the establishment of the liability of the defendant under this [act].

Preliminary Comments

Subsection (b): The Drafting Committee must decide upon the appropriate triggers to start the statute of limitations. Presumably the trigger should not be simply the date of the violation, because if the violation appears in the documents, the statute may have run before the individual completes the debt-management plan. Under the Uniform Consumer Sales Practices Act (§ 11), triggers are violation of the Act, last payment by the individual, or termination of proceedings by the administrator.

Subsection (c): The language of this subsection is from H.R. 3331, a bill to regulate debt-management-services providers.

[SECTION 32. SEVERABILITY. If any provision of this [act] or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions of applications of this [act] that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this [act] are severable.]

SECTION 33. RELATION TO ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES IN GLOBAL AND NATIONAL COMMERCE ACT. This [act] modifies, limits, and supersedes the federal

1 Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (15 U.S.C. Section 7001 et seq.)
2 but does not modify, limit, or supersede Section 101(c) of that act (15 U.S.C. Section 7001(c)) or
3 authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in Section 103(b) of that act (15
4 U.S.C. Section 7003(b)).

5 SECTION 34. RELATION TO LAW OF OTHER STATES.

6 (a) If compliance with a provision of this [act] by a debt-management-services
7 provider located in this state would constitute a violation in another state of a statute that 8 regulates persons providing or offering to provide debt-managementservices, the debt-
9 management-services provider need not comply with the provision with respect to its operations 10 in that state.

11 (b) Failure to comply with a provision of this [act] pursuant to subsection (a) is 12 not a violation of this [act] or ground for denial, suspension, or revocation of a license under this 13 [act].

14 Preliminary Comments

15
16 This section addresses the situation of an agency that is subject to inconsistent
17 requirements in two states. It accommodates only agencies that are physically located in this 18 state. A domestic agency must comply with this Act with respect to individuals in this state. It
19 must comply with this Act also with respect to individuals in other states, except to the extent
20 that compliance with the law of those other states would put it in violation of this Act, to which 21 extent it may ignore this Act. This section makes no allowance for agencies located in other 22 states. Those entities must comply with the requirements of this Act even if that puts them in 23 violation of the law of the state in which they are located. The section thus in all cases gives 24 priority to the state in which the affected individuals reside.

26 SECTION 35. UNIFORMITY OF APPLICATION AND CONSTRUCTION. In 27 applying and construing this Uniform Act, consideration must be given to the need to promote 28 uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter among states that enact it.

29 SECTION 36. EFFECTIVE DATE. This [act] takes effect on [_____].

SECTION 37. REPEAL. The following sections are repealed:

SECTION 38. TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS; APPLICATION TO EXISTING TRANSACTIONS. Transactions validly entered into before this [act] takes effect and the rights, duties, and interests resulting from them may be completed, terminated, or enforced as required or permitted by a law amended, repealed, or modified by this [act] as though the amendment, repeal, or modification had not occurred.

Preliminary Comments

“Law” includes statutes, administrative rules, and judicial decisions. It may be burdensome for a debt-management-services provider to comply with prior law for some of its customers and with this Act for others of its customers. The language of this section, “may be,” permits a provider to comply with this Act even with respect to transactions entered before this Act takes effect.
